

Pittsburgh Steelers Spill Cleveland 9-7; Green Bay, Chicago Tilt Next Sunday

By NORMAN MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

The National Football League stages the game-of-the-year next Sunday in Chicago and a few million fans are wondering just what the Green Bay Packers' super-team will do against the Bears' amazing defense.

Defense? That's the fad among the best NFL clubs as the season goes into its 10th week with two-team ties for first place in both divisions.

The rough-tough Pittsburgh Steelers put forth their best defense to upset Jimmy Brown and the Cleveland Browns, 9-7, Sunday and throw the Eastern Division into a four-team race. The New York Giants (7-2) pulled even with the Browns for the lead by drubbing the Philadelphia Eagles, 42-21.

The Bears had little except defense as they held the Los Angeles Rams to a net total of 88 yards (rushing and passing) and won, 6-0, on Roger LeClerc's two field goals.

The Packers' defense kept the Minnesota Vikings in line until the champs pulled away in the second half on John Roach's passes to win 28-7. Green Bay and Chicago are tied with 6-1 records.

Cards In Race
The St. Louis Cardinals (6-3) remained in contention, only a game behind the deadlocked Browns and Giants, with a 24-20 victory over the Washington Redskins; the San Francisco Forty Niners upset the Dallas Cowboys, 31-24, and the Baltimore Colts edged the Detroit Lions, 24-21, in the three other games played.

To get back to the Bears and Packers. They meet next week at Wrigley Field in a battle that should determine which will go on to win the Western title. The Bears won their first meeting, 19-3, on the opening Sunday of the season and Green Bay since has reeled off eight straight wins.

Chicago has yielded only 82 points in nine games for one of the most remarkable defensive records in recent NFL history. The Bears' defense is so good they can win without scoring a touchdown. They played ball control against the Rams Sunday and won on LeClerc's field goals of 30 and 16 yards in the first and third periods.

The Packers should have Bart Starr back next week but they certainly can't complain about the fill-in job Roach has done for three games. Roach threw three touchdown passes after the Vikings had taken a first-period lead on Frank Tarkenton's 18-yard toss to Paul Flatley.

Hold Brown Down
The Steelers (5-3-1) held Jimmy Brown to less than his usual rushing average before a crowd of 54,497 at Pitt Stadium. Ed Brown's nine-yard pass to Gary Ballman in the final period produced the winning points. Brown set up that score with a 41-yard pass to Buddy Dial.

Jimmy Brown gained 40 of his 99 yards during Cleveland's 74-yard touchdown march in the second period. Frank Ryan passed four yards to Gary Collins for the score. The Steelers scored two points in the third period when Brown was tackled in the end zone by Bob Schmitz while attempting a pass.

Y.A. Tittle threw three touchdown passes, completing 16 of 20 attempts for 261 yards before retiring late in the third period. He also set up two other Giant touchdowns with long passes.

Charley Johnson completed three touchdown passes as the Cardinals withstood Washington's two-touchdown rally in the last period to win. The Cards' final touchdown was set up when Washington's Bobby Mitchell touched a St. Louis punt and rookie linebacker Larry Stallings fell on the ball on the Redskins' 14-yard line. Johnson passed the remaining distance to Sonny Randle for what proved to be the winning score.

The Forty Niners overcame a three-touchdown, 460-yard passing performance by the Cowboys' Don Meredith to win their second game of the season. Lamar McHan completed three touchdown tosses for San Francisco.

Baltimore scored on each of its first four series of downs to go ahead 24-7 and then beat Detroit's late rush. Johnny Unitas threw two scoring passes and gained 376 yards. Earl Morrall threw for two Detroit scores and gained 296 yards.

Everett Moore To Be Honored For Game Commission Service

PORTLAND — Fifteen Game Commission employees with an accumulated total of 474 years of service in the field and game management for the state of Oregon will receive honors at a public ceremony, Nov. 22, at the Game Commission's Portland headquarters.

The presentation of awards by Joe Smith, chairman of the commission, will follow the commission's meeting on that date to set the angling regulations for the 1964 season.

