

News About Today's Woman

Home . . . Career . . . Leisure . . . Arts

Fresh Vegetables Make Gay Holiday Decorations

Gay, colorful fresh vegetables may be made into novel decorations for the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Chili peppers can be strung together and used as a garland around the kitchen door, or as a background to accent a Madonna or ornament of Mexico. Brussels sprouts of uniform size may be strung too, and can be intertwined with red peppers for contrast in shape and color.

Artichokes also make interesting arrangements. Use a prong-type candleholder, holding a large artichoke left in its natural state or sprayed with silver, gold or copper. Three, small-to-medium sized artichokes can be used instead of one if the prong will accommodate the height.

Elegant centerpieces for the holidays dining table can be created with royal purple eggplant, snow white cauliflower, autumn-orange acorn squash, and "bouquets" of radishes among Golden Delicious apples, red grapes, pears and oranges.

Artichoke Lilies

Choose fresh, well-shaped artichokes to make dried artichoke lilies. Place them in a kettle of boiling water deep enough to cover them. Turn off heat and allow to stand for 10 minutes. Remove from hot water, drain thoroughly and cool.

Trim the stems to about three-fourth inch length. Insert four lengths of florists' wire through the lowest petals at the base of the stem. Arrange wires in star fashion, then pull them together and twist them into a stem.

Beginning with the lower petals, carefully roll each petal back from the center stem, using the thumb under the petal and forefingers on top. As you progress to the center, the artichoke will take on the appearance of a large lily.

Dry the blossoms with a mixture of two parts of borax to 10 parts of white cornmeal. Carefully sift this mixture between the petals and over the flower, completely covering it in a bowl or box. Drying will require one to three weeks.

Sis-Q Council To Hold Dance

Ruth Stillion, well-known square dance caller from Arcata, Calif., will call for a dance to be sponsored Saturday, November 23, by the Rogue Sis-Q Area Square Dance Council.

The dance will be held at the Merlin Grange Hall, Merlin, Ore., beginning at 8:30 p.m. Coffee will be served, but no other refreshments is stated.

Mrs. Stillion was a featured caller for the Far Western Square Dance convention held in Eugene last August and makes recordings for the Windsor company. She is said to be the first and only woman to make square dance records.

A special meeting of the Oregon State Festival committee of square dancers will be held Sunday, November 24, at 2 p.m. at the Josephine County Fairgrounds Pavilion. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Mrs. Stillion was a featured caller for the Far Western Square Dance convention held in Eugene last August and makes recordings for the Windsor company. She is said to be the first and only woman to make square dance records.

Ruth Stillion, Arcata, Calif., well-known square dance caller, will call for a dance to be held at Merlin Grange Hall Saturday, November 23. Mrs. Stillion makes records for the Windsor company.

Elections Planned By Bridge Club

The annual election of officers will be held when Medford Duplicate Bridge Club meets Tuesday, November 26, at Girls Community Club. A catered dinner is planned for 6 p.m. and reservations must be made for this. Reservations are not necessary for the game to follow, it is stated. Play will be for master points.

A number of local bridge fans plan to be in Grants Pass Sunday, November 24, for a team-of-four tournament sponsored by Grants Pass Duplicate Bridge Club.

Twelve tables of players took part in last Tuesday's game. North-south winners were Mrs. Dolph Phipps and Mrs. Leland Clark, first, 140½; George Polski and John Shortridge, second, 146; Mrs. F. R. Baker and Millard Allen, third, 145; Mrs. John Dougherty and Ray Wise, fourth, 141½.

Winning east-west were Mrs. Jack Mitchell and Col. D. H. Barber, first, 164½; James Morgan and Bert Martin, second, 154; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Tyrrell, third, 153½; Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. E. L. Miller, fourth, 143 points.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

Eugene Concert Bus Reservations Due Saturday

Members of Jackson County Civic Music Association were reminded today that reservations for the Eugene concert of the London Royal Philharmonic Orchestra must be made no later than Saturday, November 23. The concert will be given Monday, November 25, in McArthur Court on the University of Oregon campus.

The bus will leave from the Greyhound depot at 3 p.m. Monday. The group will have dinner at The Village Green, attend the concert, and return that night.

