Westminster

Twelve new members will be welcomed into the Westminster Presbyterian Church at the worship service Sunday at 11 a.m. They will be honored at the coffee hour which will follow the service.

"Money and Self" will be the topic of the sermon to be given by the Rev. John O. Reynolds, and the church choir will sing the anthem "Holy Spirit, Truth Divine."

At the 11 a.m. hour pre-school children may attend the church nursery and children from 5 to 10 years of age are invited to attend children's church. Church School classes meet at 9:45 a.m., including an adult class which is currently studying the Gospel of Luke. Sunday's specific topic is "The Kingdom of God."

A new series of classes for persons who desire to unite with Westminster Church will begin Sunday at 3:30 p.m. These classes will be held for four consecutive weeks and will be led by the pastor. Any who are interested are invited to attend the first class.

The Senior High Fellowship will meet at the church at 3 p.m. Sunday to attend an area rally of Presbyterian youth at the Hope Presbyterian Church, Rogue River, from 4 to 7 p.m. John Dellenbach will speak on "Church and State."

Wednesday, Nov. 6, at 7:30 p.m. a meeting of the congregation has been called to approve the budget for 1964 and to elect four members from the church-at-large to the nominating committee.

Westminster Church is located on Oakwood Drive between Barneburg and Groveland Aves.

Members of the Rogue Valley Seventh-day Adventist Churches will meet in the Valley View Church tonight to hear the subject of temperance discussed by Francis A. Soper, Washington, D. C., editor of Listen magazine. Following Soper's address, a color film depicting an accident involving a drinking driver ending in the death of a young girl will be shown.

Listen magazine is published bimonthly in the interests of scientific education for the prevention of alcoholism and narcotics addiction, and was the recipient in 1962 of an Exceptional Service Award from the National Safety Council. The Seventh-day Adventist church maintains the standard of total abstinence from the use of tobacco and alcohol by its members.

Soper is currently touring Seventh-day Adventist churches on the West Coast. He will be accompanied by his Medford visit by Ray C. Anderson, Oregon Conference Temperance secretary. Soper will be guest speaker at the Medford church at the 11 a.m. worship hour Saturday.

At 3 p.m. Wednesday night, Pastor A. P. Ritz will continue his study entitled "Facing the Crisis," for the weekly prayer meeting.

The director of service training, Grace Andrews will present the first course from the text, "Here's the Answer," by Royal S. Nelson. The course will be taught during the family hour on Sunday evening. The first course will start as soon as the text books arrive.

In the Sunday morning worship service Royal Harger will be vocal soloist. The pastor, Ronald Stewart, will give a message from II Corinthians 2:11 on the subject "The Devil's Deceits."

During the family hour at 6 p.m. Alice Mae Harger will give the youth program from the Aldersgate Teen Topics. The Christian Youth Crusaders will meet in their respective departments.

In the evening evangelistic service the music will be provided by Lois Mae Harger and Kathleen Marsh. The pastor will speak on "The Need for Evangelical Awakening."

NEW CHURCH—The new Congregational sanctuary and educational building are expected to be completed in the spring. The buildings, located at E. Jackson St. and Berkeley Way, will be of concrete block walls with 50 foot high laminated arches covered with cedar decking. The sanctuary will seat 250. Architect is Warren Weber, Portland. Groundbreaking for the church is scheduled Sunday at 3 p.m.

Groundbreaking Scheduled Sunday by Congregational

The Rev. Thomas McCamant, Hubbard, founding minister of Medford Congregational Church, will speak at the groundbreaking ceremonies Sunday afternoon for the new sanctuary and educational unit.

The groundbreaking will be at the church property, E. Jackson St. and Berkeley Way, at 3 p.m. Accompanying Mr. McCamant here will be his wife.

Also participating in the event will be the Rev. Robert W. Tull, present minister of the church; T. R. McLean, moderator of the church, and other laymen.

Following the groundbreaking service, an open house will honor Mr. and Mrs. McCamant at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Wood, 705 W. 10th St. Members and friends of the former valley minister and of the church are invited to attend.

While in Medford Mr. McCamant was president of the Human Rights Council, wrote a column for the Mail Tribune on birdwatching (the area's birdwatching group is named for him), and was active in the Jackson County Chapter of the Oregon United Nations Association.

Sunday the Congregational Church will meet for worship and study at 11 a.m. at Hoover Grade School, the temporary meeting place of the church until the new building is completed next spring. Leading the morning service of worship Mr. Tull will preach on "The Whole Armor of God."

During the worship hour, the church school will offer classes for all children and young people from three years of age through eighth grade.

The Laymen's Fellowship will meet for breakfast at 6:30 a.m. on Wednesday at Stanley's Restaurant, 510 N. Riverside ave.

Sermon Series Continues at First Nazarene

"Making God Real" is the subject currently being considered Sundays at 11 a.m. by the Rev. Harold M. Sanner, the pastor of First Church of the Nazarene, 520 North Holly St. They are Biblical studies on the person and work of the Holy Spirit.

Perry Christiansen, minister of education and music, has announced that the sanctuary choir will sing "The Name of Jesus" with the solo part to be presented by Mrs. Walter Vail. A tenor solo will be given by Dean von Stein.

During the 7 p.m. song and evangelism hour the pastor's message continues a series on the subject, "The Question of Sin." Music for the evening service will include a vocal solo composed of Mrs. Bill Brewster, Mrs. Rex Vowell, and Velma Myers, and an instrumental solo by Bob Hansen.

The story sermon for the junior church will be presented by von Stein with Douglas Vail playing the prelude music. Bill Brewster and Carol Harris direct the junior church and Mrs. Harold Steele and Mrs. Brewster are in charge of the primary church.

The Junior Highs meet at 6:30 o'clock this evening for their monthly missionary meeting. Following this they will have their Halloween activity at the home of Mr. and Mrs. von Stein.

The Senior High will have a Fifth Quarter in the church's activity building following the football game tonight. Sponsoring this activity will be Mr. and Mrs. John Finkbeiner.

The Caroliers, one of the children's choirs of the church, will give a music program at the Hawthorne Convalescent Home tomorrow. All members of this choir are to meet at the church at 4 p.m. Mrs. Christiansen is director of all children's choirs.

The church is presently co-operating in the Oregon Pacific District church schools emphasis in the Sunday School. The some 75 churches are alternately contested one against the other in attendance, enrollment, new classes formed, and literature distribution. This emphasis closes on Nov. 10.
