

Crater, Ashland in Finale Tonight at Comet Stadium

CENTRAL POINT — Crater's Comets take the field as favorites here tonight as conclusion is written to the football season for 1963. But, the Fireballs may run up against a growling clawing Grizzly as a foe.

league within a conference since Ashland and Crater are the little schools of the bigger loop.

This is the last opportunity for Ashland to win a conference game this fall and it's a chance of which the Grizzlies want to make the most. "The kids are really fired up," said Coach Johnny Gray of Ashland last night. "I hope that it carries over to the game."

Third Place at Stake On the outcome of this game will depend whether Crater takes third place alone in the SO conference standings or shares it with Ashland and Klamath Falls.

The Comets take a 1-2 loop standing into the skirmish while Ashland is 0-3. For the full season Crater is 4-3 and eyes a victory for a winning season rather than just a break even one. The Grizzlies are 2-5 going into their final game.

Crater's status as the favorite is placed on better performances in five of six games against common adversaries. It's by the outcome against the sixth rival that the Grizzlies see a hole in the Comet armor.

In the Southern Oregon conference Crater whipped Klamath Falls 27-0 and lost to Medford 0-6 and to Grants Pass 0-12. Outside the loop the Comets beat Lebanon 7-0, Sweet Home 26-2 and Coquille 48-13. The Fireballs lost to Yreka, Calif. 6-20.

Ashland bowed in the circuit to Grants Pass 6-34, to Klamath Falls 0-13 and to Medford 7-42. Their victories were 20-6 over Sweet Home and 15-6 over Yreka High. Losses included 7-13 to Lebanon and 0-39 to Shasta of Redding, Calif.

Crater defense — Steve Doran and Frank Armstrong, ends; Don Gail and John Bush, tackles; Ryerson and McNichols, guards; Ray White and Darryl Summerfield, linebackers; Chuck Taylor, Sherman Kiger and John Hall, deep backs.

Crater's offense — Steve Doran and Frank Armstrong, ends; Don Gail and John Bush, tackles; Ryerson and McNichols, guards; Ray White and Darryl Summerfield, linebackers; Chuck Taylor, Sherman Kiger and John Hall, deep backs.

It's from the Yreka outcome that the Bruins see their chance against the Comets. Crater has run up 114 points this year while allowing opposition 55 and its opponents 164.

Crater's attacking line will prep the way for backfield crewmen such as Vern Swanson, Darryl Summerfield, Sherman Kiger, Chuck Taylor, John Hall and Roger Neufeld. Ashland will have the operation of Dave Lohman, Jack Gruber, Mike Torresan, Roger Atherton, Dennis Ekwall and John Buck behind its line.

Rain influenced Thursday's preparations of both teams. Coach Gray worked only his backs. Coach Keith Johnson of COMET TACKLE — John Bush, above, is a 174-pound stalwart in the Crater High football team forward wall. He's a both ways player. A senior, he will see his last grid action for the Comets tonight when they meet Ashland at Central Point.

The Comets held a long chalk talk rather than outside drill. Prior to yesterday Johnson was not certain about his starting defensive crew, yesterday he reported this possible combination.

District Teams To Be Honored

CENTRAL POINT — Football teams of School District 6 will be honored here this evening. The Crater High varsity will play Ashland and other squads will be guests and will be introduced at halftime. Teams include Hanby Elementary varsity and junior varsity, Central Point sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and the Crater freshmen, Rockets and junior varsity.

Clowns Ticket Sale Under Way

Reserved and general admission tickets for the Medford appearance of the Harlem Clowns, touring Negro basketball team, go on sale Saturday at Lamport's Sporting Goods store and Bud's Tire Exchange. The Clowns play the John Wheeler Logging team of Medford, perennial bidders for the Oregon AAU championship, at Hedrick Junior High school gym on Tuesday night, Nov. 19.

Sportscast

Radio Station KYJC will broadcast the Medford - Grants Pass High football game at 7:55 o'clock tonight and the Oregon State - Indiana game at 10:15 a. m. on Saturday. Radio Station KWIN will carry the Ashland - Crater High football game at 8 o'clock this evening and the Southern Oregon - College of Idaho tussle at 1:30 p. m. on Saturday.

Haystack Billed In Tag Match

Haystack Calhoun, whose six feet, four inch eight and 600 pounds make him the world's biggest wrestler, will team with smooth-operating Ave Jacobs of New Zealand in a tag team match headlining next Thursday night's wrestling card at Medford armory. Calhoun, who is amazingly agile and active for his huge bulk, likes Jacobs for a tag team partner. They have teamed in several large arenas around the United States and their experience in working together gives them an advantage over most opponents. They will meet Maurice (Mad Dog) Vachon and Soldat Gorky, two of the roughest and toughest in Matchmaker Elton Owen's stable. Two other matches, which will see Nick Bockwinkel, Wild Bill Savage and Nick Kozak in

Chualvo Fights Alongi Tonight

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Left-hooking George Chualvo and right-jabbing Tony Alongi, both trying to take a big step along the comeback road, meet tonight in a nationally televised 10-round match at the Miami Beach Convention Hall. Chualvo, from Toronto and Detroit and the former Canadian heavyweight champ, was a slight (85) favorite before the fight but the odds were shifting closer to even for the 10 p. m. EST bout. The winner has been offered another television match in the same ring Dec. 27 against Eddie Machen, sixth-ranked contender for Sonny Liston's crown.

