

Service Stations in Ashland Burglarized

ASHLAND — Burglars broke into two Ashland service stations Tuesday night and made off with small amounts of cash. Involved were the Grange Co-Op Station on A Street and the Hartwell garage and station on N. Main St.

Entry was made through a side window at each location. About $2 in cash was missing from each of the two.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A U.S. NAVY supply ship put in for a spell at a Pacific island famed for its shapely, and scantily clad maidens. One sailor spent a memorable day on shore posing groups of the cooperative beauties, and photographing them with his miniature camera. An ensign watched him silently for some time, then inquired, "Where do you think you're going to get all those films developed?"

The sailor replied, "Films? Who's got films?"

When a politician was running for mayor, he made it a practice to appear at a rally holding a piece of paper. After a quick look at his audience, however, he would crumple the paper into a ball and throw it in the corner, remarking heartily, "I can see I'm among true friends this evening. I don't need notes to speak to a wonderful audience like this."

A skeptical newspaper reporter took the trouble to retrieve one of the discarded "pages of notes." It was an old laundry bill.

Sign painted on an Atlantic City garbage scow: "This is your ocean. Keep it clean." Sign in a Clarksburg taxicab: "Please use the ashtray. The maid is on vacation."

Meeting Challenge Of Leadership Is Discussed at Event

"We don't import greatness, but we have a nation in which greatness can flourish," Dr. R. C. Young, Birmingham, Mich., told members of the Rogue River Valley Knife and Fork Club Tuesday night.

Speaking on "America Meets the Challenge of World Leadership" Dr. Young, who came to this country from Scotland after World War I, encouraged the audience to remember the heritage of America, which is "apt to be forgotten, but realized by immigrants."

He reminded residents that American greatest strength lies in her successes as a nation, and not in magnifying our failures. He explained that the United States is built on the idea that an individual has a certain dignity which can be developed to its highest potential. The U.S.S.R. stresses collectivism without individual identity, which works toward the absorption of the individual.

In the United States leaders take men of different interests and abilities and coordinate them to achieve a concrete result. In Russia the leadership superimposes upon the people a plan which is the idea of the leaders.

The speaker condemned those who are willing to give a quarter to be rid of responsibility, reminding the audience that U.S. in some instances has failed to realize that money will do no good.

Stresses No Involvement
He stressed that the U.S. shouldn't get so involved with Russia that the government forget what brought it to the present situation.

He noted that the present generation is only two generations removed from those who immigrated here, commenting on the distrust that each European country had of the other. In the U.S. former enemies became one, fighting side by side for a country.

The problem in Europe and NATO today, according to Dr. Young, is that no one in Europe wants to see Germany strong again. He stated that when the U.S. sided with Germany following the war, Stalin became suspicious.

The only positive United Nations in the world today is the U.S.A., Dr. Young said, explaining that this welding of different races, cultures and creeds was accomplished largely by the public schools here.

Select Native Sons
"This is our strength, but we fail to recognize it," he commented. "Our people can go into any part of the world in the name of Americanism. We must select native sons for foreign service, not ugly Americans."

The U.S. has come nearer to having a classless society than any nation, Dr. Young explained. It is here that work is not an end in itself, but a means to an end.

"America brought dignity to the coveralls and the common laborer," Dr. Young continued, commenting that "life is not a hand-me-down, in exchange for work there is a prize."

"Give our children a faith in their own country," the speaker said. "We can never advance the cause if we continually hold our failures," he added. Dr. Young was introduced by the Rev. John O. Reynolds, vice president of the club.
