Colavito Key Player In Trade

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The Kansas City Athletics today traded infielder Jerry Lumpe and pitchers Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham to the Detroit Tigers in return for outfielder Rocky Colavito, pitcher Bob Anderson, and an undisclosed amount of cash.

"We are paying a heavy price to acquire the power hitting we need," said Athletics General Manager Pat Friday, who made the announcement at a news conference today.

Power Hitter

"We've been looking for an established right hand power hitter, and now we've got one in Colavito," Friday added.

Colavito, the key player in the trade, is an established power hitter after eight full seasons in the American League, four with Detroit and four with the Cleveland Indians.

He hit 22 home runs last season, his lowest output since his first year in the American League, but has hit as many as 45 homers in a single season.

SEALS GET BRISSON

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Seals of the Western Hockey League hopefully added some scoring punch to their attack with the acquisition Monday of Garry Brisson, a Montreal Canadiens' farmhand. Brisson, a right-wing who appeared in four games with Montreal last season, formerly played for Spokane and Winnipeg in the Western League.

GET TWO PLAYERS

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI) — The Cincinnati Wings of the Central Professional Hockey League, seeking their first win in their new home, acquired center Ken Laufman and right-wing Ron Leopold Monday from the Portland Bucs of the Western League in exchange for center Sid Finney. Leopold was assigned to Cincinnati for only one year under the terms of the trade.

HANK BAUER
New Orioles Manager
(UPI)

Hank Bauer To Pilot Baltimore

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI) — Hank Bauer, former New York Yankee star who once piloted the Kansas City Athletics, today was named manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

Bauer, who succeeds Billy Hitchcock, was signed only for the 1964 season, but General Manager Lee MacPhail said that "Hank has been my preference right along." No terms were announced.

Bauer served as third base coach of the Orioles last season under Hitchcock. He had managed the A's in 1961 and 1962.

Bauer, who was an outfielder for the Yankees and A's for 13 years, became the Orioles' fifth and youngest manager, since Baltimore came into the American League in 1954. Bauer is 41.

MacPhail said that with the departure of Luke Appling and the promotion of Bauer, Harry Brecheen would be the only Orioles' holdover coach. Brecheen is the pitching coach. Bauer said he expected to expand the Orioles' coaching staff from three to four men.

"We already have signed one new coach and will announce it Thursday," Bauer said. "We've got a couple of others we are trying to get, but can't say yet who they are except that they are young fellows."

MacPhail revealed that the Orioles had considered only Bauer and Eddie Stanky for the post.

Bauer, considered one of the best outfielders in the business during his 12 seasons with the Yankees, finished his playing career with the A's and took over as their manager during the 1961 season. The A's finished ninth that year and again in 1962 under Bauer.

Vic Zwolak Tops Own 5-Mile Time

NEW YORK (UPI) — Winning isn't everything to IC-4A crosscountry champion Vic Zwolak if it comes without perfection.

The Villanova student has everything to be proud of after breaking his own meet record for the five-mile Van Cortlandt Park course Monday with a time of 24 minutes, 46.8 seconds and winning the IC-4A title for the second straight year.

Instead, Zwolak complained of a pain in his right side and a "stupid" race that prevented him from recording a time of 24:20 as he had planned. The 5-foot, 9-inch Zwolak established the old record of 24:47.3 last year.

Despite Zwolak's heroics, Villanova was unable to retain the team crown, which went to Notre Dame. The well balanced Irish squad placed five men among the first 20 finishers for a low total of 55 points. Brown was second in the university division with 133 points, followed by Michigan State (154), Villanova (159) and Rutgers (193).

Zwolak, whose next stop is the NCAA championship at East Lansing, Mich., next Monday, finished 100 yards ahead of Steve Machooka of Cornell. Machooka, an exchange student from Kenya, Africa, who won the IC-4A crown in 1961, was clocked in 25:08.

Bill Clark of Notre Dame was third by just another yard with a time of 25:09, and he was followed by sophomore Richard Sharkey of Michigan State in 25:13 and Frank Carver of Notre Dame in 25:28.

Paul Minehan of La Salle College retained his title in the college division varsity race won by La Salle in 26:30.6.

TOP PLACE FOR SOC — Norm Oyler, above, is shown as he crossed the finish line fourth for Southern oregon College in the NAIA district cross country race at Ashland on Saturday. Southern Oregon College in the Willamette in the harrier event.

FIRST IN RACE — Chris Miller, above, of Lewis and Clark College, finishes in individual first place in the NAIA district cross-country run at Ashland's Oak Knoll Golf Course on Saturday. He ran the 4¼ miles in 21:48.2. Willamette University was the team winner.

N.Y. Fair Patrons To Come Under Eye Of Pinkerton Men

NEW YORK (UPI)—Those 85 million persons who, New Yorkers believe, will visit the world's fair here within the next two years will share a common experience.

Sooner or later, they will find themselves under the eye of the Pinkertons.

They don't have to get into trouble to do it. But Pinkerton's National Detective Agency, Inc., will be one of the biggest single employing agencies at the fair at Flushing Meadow, and its range of jobs will be sufficiently varied to make it difficult for any visitor to the fair to avoid coming in contact with someone on the agency payroll.

Image Outmoded

There was a time when the name "Pinkerton" aroused the image of a hard-derbyed, cigar-chewing gumshoe; or, in labor circles, that of an operative with a habit of showing up on the side of the employer in a time of labor strife.

But this no longer is the case. Pinkerton's still undertake industrial jobs, but the type of work which it will perform at the fair is illustrative of the change the agency has undergone through many years.

On its payroll for the two six-months' seasons which the fair is scheduled to run in 1964 and 1965 will be not only patrolmen, detectives and policewomen, but firemen, dispatchers, registered nurses; ticket sellers, ticket takers, turnstile operators, employment clerks, clerk-typists, payroll clerks, stenographers, even photographers who work at making pictures for identification purposes.

Edward J. Bednarz, executive vice president and general manager, said that his firm's agreement to undertake the job at the fair represented the biggest security contract in history and would gross about $25 million in the two seasons. The contract was signed three years ago, and Bednarz said plans which will go into operation when the fair opens next April have been in preparation since the signatures went onto the agreement.

The total number of jobs required just to keep the fair properly manned has been estimated at 30,000, and Pinkerton will require about 3,000 men and women to fill its portion of the operating task.

Most of these posts will require experience: policemen, detectives, policewomen and firemen fall into this category. Medical service operatives will include doctors and registered nurses to handle emergencies at the first aid and hospital facilities.

One Pinkerton official said the agency is getting job applications at the rate of 1,000 a month, but it expects that a large number of them will die on the vine by next April, or will be winnowed out in the security checks which the Pinkerton group makes on all its own employes.