THE POINT OF IT

At the present time the rules read that "There shall not be used in any salmon or steelhead fishing, any treble or double hook, of which any one or all thereof are larger than three-fourths of an inch from the point of any such hooks to the shank or shanks thereof, and no single hook or hooks larger than one inch from the point of any such hook or hooks to the shank thereof."

THE ANGLER'S LOG

The weatherman is promising a good slug of rain tonight and tomorrow which may cause a rise in the coastal streams and bring in the salmon in large numbers. It should start the first of the winter steelhead upriver for their annual spawning cycle.

THE OPTIMIST'S CORNER

If a dull today means a bright tomorrow, it would appear that we have a few bright ones coming. Let's hope we get them on Saturdays and Sundays. GOOD LUCK!

Woods, Water, Wildlife

By Hank DeVoss

Angling regulations for the 1964 season were considered by the Game Commission at a public hearing scheduled for today, at the commission's Portland headquarters. During the hearing, winter and summer angling rules for all game fish were discussed, and proposals by the interested public heard and considered. Then the hearing will be recessed for two weeks. Tentative regulations covering any changes or new regulations will be publicized. Final regulations for the 1964 season will be adopted when the hearing is reconvened at 10 a. m. on Nov. 22.

THE STICKLER

The difficulty with the present rules is that the snagger can use legal gear and still be successful in trying to snag a salmon. It's certain that he may lose six out of seven fish that are snagged, but he can land enough to make it worth trying. The fact that the salmon that are snagged and lost probably will die before spawning is the stickler that makes snagging the problem it is. Arrests are difficult to make and no solution to it.

THE SOLUTION

The solution to this problem at first appears simple in that if treble hooks were made illegal there would be little chance of snagging a salmon with a single hook; but this would work against the interests of the trout fishermen who use a small spinner or spoon that is sold with a treble hook attached. A better solution would appear to be achieved by setting a maximum size limit on single or treble hooks that would be too small for use in the snagging of salmon in their resting holes in the upper Rogue River. A change in the rules to make it illegal to use a single hook larger than three-fourths of an inch from point to shank while fishing in the main stem of the Rogue River above Savage Rapids Dam would appear to be effective.

THE CRUX OF IT

The American system for the playing of games seems to be that when the game isn't being played so that both sides have a fair chance, the rules are changed to make it a fair game. Since most fishermen are not trying to catch a salmon in order to keep from starving to death, we might safely assume that sport fishing is a game where we try to convince the fish that he ought to bite something, and the fish decides whether or not to bite according to a pattern of reaction that most fishermen are not sure of. When the fishermen decide to play the game in such a way that the fish doesn't have a chance to decide whether or not he wants to bite, then it is no longer a game and time for a change.

THE POINT OF IT

At the present time the rules read that "There shall not be used in any salmon or steelhead fishing, any treble or double hook, of which any one or all thereof are larger than three-fourths of an inch from the point of any such hooks to the shank or shanks thereof, and no single hook or hooks larger than one inch from the point of any such hook or hooks to the shank thereof."

Oaklanders Play Chiefs

By WILLIAM COOK United Press International

The faltering Kansas City Chiefs and the surprising Oakland Raiders meet for the second time in five days tonight in an unusual back-to-back American Football League battle.

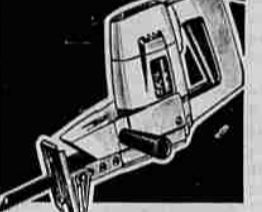

Last Sunday, Oakland defeated the Chiefs 10-7 on Claude (Hot) Gibson's 85-yard punt return. Another loss by the Chiefs tonight in Kansas City would dash any hopes they might have of repeating as AFL champions.

In other weekend games, Buffalo plays host to Denver Saturday night. San Diego visits Boston and New York at Houston in Sunday afternoon games to be telecast regionally.

Oakland (5-4) has won its last three starts and is in second place in the Western Division behind San Diego (6-2). The Chiefs (2-5) are tied for the cellar spot in the Western Division with Denver.

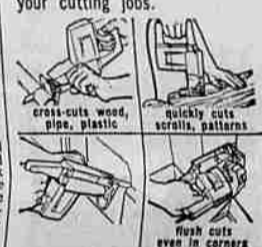

The Raiders, nevertheless, are listed as four-point underdogs.

DO YOU SUSPECT YOUR CAR IS LOSING POWER?

ADD ALEMITE CD-2

to your motor oil and drive on full power again!

When an engine gets dirty it loses power. Acids, rust and other deposits accumulate in the crankcase causing needless engine wear. To keep your car engine clean and powerful, add Alemite CD-2 to your motor oil regularly. CD-2's concentrated detergent action dissolves engine sludge and other gummy deposits... frees sticky valves, too. You'll notice the extra power!

Have your oil checked today. If it's about a half-quart low, ask for Alemite CD-2. Your satisfaction is guaranteed by Stewart-Warner Corporation.