Leading the list for longevity is Andy Smith, superintendent of the commission's Oak Springs hatchery on the Deschutes river near Maupin, who has 47 years in the fish cultural activities. Smith took over the reins of the infant Oak Springs hatchery in 1924 and almost 40 years of tenure here has developed the Oak Springs plant into one of the finest rainbow trout hatcheries on the west coast.

26 Years at Post
Everett Moore, superintendent of the Butte Falls hatchery on the Rogue, follows closely with 42 years in fishery work. Moore started his fish cultural activities in 1921 and has served continuously as superintendent at Butte Falls since his transfer there in 1926.

Two more hatchery superintendents, Charles Roadarmel of the Cedar Creek hatchery on the Nestucca near Hobo, and Lynn Webb of the Leaburg hatchery on the McKenzie, have each exceeded 35 years of service to the state. James Vaughn, supervisor for the game commission's southwest region with headquarters in Roseburg, and Harold Rennie, service and supply, have also topped the 35-year mark.

Miriam Suhl, secretary to the commission, and Phyllis Clayton, property clerk, two women who have dedicated most of their lives to fish and game management, both exceed 30 years in continuous employ of the Game Commission. Also with more than 30-years' service are Willis Baker, superintendent of the Bandon hatchery on the south coast, and Roy DeLozier, fish liberator who has probably planted more fish in Oregon's lakes and streams than any single individual.

25-Year Recognition
To receive 25-year recognition are John McKean, chief of the game division; Robert Holloway, chief of the information and education division; Averill V. Meyers, lands supervisor; Roy Dickson, superintendent of the Hermon game farm; and Knox Alexander, habitat improvement foreman at Corvallis.

Although not included in the formal presentations, 24 additional game commission employees will receive 20-year certificates, 40 will receive 15-year certificates, and 69 will receive 10-year certificates. The public is invited.

Ducks' Berry Draws Praise

PULLMAN (UPI) — "Oregon was a better football team than we were," admitted Washington State University Coach Jim Sutherland after his Cougars fell to the Oregon Ducks Saturday.

The Cougar coach said his club gave Oregon the ball too many times. "We helped them win." The Cougars dropped the ball to the Ducks on four pass interceptions and two fumbles.

Sutherland, in a locker room session after the game, said, "I thought we played pretty good football," then he added, "taking out our mistakes, of course."

Bob Berry, Oregon quarterback, drew praise from Sutherland who described the opposition's star as a combination of "guts and determination."

"I've got to hand it to the boy. We knew he was hurt and we could tell it, but he was still their key man," he said. Berry is still suffering from injuries suffered two weeks ago in the Oregon-Washington game.

Dave Wilcox was another Oregon player who made their 21-7 win possible, said Sutherland. "We couldn't block him all day."

"The Oregon line was just better than ours, but offensively we gave them a lot to worry about," Sutherland ended the locker room session saying, "You can't overcome as many errors as we made out there and expect to win."

Pioneers Hope For NAIA Offer

By United Press International
Lewis and Clark's Pioneers sat back and began a week-long wait today to see if they will receive a semifinal bid for the NAIA Camellia football bowl.

The first two semifinal bids are scheduled to be filled next Monday.

The Pioneers, ranked eighth in the NAIA poll last week, completed an unbeaten season and captured the Northwest Conference championship by defeating Pacific 35-7 at Portland Saturday.

They finished the regular campaign with an 8-0 record. Linfield edged Oregon Collegiate Conference champion Portland State 14-7 at McMinnville.

In other games, Southern Oregon defeated College of Idaho 20-7 at Ashland, Willamette won over Whitman 28-12 at Salem, Oregon College of Education nipped Eastern Oregon 12-7 at La Grande and Oregon Tech dropped a 13-7 decision to Southern Utah at Cedar City, Utah.

Reservations Due This Week For Ski Party

Rogue Snowmen Ski Club members are to have reservations in by Nov. 15 for the club's 30-year reunion party.

