Alpha Betas Plan Party For Saturday

A Shipwreck Party for members of Alpha Beta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi sorority and their husbands is planned for Saturday, November 23 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Cranston, 2233 Siskiyou Boulevard. Couples are to attend "as they were when the ship went down." committee members have announced.

Games and dancing are on the program and a buffet dinner will be served late in the evening.

Plans for a Christmas party were to be made at an executive meeting scheduled for last evening in the home of Mrs. Stephen Nyer, chapter sponsor, Phoenix-Hillcrest Road.

Mrs. Dennis Garcelon was selected to represent the chapter as a model at a style show to be sponsored by Alpha Rho Chapter December 7 in Rogue Valley Country Club. The selection was made at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Norman Lanford, 1440 Jasper Street.

Mrs. Garcelon also will represent the chapter as a princess for the sorority Valentine Ball to be held February 12.

Mrs. James Teels and Mrs. Jack Goodman presented the cultural program for the recent meeting and Mrs. Gilbert Stuart and Mrs. Richard Wager served refreshments.

The next chapter meeting is scheduled for November 26 in the home of Mrs. Richard Card, 207 Vancouver Avenue.

Talent Women Benefit CARE At Silver Tea

TALENT — A silver tea for CARE was held Monday afternoon at the Talent City Hall by the members of the Talent Federated Women's Club, a member of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs.

Pouring during the afternoon were Mrs. Clay Lee, Medford, state chairman for CARE; Mr. Lorene Nye, Ashland, state chairman for United Nations; Mrs. Beryl Lyons, Medford; Mrs. Carl Peterson, Ashland, and the Mesdames Frank Christian, John Baldwin, Clarence Barrett and Iva Tuggle. Members of the Senior Citizens Orchestra played during the afternoon.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. William Harms, district president of Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs from Grants Pass and her daughter, Mrs. Frankie Fitch of Sitka, Alaska, and Mrs. Mary Brook, Canyonville.

Mrs. Lee spoke during the afternoon. She explained that the money raised by the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs goes to Guatemala for educational kits for both adults and children.

Mrs. Jessie Neiswanger was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Charles Long was chairman for the tea and the tea Leon Lockwood. About 40 people were decorated by Mrs. Leon Lockwood. About 40 persons attended.

Cook's Tour

By Jeanne Lesem

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bananas can be used in everything from cakes to cabinets and from sherberts to shelving.

The sweet yellow fruit has been a North American favorite for eating and cooking since 1870, when a New England schooner master brought the first commercial shipment from Jamaica. Lorenzo Dow Baker of Wellfleet, Mass., later became a founder of the United Fruit Co., now the world's largest producer and marketer of bananas.

A company spokesman says an important way-station on bananas' route to South and Central American tropics from its first-known home in southern Asia. A Spanish priest, Father Tomas de Berlanga, took plants to Santo Domingo (now part of the Dominican Republic) from which other travelers carried them to Latin America.

Bananas had been reported in India as early as 327 B. C. by the armies of Alexander the Great. They were mentioned in Sanskrit and early Chinese literature, said the company.

An early antecedent of the banana split was described by an Arab poet in 927 A.D., as a honey, nut and oil-flavored banana confection sold in the bazaars of Cairo and Damascus.

A few bananas brought into this country during Puritan times were rejected by the stern sect, not because of the rich flavor, but because Puritan cooks boiled the unfamiliar fruit in its skin, a cooking method hardly calculated to achieve peak flavor and texture.

Benjamin Disraeli, the novelist who later became a British prime minister, was more enthusiastic when he tasted the fruit during a visit to the Levant in 1839. He wrote his sister that it was "the most delicious thing in the world."

Cook Many Ways

Meantime, Latin Americans had learned to bake, boil and fry both green and ripe bananas, to serve them as fruit or as a substitute for potatoes and other starchy vegetables. Central and South Americans use up to 15 different varieties of bananas, most of them unknown here, said the fruit company.

Bananas for building are an experimental product of the space age, developed by a scientist looking for compact, multi-purpose emergency food for space flight. One national magazine said the scientist baked under hydraulic pressure a cereal blend containing banana flakes. He said that the resulting material, hard and strong enough for cabinets and shelving, was edible after several hours soaking in water. He added that it tasted like cereal with bananas.

