Barton Control on Party Challenged

SALEM (UPI)—House Speaker Clarence Barton's control over his Democratic party majority in the House was challenged by Republican Rep. Shirley Field Tuesday in a sharp exchange of insults on the House floor.

The exchange took place during a debate on a resolution that would have asked Congress to prevent Bonneville Power company from raising its rates.

The resolution was sponsored by Democratic Rep. Jake Bennett.

Miss Field successfully moved to return the measure to the House Rules committee. She called it irrelevant to Oregon's fiscal crisis, and not a proper matter to come before the special session.

As she made her motion, Miss Field demanded of Barton, "Are you in control of your party in this House?"

"I consider that question impertinent," Barton retorted.

Miss Field said Barton himself had urged that the session be limited to fiscal matters.

Later, Barton gaveled Miss Field down when she started to say "some of us take our oaths of office . . ."

Barton told her she could speak only if she would be "restrained by rules of common courtesy" and avoid any allusions to the conduct of members—a normal policy.

"I expect the rules of common courtesy to be mutually applied," she replied.
