

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest I. Flakus celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at an evening mass at Sacred Heart Catholic church followed by a reception and dinner. The family lives at 612 J Street. (Landis photo)

Anniversary Is Observed During Mass, Reception

An evening mass at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church at 6 o'clock October 19 celebrated the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest I. Flakus. The Rev. Carl Mai officiated as the couple renewed their wedding vows in the presence of many friends and relatives.

Jerry Flakus, their eldest son, a music major at the University of Portland, sang the "Ave Maria." Gregory Flakus, their other son, served as altar boy, assisted by Dennis Meeker, while Renee Flakus, their only daughter, was the flower girl. Mr. and Mrs. Lewell Dupray and Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Depner were attendants.

OES Officer Will Visit Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE — Mrs. Dale L. M. A. r. Silvertown, associate grand matron of the grand chapter of Oregon, Order of the Eastern Star, will visit Adare Chapter, Jacksonville, Thursday, November 7, when she will conduct a school of instruction, in Jacksonville Masonic temple.

The evening will begin at 6:30 o'clock with a potluck dinner. Mrs. Helen Buffington, worthy matron, and Orval Shores, worthy patron will preside, as they did for the last meeting of the chapter held recently when degrees were conferred. The new members are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whitney, Mrs. Martha Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keierleber.

George Finley, Ashland, member of the endowment fund committee for the district, made an official visit, accompanied by Mrs. Finley, and his mother, Mrs. Margaret Finley.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Pennington, worthy patron and matron of Reames chapter, Medford with several chapter members; Mr. and Mrs. Dayl Carlson and Mrs. Raymond Carmine, all C a m e l i a chapter, Portland, and visitors from Canada, Florida and other jurisdictions of the lodge were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williamson will act as chairmen Thursday evening assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Westerfield.

This simply stated maternity dress cleverly contrasting corduroy on the horizontal and vertical won a Corduroy Council citation for distinguished design. By Joan Wilson for Ed Volin, it achieves a slenderizing effect with a winged insert at the midriff.

RNs Bidden To Lecture

All nurses of the area are invited to hear Miss Geraldine Skinner, RN, former director of nursing service, Rancho Los Amigos Hospital, Downey, Calif., who will speak Tuesday and Wednesday, November 5 and 6 at Veterans Domiciliary, White City.

The program at Rancho Los Amigos Hospital is directed toward rehabilitation, and a workshop in rehabilitative nursing is offered by their nursing service.

Miss Skinner will present the lecture both days in the Domiciliary Theater. On Tuesday at 1 p.m., her topic will be, "A Sharing Approach to Rehabilitation," and on Wednesday at 1:30 p.m., she will speak on "Putting Life Into the Years of the Geriatric Patient."

Two Chapters Plan Sessions

Two PEO Sisterhood chapters have scheduled meetings Wednesday, November 6. Chapter CP will meet for lunch at 12:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. John Graf, 31 Geneva Street.

Mrs. Marian Massar, Portland will give a report of the recent convention of the Supreme Chapter.

Mrs. A. L. Clay and Mrs. Donald Gardner will assist the hostess.

Chapter CG will hold a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. G. H. Haupt, 222 Valley View Drive.

Mrs. Haupt and other officers will serve dinner.

Mrs. A. C. Fries, Ashland, corresponding secretary of Oregon State Chapter, who will visit the chapter as a representative of the state executive board will report on the nation convention held in Columbus, Ohio, in October.

Mrs. Flakus chose a floor length gown of silver lame with a matching short jacket and a shoulder length chapel veil of imported lace. Her corsage of pink and white rosebuds and simple white leather prayer book were gifts from her husband.

Mrs. Dupray and Mrs. Depner wore similar floor length gowns of figured gold brocade accented with corsages of yellow and tangerine carnations.

Following the mass a reception was held at the Rogue Valley Country Club. Mrs. Lowell Meunier served the anniversary cake and Mrs. Harold Colver was in charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Floyd Eastwood and Mrs. Thomas Shoop decorated the tables. Approximately 50 guests remained after the reception to join Mr. and Mrs. Flakus at a no-host dinner.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bell of Vancouver, Wash. Mrs. Bell is a sister of Mr. Flakus.

