

X-Ray Discovery Anniversary Being Observed Locally

The anniversary of the discovery of X-ray is being observed in Medford today. Emmett Bullard, case finding chairman for the Jackson County Tuberculosis and Health Association, announced, calling attention to the many benefits to the health program realized from X-ray here.

It was 68 years ago that Wilhelm Conrad Roentgen discovered ways to use X-ray as a life saving device. Now, Bullard noted, it is "eyes for the physician, a ray to guide the hands of the surgeon and a record of the individual's anatomy to be used in all fields of diagnosis."

Bullard emphasized that use of X-ray equipment has been most "striking" in the fight against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

Depended on Sound

Before X-ray the physician had to depend upon sound, touch and the microscope to find tuberculosis, Bullard stated. Because of the chest X-ray it is possible to discover abnormal conditions in the chest in the early stages when treatment can do the most good.

The X-ray has saved thousands of lives, Bullard said, adding that although the equipment has undergone notable development, the principle of the X-ray itself remains the same as when it was originally discovered by Roentgen in 1895.

In Jackson County as part of the tuberculosis case finding program, a chest X-ray is available on an ability to pay and cost basis at the chest X-ray clinic at Sacred Heart Hospital. The clinic is held the first Wednesday of each month and from 2 to 5 p.m. each Thursday. The clinic is operated under the joint sponsorship of the Jackson County Tuberculosis and Health Association, the Medical Society, Providence Guild, the hospital and the Jackson County Public Health Department.

The clinic is open today and will be again tomorrow afternoon. Anyone who has not had a chest X-ray within the last year is urged to do so, Bullard said. No appointment is necessary.

CHARLES W. COLLIER Will Present Charter

Advertising Club Will Receive Its Charter Thursday

A charter of membership in the Advertising Association of the West will be presented to the Southern Oregon Advertising Club at a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 7, at the Colony Restaurant.

Charles W. Collier, executive vice president of the Advertising Association of the West, will make the presentation.

The AAW membership is composed of advertising clubs from many cities in the 11 western states and Canada. It is an affiliate of the Advertising Federation of America.

The Southern Oregon Advertising Club was founded in May and now has 21 firms represented in the membership of 43 individuals. Membership in the organization is open to anyone involved in the buying, selling or producing of advertising and to students interested in advertising.

On Speaking Tour

Collier is on a speaking tour this week and will include Seattle, Tacoma and Portland in his itinerary. His subject, announced at the local meeting, will be "The Importance of an Advertising Club to a Thriving Community."

R. D. Ford, president of the local club, has invited to the local meeting all persons in the area who are interested in advertising. He emphasized that businessmen, particularly, are invited.

Collier, Ford noted, is a nationally recognized figure in the advertising and public relations field. He is a director of the Advertising Council, secretary of the Pacific Coast and Mountain State Committee of the Advertising Council and a member of the U. S. Department of Commerce Committee on Advertising.

Former Governor Criticizes Hatfield

NEWPORT, Ore. (UPI) — Ex-Gov. John H. Hall, a Republican, criticized Gov. Mark Hatfield today for what he called lack of economy in the governor's office.

He suggested the special session of the legislature look into three areas in cutting back the governor's expenses, including hiring of a legal counsel.

Hall said lawmakers should investigate employment of Loren Hicks as the Governor's legal counsel. He said this has cost taxpayers $60,000 since 1959 and violated a 1947 legislative act.

Hall also said the legislature should take another look at necessity for providing 24-hour police protection at the governor's home, and investigate the governor's $600 monthly expense account.

Hall is now a local attorney.

DONALD P. SMITH Lists Reasons for Move

Distributors for Kar Glass Plan Medford Location

Kar Glass Distributors, Inc., Klamath Falls, Ore., has announced plans to move its operation to Medford in the near future.

Donald P. Smith, corporation president, listed reasons for the move as the need for a larger immediate market area and "a better distribution center for supplying Southern Oregon and Northern California with Kar Glass sales and service."

Smith said he believed "Medford is the fastest growing city in Oregon. The future business growth in this area appears unlimited."

Medford location of the firm will be the former Lorenz building, 40 E. 10th St. The sale of the property was completed early this fall by Harry Elmore, associated with Keith Bates Realty, Medford. Purchase price was not disclosed.

When remodeled, the building will contain 41,000 square feet of floor space to house combined warehouse - distributor - sales offices. The Medford installation will be the largest such glass distributing firm between Portland and Sacramento, Smith said. The operation will be staffed by approximately 12 employees.

Outlets in Southern Oregon and Northern California will be served on an overnight basis with distribution of products.

Full operation from the new Medford location is expected within six weeks. "Existing facilities in Klamath Falls and Redding will be maintained," Smith said.

Jacksonville Names Three Councilmen

JACKSONVILLE — Richard Souza Jr., Bob Cosler and Paul Godward were elected to the Jacksonville City Council here Tuesday. About a third of the registered voters went to the polls.

Souza polled 143 votes, Cosler 117 and Godward 108.

The other two candidates were E. W. (Dusty) Hannon, who received 93 votes, and Ruth Walker, who received 63.

Godward and Mrs. Walker were the incumbents. A third councilman whose term expires this year, Don Wendt, did not seek reelection.