The event will be held at Rogue Valley Country club on Nov. 24.

This party will include a reunion hour, dinner, dancing and skit entertainment by past presidents.

President Wayne Martell has appointed Myers Jones as official club photographer. Leslie Martell is to serve as historian.

The president also said that Buck Martin, Mt. Ashland winter sports director, will extend passes for one day of free skiing to Snowmen to be used any time. Dues to the club must be paid by December to qualify.

150 at Dinner
Approximately 150 persons participated in a potluck dinner before the regular business meeting of the club last Wednesday. A swap and sell of clothing followed the meeting. A colored film of skiing on Mt. Ashland and a movie about the Sun Valley ski school were shown.

Social Chairman Betty Ramsey reported that the Alle Mage Ski Club of Klamath Falls has invited Rogue Snowmen to join them for a January skating party.

Tickets to be sold for the Warren Miller movie were distributed by Wally Iverson, publicity chairman. The movie will be shown on Dec. 7 in the Medford High auditorium and is titled, "Many Moods of Skiing." The snow queen, who will be elected on Dec. 4 will be crowned at the movie showing.

Brant Hunting Season Coming

Portland — Brant season is coming up, with Nov. 18 kickoff day for hunting this fascinating coastal goose. The season will extend through Jan. 31. Bag limit is set for three brant per day, three in possession.

The Game Commission warns gunners not to confuse this bird with the cackling goose common throughout Central and Eastern Oregon areas. The cackling goose is a miniature replica of the Canada and has identical markings, while the black brant is a dark goose with black head, neck and breast. It lacks the white cheek patch of the Canada species.

Willamette First In Harrier Race
SALEM (UPI) — Willamette edged Whitman and Lewis and Clark to capture the Northwest Conference cross country championship Saturday.

Willamette scored 38 points. Whitman was second with 40 and Lewis and Clark was third with 42. Pacific finished fourth with 110.

JESSEN, WHITWORTH EVEN
SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — Ruth Jessen of Seattle and Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., went into the finals of the $8,500 San Antonio Civitan golf tournament tied today with 54-hole scores of 224.

Miss Jessen was first round leader in the rain-plagued tourney. But she fell three strokes off the pace at the halfway mark. She fought back Sunday for a share of first place when Miss Whitworth fell to six-over-par 40-38-78 over the 72-par Pecan Valley Golf Course.

Miss Jessen and Miss Whitworth held a three-stroke edge over a trio of golfers—Mickey Wright, Betsy Rawls and 18-year-old Judy Torluemke.

Bill Tobin Sparks Houston To 31-27 Verdict Over Jets

By United Press International
The Houston Oilers finally gave the rookie from Missouri a chance to show 'em—and that's exactly what Bill Tobin did.

He showed 'em what hobbled the result today is that the Oilers hold undisputed possession of first place in the Eastern Division of the American Football League and have become clear-cut favorites to win their fourth straight divisional title. The San Diego Chargers gave the Oilers an assist with a 7-6 victory over the Boston Patriots in the lowest-scoring game in AFL history.

Scores Three TDs
Tobin, a 210-pound rookie from the University of Missouri who had gained a total of 95 yards in 29 carries before Sunday's game, scored three touchdowns and set up another in the Oilers' 31-27 triumph over the

New York Jets. His 32-yard run to the seven-yard line setting up the Oilers' winning touchdown in the fourth period also was the longest run from scrimmage by a Houston back this season.

Tobin's heroics offset a brilliant performance by New York's Dick Wood, who threw scoring passes of 47, 7 and 12 yards.

The Chargers retained their lead in the Western Division on the strength of a 27-yard first-period touchdown pass from Tobin Rife to Lance Alworth and George Blair's conversion. Gino Cappelletti put the Patriots Cappelletti on the scoreboard with field goals of 35 and 25 yards but also missed three-point tries from 38, 27 and 53 yards.

Jack Kemp threw three touchdown passes and ran 14 yards for a fourth touchdown to lead the Buffalo Bills to a 27-17 victory over the Denver Broncos in a Saturday night game.