Mr. and Mrs. Flakus were married in Valentine, Nebr., on October 22, 1938. In 1940 they moved to Vancouver, Wash., residing there until moving to Medford in 1945. They have lived in Medford since that time, now residing at 612 J Street.

PEO Chapter Hosts Council In Ashland

ASHLAND — Chapter A.C. PEO Sisterhood, hosted the fall meeting of Southern Oregon Council at a luncheon served Saturday, October 26, in Trinity Parish house. More than 100 members from 13 chapters attended the meeting.

Mrs. Allan Perry, Medford, PEO council president, welcomed the guests and Mrs. John Yaple, president of Chapter AC, introduced Miss Florence Allen, who presented the afternoon program.

Flute and violin duets were played by Miss Marcy Treitsven and Miss Christina Hobert, who is a foreign exchange student in Ashland, and Mrs. Jay Kaylor sang a group of numbers accompanied at the piano by Mrs. J. W. McCoy.

State board members Mrs. Fletcher Fish, Medford, who is vice president, and Mrs. Archie Fries Jr., Ashland, who serves as recording secretary, brought greetings, as did council board members Mrs. Harry Sherry Jr., Ashland; Mrs. David McCarthy, Grants Pass, and Mrs. Perry, Medford. Mrs. McCarthy is an alumna of Cottey college, Nevada, Mo., which is the school entirely supported by PEO Sisterhood.

Luncheon was served by Trinity Guild members at tables centered with autumn fruits and foliage. Decorations in the Halloween were at the speakers' table.

Session Slated For Coin Club

When Rogue Valley Coin Club members meet Monday, November 4 at 8 p.m., in Girls Community Club, they will elect a president of the Oregon Numismatic Association, members have announced.

The district president will be in charge of plans for a 1964 state Numismatic Association convention in Medford, tentatively set for May, according to the announcement.

All interested persons are invited to the meeting.

Travelogue on Alaska Study Club Program

A travelogue on Alaska was given at the October 29 meeting of the Travel Study Club of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs by Mrs. Esther Coleman.

Mrs. Coleman and her husband were sent to Alaska in 1929 by the United States Department of Interior and spent 12 years at Noorvik, Point Hope and Buckland.

Mr. Coleman was local reindeer superintendent, managed the native cooperative store and filled in as an extra teacher when needed.

Mrs. Coleman, with a trained native Eskimo woman, were the regular teachers.

Along with her teaching, Mrs. Coleman was clinic dispenser one year and was called to assist at births and deaths.

The speaker said the children were good students and learned quickly and that they enjoyed singing.

Were Cooks All were good cooks and seamstresses she stated. Although patterns could be brought in they could make their own by turning the sleeves of their dresses together and cutting a new dress from this half pattern.

The Eskimos were using sour dough when the Colemans arrived but soon learned to like other American food such as macaroni, spaghetti, rice and whole wheat flour.

They all were students of nature and would spend a whole day watching an animal, could detect fog miles away, hear planes long before they were sighted and were good weather prophets, Mrs. Coleman related.

The men had skillful hands and could make all kinds of repairs on their guns and boats. Carved ivory was for sale at Nome or bartered for other goods when the boats came in.

At Noorvik wood could be had for heating and cooking but at Point Hope and Buckland the government sent in coal.

Mrs. T. Fasel gave a report on the Medford Convalescent Home, the community improvement program of the club.

Mrs. Fasel said since January 6, 1960, 975 hours have been spent at the home, 198 hours so far this year, 15 birthday cakes have been taken, an Easter party was given and needed clothing acquired for patients.

The weekly visitations by the club are looked forward to by the patients especially when a birthday cake is due which is shared by all at their evening meal, she added.

The next regular meeting of the club will be November 22 at the Girls Community Club, a business meeting at 1 p.m. and a CARE tea and program at 2 p.m.

CBPW Program Is Announced

A program of speaking and music has been planned for the Thursday, November 7 meeting of Medford Christian Business and Professional Women's Council. The session will be held at 6:15 p.m., in North's Chuck Wagon restaurant, 1016 North Riverside Avenue.

