

Two Indicted by Federal Grand Jury of Charges of Spying

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal grand jury has indicted two men, arrested last week as spies for Russia, on charges of conspiring to transmit information to the Soviets about the command and control system of the Strategic Air Command (SAC), the government announced today.

The Justice Department said John William Butenko, 38, an electrical engineer from Orange, N.J., and Igor A. Ivanov, 33, a chauffeur for a Russian firm in New York, were named in a three-count indictment. It was returned in U.S. District Court at Newark, N.J. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the indictment also named three members of the Soviet mission to the United Nations as co-conspirators but not defendants.

They are Yuri A. Romashin, third secretary of the mission;

Gleb A. Pavlov, an attaché, and Vladimir I. Olenov, a staff member.

Romashin, Pavlov and Olenov were ordered out of the country Nov. 1 by the State Department for their part in the case.

Butenko and Ivanov were arrested by FBI agents Oct. 29 following a clandestine meeting in a railroad station parking lot at Englewood, N.J.

Butenko is being held with Ivanov in the Hudson County, N.J., jail in Jersey City, N.J. He was a control administrator in the field operations division of the International Electric Corp. in Paramus, N.J., and had top secret clearance.

Ivanov was a chauffeur for the Amtorg Trading Co., a Russian export-import firm which operates in New York City.

The first count of the indictment charged that Butenko obtained national defense documents and turned them over to Soviet agents at secret meetings. The conspirators sought to conceal these meetings by traveling to them by round-about routes, the government says.

The grand jury charged that the conspirators used a portable 35-millimeter document-copying camera which plugged into a car's cigarette lighter, and a pocket-sized transmitter and receiver.

The indictment cited eight meetings or trips by all the defendants and co-conspirators as overt acts of the conspiracy. These were between April 21 and Oct. 29, 1963, to Coster, Norwood, Paramus, Englewood and Ft. Lee, N.J.

The second count formally charged that Butenko conspired to act as an agent for the Soviet Union without required notification to the secretary of state and that the others aided and abetted him in this conspiracy. Both Butenko and Ivanov were named as defendants in this count.

The third count named only Butenko and charged him with actually acting as a foreign agent without notification.

Maximum penalty on the first count is death. Maximum penalty on the second count is five years in prison and $10,000. The maximum penalty for conviction on the third count is 10 years and $5,000.

The indictment revealed officially for the first time that the information involved in the conspiracy pertained to the command and control system of the Air Force's Strategic Air Command.

Oregon Republicans See State Significant for Rockefeller

By United Press International
Oregon Republican leaders pointed today to the state's May primary election as significant for Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York, who today announced formally his candidacy for the GOP presidential nomination.

Gov. Mark Hatfield said "It will take a personal extensive campaign and winning a majority of the important primaries" for the New York governor to achieve his goal. Hatfield said he felt Rockefeller's Oregon chances were good "if he comes into Oregon and spends some time here."

Phil Roth, state Republican chairman, said he felt Rockefeller "at this moment is running substantially behind for the nomination." But he felt a victory in the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries could bring him into the Oregon primary a much stronger candidate. "A victory in Oregon and in the California primary would again propel him back to the center stage for the nomination," Roth said.

Lowell Paget, GOP national committeeman, did not forecast Rockefeller's chances. He pointed to the state's primary law which binds the 18 GOP convention delegates to the choice of the voters at least until after two ballots have been cast at the convention or unless the state's choice receives less than 35 per cent of the convention's votes on the first ballot.

Mrs. Collis Moore, Oregon's GOP national committeewoman, said "Gov. Rockefeller is a tremendous campaigner and has great personal charm." She said she would rate his chances good for the nomination, although she said she was not certain about Oregon.

Hatfield and Mrs. Moore said they did not believe Rockefeller's announcement made it necessary for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to announce his plans before January. Roth said he believed Goldwater should announce his intentions before then. Paget said he understood Goldwater indicated at Eugene last month he intended to announce his plans before January.

All four were asked if they felt adverse effects of Rockefeller's divorce and remarriage were lessening. Hatfield and Paget replied they did not know. Mrs. Moore said, "No, not from the mail I receive."

Roth said he felt that once the tempo of the campaign picked up "with real issues and debate—the personal life of Rockefeller would be obscured and relegated to the backstage of the campaign where it belongs."

George Hinman, Republican national committeeman from New York and a Rockefeller booster, was in Oregon on what he termed "a feeling out trip." He predicted Rockefeller would get the nomination and win.

ARGENTINE POLICE RESORT TO TEAR GAS
BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Police riot squads used tear gas Wednesday night to break up a demonstration organized by the outlawed Communist party supporting President Arturo U. Illia's announced plans to cancel contracts with U.S. and European oil firms.

Police estimated that 600 demonstrators gathered in the Plaza De Mayo and the downtown Avenida De Mayo to urge cancellation of the oil development contracts signed five years ago under President Arturo Frondizi without congressional approval.

Reclamation Congress Convenes

BEND (UPI) — The Oregon Reclamation Congress opened its 1963 convention Wednesday with meetings on agricultural research and new projects under study.

Among the speakers scheduled today were Laselle Cole of Prineville, former president of the National Reclamation Association; Harold Nelson of Boise, regional director of the Bureau of Reclamation, and Dr. Emery Castle, professor of agricultural economics at Oregon State University. The conference will last through Friday.

Government Auto For King Confirmed

By United Press International
The Justice Department confirmed Wednesday the truth of charges by Alabama officials that a government-rented automobile was used to transport Martin Luther King Jr. to a speaking engagement in that state.

The department said one of their attorneys, Thelton Henderson, allowed the car to be used to transport King from Birmingham to a civil rights rally at Selma, Ala., last month.

The department said Henderson earlier denied lending the car, and had been dismissed because his actions violated department policy.

Gov. George C. Wallace and other Alabama officials cited the incident as evidence of the Justice Department's participation in stirring racial strife in the state.