Banana Surprise

Moulded cereal with banana surprise was one of the earliest recipes developed by United Fruit Company home economists for its 1904 "recipe" booklet.

Turn any left-over breakfast cereal, while still hot, into cups rinsed in cold water, half filling the cups. When cold, scoop out the centers, and fill the open spaces with sliced bananas; turn from the cups onto a buttered agate pan, fruit downward, and set into a hot oven to become very hot. Remove with a broad bladed knife to cereal dishes. Serve at once with sugar and cream or milk.

Auxiliary Outlines Project

The Christmas project of Medford Lions Club Auxiliary will be aid to a family with seven small children. The project was announced by a committee at a meeting held last week at the home of Mrs. Anthony Capello, 872 Morrison Avenue, Medford, with Mrs. John Henson presiding.

Arrangements were made for the purchase of toys and clothing for each child, this to be accomplished by a team of two women being responsible for one child. In this way the members will have a personal interest in the youngster each team had chosen, it is believed. There will also be gifts for the parents and food for the family, the group reports. All of the gifts will be displayed and wrapped at the December meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Alan Jewett.

Mrs. Bill Rambo reported on the progress she has made in collecting rummage for the sale to be held November 23 to raise funds for the Christmas project, and Mrs. Lee Mellich reported that plans for the November party for members of the auxiliary and their husbands were near completion.

The guest speaker, Miss Shirley Satterfield, who has taught at the Oregon School for the Blind in Salem, related some of her experiences at the school and outlined the method of instruction for handicapped children. Of particular interest to the auxiliary was her personal contact with the partially blind boy whom the club has sponsored for the past four years.

Mrs. Albert Construk and Mrs. Edward Stevens, members of the Phoenix Lions Club Auxiliary, were guests and they extended an invitation to join their members on Thursday for a dinner meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cappello and Mrs. Robert A. Stokes, co-hostesses.

Society Plans Annual Bazaar In Montague

MONTAGUE — Final plans for a luncheon and bazaar to be given by the Montague Women's Society of Christian Service Saturday, December 7, were made at the last meeting of the group at the home of Mrs. Di Raver. Mrs. Harold Coatney, president conducted the session.

The annual money raising event of the society will take place in the club room of the Montague Auditorium starting at 11:30 a.m. with the luncheon. Members of the group have been working for many months to complete handwork, including practical and fancy aprons, luncheon cloths, dolls and other toys and a number of unusual gift items. Homemade delicacies such as candy, cookies, breads, cakes and pies will be offered.

The November meeting included a study of the "Acts of the Apostles," led by the Rev. Donald Donihue of the Yreka Methodist Church, who also conducts services in Montague.

Members observed the "call to prayer and self-denial," week by a reading of "Where Your Donations Go, and Their Use," the program theme of the WSCS in Southern Asia. The reading was led by Mrs. Thomas Toulouse, assisted by Mrs. Coatney, Mrs. Mable French, Mrs. Laura Jones, Mrs. Ruby Stafford and Mrs. Walter Radke.

This cotton rug by Wunda Weve is best described as a bulged equilateral triangle, a graceful shape that lends excitement to any room.

Officers Announced

Orange, Ginger Cooky Recipe From France

Cookies from this Orange-Ginger Cooky recipe, which originated in France, are both tasty and nutritious.

Ingredients required are one-half cup sugar; one-half cup butter; two egg yolks; one-half cup honey; one-fourth wedge of orange; three and one-fourth cups sifted flour; one and one-half cup teaspoons ginger.

Sift flour into a large mixing bowl and set aside. Put sugar, butter, egg yolks, ginger, honey and orange wedge into a blender, or stir in a bowl. Process until well blended and if using a blender move a spatula up and down rapidly, tight against the sides of the container to avoid the blades.

Pour the mixture into the sifted flour and stir. Chill for several hours. Roll thin and cut into fancy shapes or roll into a long roll and cut into very thin slices. Bake on well-buttered cookie sheets in a moderate oven, 350 degrees for 15 minutes.
