

Annual Carnival Slated At Butte Falls Saturday

BUTTE FALLS — The Butte Falls High School will hold its annual Carnival Saturday in the high school gym starting at 7:30 p.m. Many booths will be open to the public for their entertainment. Several new additions this year include the movie house, fun house and jail house. The Butte Falls Parent Teacher Association has always assisted in at least one booth at the carnival. This year, the fish pond has been allocated to the P.T.A.

A carnival queen is being selected from a group of candidates, one from each class. The selection will be made on the basis of ticket sales. Queen candidates elected from each class are: Bobbie Boyd, freshman; Virginia Watson, sophomore; Susan Crommer, junior; and Connie Paulson, senior. The Carnival Queen and her court will be presented at mid-evening at which time the coronation will take place.

Regional Roundup

Mail Tribune Regional Editor

The October, 1963, issue of Sunset magazine has an article with two photos and a diagram concerning the Anderson Grade Road in Siskiyou County, California. This is the road which climbs along the ridge to the east of the Shasta River Canyon between Hornbrook and Yreka.

The title of the article is "For Back Road Collectors." It starts off like this: "In our rush to give the automobile wider and straighter highways, we have bypassed many picturesque old roads and closed them forever. One of the rare survivors is a road called simply the Anderson Grade, along the Klamath River in Northern California." Then the article goes on to relate how the road has remained pretty much the same for a century, and it tells the reader how to find the road and what to watch for while driving on it.

Well, the editors of Sunset were almost too late in getting this article in print. For from all present indications, the days of the Anderson Grade are numbered. It has been recommended by the California State Highway Engineer as the best route for the Interstate 5 Freeway between Yreka and Hornbrook. The California Highway Commission hasn't officially adopted this as the route as yet, but is expected to do so this month.

Different Philosophy

The new owners of the Mark Antony Hotel in Ashland (The Hudspeath Sawmill Company of Prineville) are trying something a little different. Instead of bringing in an experienced hotel man to manage the place, they have brought in someone whose experience is in other areas, in hopes of getting a fresh approach.

The new manager is Joe Palin, former city manager of Madras. He held that post for nine years, then resigned a little over two years ago to go into the construction business. His background is primarily in bookkeeping.

Tidbits

Another change of personnel in Ashland: Marge McDowell has taken over on the switchboard in the police department at Ashland City Hall, succeeding Elizabeth Yaple, who left about 10 days ago.

R. E. Nealon, author of the "Tablets" column, underwent emergency surgery Monday at Sacred Heart Hospital, but latest reports are that he is doing fine now.

Ever faced by an address like Rt. 3, Box 405, Jacksonville and wonder how to go about locating the house? There's a new map out that not only shows all the rural routes but also lists which box numbers are on which road, so that you can pinpoint practically any rural address. We're finding it quite handy.

Avenue 'G' Group Meets With Sanitary Board

WHITE CITY — Representatives from Avenue G attended Monday night's meeting of the White City Sanitary District to determine the assessments and time limits on sewer connections.

The district board decided to determine the fee as to footage and pavement types in order to reach the main line. James Scott, a board member, was appointed to contact contractors for estimates.

Bids were submitted from three contracting firms for manhole covers for the area that are not now covered according to regulations. Orville Stone, inspector for the district, explained that the manhole on Avenue G needs complete rebuilding.

Election for a district director will be held Dec. 2. Petition forms may be secured from James Scott at his office. The forms must be submitted by Nov. 11, he noted. Thus far, Scott is the only candidate for the office.

AFTER ACCIDENT—The loaded log truck Tom Watt of Hornbrook was driving last week looked like this after it plunged down a 150 foot embankment near Soma Bar. Watt suffered painful but minor injuries.

Hornbrook Man Survives Bad Accident With Minor Injuries

HORN BROOK—Tom Watt returned home Thursday from the Siskiyou General Hospital in Yreka, and is recovering from injuries sustained earlier last week when he rode a loaded log truck down a 150 foot embankment.

Only a stump prevented him from a plunge of another 1,000 feet, according to his partner. The accident occurred at Camp 3 above Soma Bar.

A co-owner of the Johnson Trucking Service, Watt was traveling on a U.S. Forest Service road while taking a load of logs to Happy Camp.

Although Watt was alone in the truck, it was felt by his many friends here that "the Lord was in the cab beside him," as it seemed only a miracle that he was able to come out of the completely demolished rig alive.

His injuries, although painful, were judged by attending physicians to be only a minor nature, including a broken finger.

At the time of the accident he was given assistance by Joe Waddell of Happy Camp who had seen the truck leave the road, and was taken into Happy Camp for first aid by a doctor there, then transported by ambulance to the hospital in Yreka.
