MEDFORD, OREGON, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1963

Paul Hoffard, Semi-Pro Baseballer Here, Dies

Paul (Hoosier) Hoffard, colorful player and manager for Medford and other valley semi-pro baseball teams, died Tuesday evening. He was 62.

Football Briefs

NO ADMITTANCE
PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI) — The Washington State University football team hung up the "no admittance" sign on the fieldhouse Tuesday and held a secret hour-long session.

The Cougars hope to knock Washington out of the Rose Bowl race in a Big Six battle Saturday.

NOT KIDDING
SEATTLE (UPI) — It appeared today that Washington coach Jim Owens was not kidding when he shuffled starting backs Junior Coffey, Dave Kopay and Ron Medved to the second string.

The first string quartet that worked out Tuesday for the Huskies included Bill Douglas at quarterback, Dick Wetterauer and Steve Bramwell at halfbacks, and Charlie Browning in Coffey's fullback slot.

COREY TO PLAY
EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Oregon's place-kicker, Buck Corey, will perform this Saturday for the Ducks against old rival Oregon State even though he injured an elbow last weekend against Indiana.

Coach Len Casanova drilled his Ducks on both offense and defense Tuesday.

FINAL FOE
CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Coach Tommy Prothro took time out from drilling his Oregon State gridders today to praise quarterback Bob Berry of Oregon.

Oregon is the next and final foe for Oregon State and Prothro said that Berry "is the best passer we will face since Don Trull of Baylor."

GATES CLOSED
BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — Coach Marv Levy of California plans to keep the gates closed on this week's practice sessions.

The Bears are getting ready for Saturday's 65th renewal of the "big game" against Stanford.

Levy said that tackle John Rusev, who underwent surgery Monday for a knee injury, definitely would not face the Indians.

STANFORD INDOORS
STANFORD, Calif. (UPI) — Rain forced the Stanford football team indoors Tuesday and they prepared for Saturday's traditional battle against California by running through plays on the gymnasium floor.

Steve Thurlow, currently hobbled by a charley horse that he sustained last Saturday against Washington State, arrived for practice but did not participate.

BEATHARD AT HELM
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Quarterback Pete Beathard was at the helm again today as the University of Southern California worked on their passing in preparation for Saturday's meeting with UCLA.

Beathard, who was injured recently, seemed to be back in top form as he went through a lengthy passing drill Tuesday, throwing to his ends and halfbacks.

SHARPEN DEFENSE
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The UCLA Bruins again worked to sharpen their defense today as they prepared to meet the University of Southern California Saturday in the Coliseum.

In Tuesday's defensive workout, linebacker John LoCurto and guard Russ Banducci drew special praise from coach Bill Barnes.

Clowns Also Wood Rates Oregon Favorite Over OSU COS Students Set

The Harlem Clowns cracked jokes, emptied the contents of a woman's purse on the floor, borrowed the Mail Tribune photographer's camera—and played a little basketball too—in an exhibition before 700 fans at Hedrick Junior High last night.

The touring aggregation took on John Wheeler Logging. The score, in case anyone is interested, was 62-42. The Wheeler men got off to a slow start but put on a pretty good show themselves in the latter part of the game.

It was 20:5 after the first quarter, and 23:13 at the half. But Wheeler closed the gap to 44-31 after the third period.

The Clowns employed some of the standard antics originally made famous by the Harlem Globetrotters. The Clowns themselves are in their 29th season, however, and they had a few tricks of their own.

The visitors seemed to have a below average night on many of their fancy shots, and the Wheeler aggregation stole the ball away several times, but in the light-hearted spirit of the occasion, no one seemed to mind.

FASHWAY TO PLAY
PORTLAND (UPI) — Veteran center Gordon Fashway will be in uniform tonight when the Portland Buckaroos play host to the Vancouver Canucks in a Western Hockey League game.

Fashway, who retired after last season and was given a position as chief scout for the Buckaroos, will replace left winger Tom McCarthy. McCarthy was called to Toronto because of the death of his father.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It's the big game week from border to border on the Pacific slope. And if you think your team is a cinch because it has a better record, just start looking at the past. When it's "big game week," anything can happen.

So keeping that in mind, all these games are by a one-point choice:

Washington (5-4) over Washington State (3-5-1)—The Huskies apparently kissed off UCLA and they should bounce back to whip the Cougars. But quarterback Bill Douglas and fullback Junior Coffey will have to be at their best to stop Washington State. Coach Jim Sutherland's late-season quarterbacking find, Dale Ford, looked like Y. A. Tittle against Stanford last week.

He completed half a dozen passes, at least with two or three men hanging around his neck. The Huskies need this one to get to the Rose Bowl.

Southern California (4-4-1) over UCLA (3-7)—There is some belief that the Bruins shot their bolt when they knocked over Washington. The Trojans now know they can make it to the Rose Bowl. UCLA should have trouble containing Mike Garrett and Willie Brown. But who knows?

California (4-4-1) over Stanford (2-7)—Golden Bears have their most explosive offensive in a decade and if Craig Morton is on his stick could turn it into a rout. On the other hand, if Stanford goes back to the blocking and tackling it showed in disposing of Notre Dame, it could be a push-over the other way.

Oregon (6-3) over Oregon State (5-4)—Webfoots running healthy now with halfback Mel Renfro and quarterback Bob Berry at their peaks. But Ducks will still have to cover the pass-catch combination of Beaver quarterback Gordon Queen to end Verne Burke.

San Diego State (7-1) over San Francisco State (6-2-1)—This brings the co-champion of the CCAA against the co-winners of the Far Western Conference. The CCAA is just a wee bit tougher overall.

San Jose State (4-5) over University of Pacific (1-8)—The Spartans should get their first breather of the season, just when the season is ending.

Also: Abilene Christian over Fresno State, Arizona State over Idaho, Claremont-Mudd over Cal Tech, and Whittier over Redlands.

Western Pros: Green Bay Packers over San Francisco Forty Niners; Oakland Raiders over Denver Broncos; San Diego Chargers over Houston Oilers; Baltimore Colts over Los Angeles Rams.

NO ENOUGH TIME
SEATTLE (UPI) — George Chermers, adviser to Eddie Cotton, No. 1 ranked light-heavyweight contender, said Tuesday he turned down a bout with Allan Thomas in New York next Friday because Cotton "couldn't accept the fight on such short notice."

Forty Niners Probably Will Oppose Starr

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (UPI)—The San Francisco Forty Niners probably will have to face Green Bay's Bart Starr Sunday at Milwaukee.

Word that the classy Packer quarterback had recovered from his head injury enough for at least part-time duty was received from the Midwest Tuesday.

The Forty Niners then ran through a light workout and watched films of last Sunday's 48-14 clobbering at the hands of the New York Giants.

Coach Jack Christiansen said the team made more mistakes than in any recent game, but he also praised the Giants for being able to take advantage of those mistakes.

Poor Play
He mentioned poor play by the San Francisco offensive line, offensive backfield, defensive team, and quarterback Lamar McHan, or in other words, the whole team.

"We were in trouble right away," he recalled sadly. "J.D. Smith fumbled and then Matt Hazeltine and Elbert Kimbrough dropped interceptions. Without those, we'd have been in better shape."

Christiansen said he could not be too hard on Hazeltine and Kimbrough, however, because he recalled that the same thing had happened to him when he was a Detroit Lion defensive back and 95,000 fans were