R. W. Grey, Bear Creek Orchards, will present holiday gift ideas. A musical event is scheduled, and the main speaker will be Mrs. A. W. Peterson, who comes to the club from Seattle, Wash.

Members are to invite guests and a prize will be given for the one who takes the most persons for the first time.

All interested persons are invited to attend club meetings held each Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Corduroy goes swash-buckling in this smartly styled water-repellent coat worn by Miss America 1963, Jacquelyn Mayer. With a zip-in lining and Everglaze's Minicare finish, it's ready for fair or foul weather. By Weatherbee.

Security Club Entertained

Security Benefit Club members were entertained last Wednesday by demonstrations of dance steps by representatives from Arthur Murray School of Dancing and club members.

Taking part in the demonstrations were Wally Parks, instructor; Miss Barbara McCrae, Charles Jones, Mrs. Edna Evans, Mrs. Julia Vakoc and Mrs. Jessie Slagg. The dances included fox trot, cha cha cha, tango and western swing.

Singing was led by Mrs. Clara Robison, J. P. Graham, Mrs. James Bishop and Mrs. Edward McCracken. Mrs. Otto DeJarnett, played an accordion solo.

All interested persons are invited to attend club meetings held each Wednesday from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

New Tool Aids Research At OSU In Food Flavors

CORVALLIS — A powerful new research tool — a mass spectrometer — has been installed in Oregon State University's food science department as an aid to basic studies on food flavors.

The mass spectrometer was made possible under a $67,600 grant to Dr. E. A. Day and Dr. H. W. Schultz from the National Institute of Health, U. S. Public Health Service.

Studies on the chemistry of natural food flavors are complicated because many compounds may constitute a single flavor, and most flavor compounds occur in extremely low concentrations, it was noted.

Flavors are also elusive and easily destroyed during isolation from foods and subsequent identification. With the aid of mass spectrometry in combination with gas chromatography, Dr. Day and his associates hope to more clearly define food flavors, learn what mechanisms are involved in flavor development and why flavors sometimes deteriorate in foods.

Only One Dr. Day points out that OSU's Food Science Department is the only one in the country with a mass spectrometer. With the aid of the instrument, scientists will be able to obtain information on flavor compounds in a fraction of the time required by conventional micro-chemical methods.

OSU's research program in flavor chemistry has two main objectives: to define natural flavors, and to learn what mechanisms are responsible for flavor production and deterioration. Once key flavor constituents have been pinpointed, scientists may be able to use them to impart natural flavor to other food products. If enough information becomes known about natural flavors, it will also be easier to control changes that take place in foods during processing and storage.

Working with Dr. Day in the flavor research program are Dr. L. M. Libbey, Dr. W. Y. Cobb, and a number of graduate students.

Working with Dr. Day in the flavor research program are Dr. L. M. Libbey, Dr. W. Y. Cobb, and a number of graduate students.

For only $469.95 you can be a gypsy violinist & a marching band & a banjo minstrel & a woodwind quartet & a Spanish guitarist & a symphony orchestra a hero to your family—all with the Thomas organ. $469.95: the price of the Thomas Large transistorized organ. Small price to pay for a superior organ — and the addition of your entire family. Just wait until the family sees how the touch of a key can make the Thomas sound like 10 different musical instruments — from the violin to the oboe. Wait until they hear its full rich sound. And see how easy it is to play. You can play a tune in 15 minutes with the exclusive Thomas Color-Glo keyboard. Honest! Each Thomas organ carries a five year warranty on transistor tone generator boards — heart of the Thomas. Replacement upon prepaid return of undamaged board. Drop by today. See and try the new Thomas Large organ.

BEATON MUSIC
534 No. Front at Jackson

Burelson's

Downtown Medford

fashion HIGHLIGHTS
by Don Loper

Burelson's Exclusively!
Shown Here Are Just Two From A Collection of Beautiful Suits . . . Coats . . . Dresses

Coat Pictured Imported tweed in black and white or brown and black. $110.00
Suit Pictured Reverse twist with luxurious fox trim. $195.95
Dresses from $49.95

Watch Fashions Of The Week From Burelson's Channel 5, Every Tuesday, 10 P.M.

Your Charge Account Invited! Ride 'n Shop Member!