

Banker To Give Talk On Foreign Investment

Reservations for the League of Women Voters dinner meeting Monday, November 18, must be made by tomorrow morning, it was announced Saturday. William H. Winter, Portland, trade development officer with the international banking department of the First National Bank of Oregon, will speak at the event, which will begin with a social hour at 8:30 p.m. at Mon Desir Dining Inn.

Mr. Winter will discuss the role of private investment in developing countries. Reservations should be made by calling Mrs. William Downing, 773-7208, and all persons interested are invited.

The meeting is part of the League's study of U.S. foreign economic policy. Mr. Winter, who was born in Rotterdam, Holland, received a travel scholarship from the Marshall Plan organization and traveled six months through the United States, Mexico and Canada discussing effects of the Marshall Plan and Dutch economy before colleges and service organizations.

Discussion units of the voters group this month will deal with international commodity arrangements and private investments abroad. All women interested in the non-partisan study of government are invited to either the evening unit, which will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Wilson, 2517 Argonne Way, at 8 p.m. Monday, November 25, or the morning unit, at the home of Mrs. Thomas Ruitter, 1033 Queen Anne Avenue, at 9:45 a.m. Tuesday, November 26. Further information is available by calling the League president, Mrs. Ogden Kellogg, Gold Hill, phone 855-1406.

King-Warren Ceremony Held

ASHLAND—An autumn color theme was used in decorating the Assembly of God sanctuary and the Women's Civic Club for the marriage of Miss Donna Warren to Robert Lee King November 1, and the reception which followed. The Rev. R. N. Cornwall officiated at the 8 p.m. ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ardis N. Warren, 119 Granite Street. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Alice King, 80½ Hargadine Street, and Jack O. King, Truckee, Calif.

Traditional in style was the bride's gown of satin brocade fashioned with slim sheath lines and detachable chapel length train. The bodice was made with long fitted sleeves and Sabrina neckline. A pearl-encrusted satin rose and seed pearl spray held her butterfly illusion net veil. She carried a shower cascade bouquet of yellow rosebuds and stephanotis encircling a white orchid. Mr. Warren gave his daughter in marriage.

Three attendants were Mrs. Larry L. Marple, Santa Clara, Calif.; Miss Linda Thomas and the bride's younger sister, Becky Warren, junior bridesmaid; Cindy Clark, Cave Junction, a cousin of the bride, served as flower girl.

A gold velvet sheath was worn by the matron of honor, Mrs. Marple. Her matching braided velvet halo and veil complemented the bronze spider chrysanthemums she carried. Miss Thomas wore a dark green velvet sheath, veiled halo and carried a similar cascade bouquet of chrysanthemums. The junior bridesmaid was also dressed in a dark green velvet frock made with short circular skirt. She too wore a matching veiled halo and carried bronze spider chrysanthemums.

The flower girl, Cindy Clark, wearing a gold velvet dress and scattering tiny pompon chrysanthemums, preceded the bride to the altar which was banked with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums and lighted by gold candelabra on either side of the altar cross. The bride's brother and sister, Randy and Becky, served as candlelighters.

The bridegroom's best man was Rick Callahan. Ushers were Larry Pierce and Robert Ford.

Organist Plays
Miss Lynette Cornwall played the organ wedding music and was accompanist for Mrs. R. L. Cornwall when she sang the wedding solo before the service.

More than 200 guests attended the reception in the clubhouse on Winburn Way, where an elaborate cake was cut by the couple and served by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Earl Hobbs. Mrs. Leo Zupan and Mrs. Floyd Workman served punch and coffee. Miss Sandra Babcock was in charge of the gifts. Mrs. Jack Weaver assisted with reception arrangements and decorations.

When the new Mr. and Mrs. King left by plane for a honeymoon at North Bend the bride was wearing a wool knit sheath of midnight blue with copper tone accessories and a mink trimmed hat. Her corsage was the orchid from her bouquet.

The bridegroom is a student at Southern Oregon College. The bride is a senior at Ashland High School. They are making their home for the present at 119 Granite Street.

Alaskan On Visit In Medford

Mrs. Kenneth A. Brown, a former Medford resident now of Whitewater Bay, Alaska, arrived Thursday evening and is a guest of her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Philip C. Brown, 2025 Corey Road, Medford.

When living in Medford, Mrs. Brown was active in benefit work for the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, and since being in Alaska has written articles for the Medford Mail Tribune concerning experiences there. Whitewater Bay, in an isolated area, is reached only by ship and planes, and is some 25 air miles from Sitka.

Mr. Brown is a timber feller there for a logging contractor. Enroute to Medford, Mrs. Brown traveled by five different airlines. In Juneau she was a guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown. He also is a former Medford resident.

In Eugene she was a visitor in the home of a daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel D. Whedon Jr.

Mrs. Brown plans to leave this week for Arcata, Calif., for a visit with her father, L. E. Turner Sr.

Mr. Brown is to arrive in Oregon in mid-December and the couple will remain in the state visiting relatives until after the first of the year.

Tussie-Mussies To Be Project Of Herb Group

Tussie-mussies of herbs are to be made and worn by members of the Rogue Valley Herb Society at their meeting Tuesday, November 19 at 1:30 p.m., in the Girls' Community Club.

The term tussie-mussie or tuzzy-muzzy, is defined as an archaic Middle English term for garland of flowers or nosegay. The society members will convert this idea into corsages, members stated.

The roll call is to be answered by members giving descriptions of holiday herb drinks. Mrs. Sidney Hansen will speak on "Lavage," of the parsley family during the program from Herb Grower Review.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Dale Hoover and Mrs. Charles McFarlan.

At the society's recent Fall Herb Festival when herb gifts, foods and plants were sold, members of valley garden clubs poured for the silver tea. They were Mrs. Ira Fitzgerald Medford; Mrs. B. Leon Lockwood, Talent; Mrs. C. L. Miller, Medford; Mrs. S. M. Christensen, Gold Hill; Mrs. Thomas Harrison, Prospect; Mrs. C. E. Kimmel, Eagle Point, and Mrs. C. H. Pendleton, Ashland.

Mrs. L. W. Lingscheit and Mrs. Otto Nagel had charge of the gift table and Mrs. Hansen and Mrs. Mattie Carson were in charge of the food table. Mrs. J. W. Ostrander registered guests.

Mrs. Mona Solcany, Shady Cove, played her own compositions at the piano.

Gifts were presented to guests during the event as Mrs. R. D. Abel read a brief description of the herb plants that were given.

Session Stated On Anniversary

Crater Lake Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will celebrate the anniversary of organization with a meeting Saturday, November 23 at the Rogue Valley Manor at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. T. J. Gifford will review the organization and history of the chapter and Mrs. J. L. Houck will illustrate the talk by showing the chapter's scrapbooks. The chairman of the American Indian Committee, Miss Helen E. Crumpton, will speak of the work of this committee and the annual contribution for the work.

Hostesses will be Mesdames J. N. Rice, R. G. Beach and C. B. Pankey.

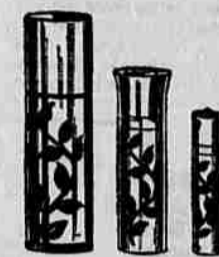

Meeting Planned By Service Circle
CENTRAL POINT — Christian Service Circle of the Central Point Presbyterian Church will meet with Mrs. Guy Tex, 360 South Second Street, Thursday, November 21. Dessert will be served at 1 o'clock, followed by the program.

Mrs. O. C. Hamilton is the leader for the discussion of chapter nine of the study book "One People of God."
