Stocks Break With Discouraging News

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks broke sharply on heavy trading today, triggered by disappointing new car sales and discouraging news from President Kennedy concerning the tax cut.

Kennedy told a meeting of the AFL-CIO today that he did not expect his tax measure to pass in Congress this session but added that it should be enacted before Congress goes home next summer.

This, and news that new car sales for early November showed their first year-to-year decline since the 1964 models were introduced sent the market sharply lower. Losses of about 2 1/2 in Chrysler, 1 1/2 in General Motors and 1/2 in Ford paced the decline.

By ROBERT J. SERLING UPI Aviation Editor WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government and aviation industry are moving to counter a mysterious menace to giant jets—unpredictable turbulence that has wrecked one airliner and sent at least two others almost out of control.

It is not the usual turbulence associated with storms, but freakish vertical downdrafts and updrafts which seem to occur without warning at the high altitudes used by jets.

An Eastern DC8 apparently was caught in such a turbulent tug of war over Texas Saturday night. It finally landed safely, but only after six passengers were injured and one engine was ripped off as the pilot pulled out of the dive.

The Federal Aviation Agency (FAA), Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), airlines operating jets and aircraft manufacturers are aware of the rare but potentially dangerous problem. They also are agreed it is in the

Baby Spends Night In Stolen Auto

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Robert Davis, 7 months, was healthy today despite a 25-degree night he spent in an abandoned car.

"He's tough," Joe Davis, his father, said. Davis left his 16-pound son with a friend Wednesday night.

The friend left the tot in his car momentarily and returned to find the car had been stolen. Officer Mack Pok found the abandoned car seven hours later.

The baby was on his knees crying. A bottle of milk later, the baby was quiet and doctors said there was nothing apparently wrong with him.

Higher turbulence penetration speeds will lessen the chances of stalling in the updraft. Pilots are being told to try to keep the nose level at such times.

Council Fathers Clear Way For Discussion on Unity

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Ecumenical Council fathers today closed off debate on church administration and cleared the floor for their long awaited discussion on how to achieve Christian unity.

Actual debate on ecumenism, the title of the document on unity before the council, will begin Monday after a weekend recess.

It will be the first time in the history of the Roman Catholic Church that the theme of working toward a single Christendom will be considered as a part of church teaching.

Debate on the subject of reorganizing diocesan boundaries was shut off by the moderators after the list of speakers was exhausted. The chapter on the need for reorganization of boundaries was part of a document on bishops and the government of dioceses which now will be rewritten by a council commission.

In the document on ecumenism, the Roman Catholic Church considers ways to bring about the reunion of the Christian world.

The document has five chapters. It includes a resolution in favor of religious liberty as well as a statement saying Jews should not be made scapegoats for the crucifixion of Christ.

Christian unity is the long range aim of the Ecumenical Council as envisioned by the late Pope John XXIII, and has far-reaching implications in a world where Christians are outnumbered two-to-one.

The first chapter of the ecumenism document says that the various churches to which Protestants and Eastern Orthodox belong have an important role in salvation.

Chapter two outlines practical paths as guidelines in this work for unity, which it says begins from an inner renewal. This inner renewal of the Catholic Church is the immediate aim of the Ecumenical Council.

The fourth chapter is the one on Jews. The fifth is the resolution, strongly backed by the American episcopate, urging religious tolerance.