Reservations are being made with Mrs. Otto Frohnmayer, dial 772-9291. Members of the Jackson County Association are privileged to attend Eugene Civic Music Association concerts on their local membership cards without extra charge.

Lodge Meeting And Card Party Slated Tonight

Past chiefs will preside over a meeting of Westonka Council, Degree of Pochontas, to be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Redman hall on Apple street.

Taking the chairs for the evening will be Mrs. Floyd Lewis, Pochontas; Mrs. Roy Thompson, Wenonah; Mrs. Charles Suich, prophetess; Charles Doms, Powhatan.

A card party will follow the lodge session. Refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Thompson and Mrs. Leo Mitchell.

Team Teaching Is Explained At Open House

Team teaching was explained during the open house held by Wilson School and the Parent-Teacher Association in observance of National Education Week. Theme of the observance was "Our Community and Education."

William Ruck, director of the Oregon program and the speaker, was introduced by Mrs. Helen Read, program chairman. Mr. Ruck stated that the Medford schools now have 21 intern teachers. He explained the use of team teaching and how it makes more effective use of the teacher's talent. Mr. Ruck believes that teachers must challenge students to the depths of their capacity.

Hoover and Wilson schools are the only two elementary schools with this type of teaching; the teachers must have special training to make the plan successful, Mr. Ruck said.

Musical entertainment was furnished by the Wilson chorus, directed by Mrs. Barbara Doolen. The Choralettes, a singing group chosen from the fifth and sixth graders, sang.

Representatives from Cub Scouts, Bluebirds, Brownies, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, all students from Wilson school and under the direction of Mrs. Russell De Forrest, gave the flag presentation. Parents were urged to volunteer their services for leadership in any of these groups.

Robert Baccus, school principal, stated that the students should be in the new classrooms by the first of January as the masonry, heating, and roofing are now complete.

Mrs. Jerome Smith and Mrs. Floyd Hostetter were in charge of the social hour which was held in the cafeteria. The sixth grade room mothers and the executive board provided the refreshments.

CASUAL HATS POPULAR

NEW YORK (UPI) — Now women can have the last laugh after enduring bars from hubby about crazy hats worn by damsels.

Men now have a smorgasbord of hat styles from which to choose—and some might make females snicker. The American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear reports that shorter working hours and increased leisure time have created more of a demand for casual headwear for the many outdoor activities pursued by the average male. Less than five years ago, about 10 per cent of the hats made by America's leading hat manufacturers were for casual wear. This winter one out of every four hats sold will be casual.

Shown here in a scene from "Inherit the Wind", now playing at Medford High School, are Mike McDonald in the role of Bertram Cates, and Rachel Brown, cast as Donna Budge. The play opened last night in the school auditorium and continues tonight and Saturday. Tickets are on sale at the box office. The production is sponsored by the Thespian Society and directed by Lenore Zapell of the school faculty. "Inherit the Wind" has as its theme the right for freedom of thought.

Skin Care Must Begin Early

By Gay Pauley

NEW YORK (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

Martinelli Honored

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Metropolitan Opera celebrated the golden anniversary of Giovanni Martinelli's debut Wednesday night by giving one of its rare gala performances for the still-lively singer, now nearing 80.

The worlds of music and society filled the famed opera house to hear the great singers of today perform scenes from operas in which the great dramatic tenor of the past had starred. Martinelli sat in the Diamond Horseshoe's center box, which was draped with American and Italian flags, and received a standing ovation from the audience at the first intermission.

The beloved tenor, who retired in 1948, graced the Met's stage again after the second intermission to receive a memorial volume from the Metropolitan Opera Association. His rosy face glowed beneath a halo of white curls and he looked for all the world like an emperor on a Roman coin.

"I feel so unworthy," he said in English spiced with an Italian accent. "I once collapsed on this stage and I feel near to collapsing tonight. Two things fill my heart—gratitude and love."

Hospital Robes Are Project of Bureau Women

MONTAGUE — Making robes for the senior citizens at the Siskiyou County Hospital was the project begun at the November meeting of the Shasta Valley Farm Bureau Women. They met at the home of their president, Mrs. George Williams, III, on the Montague-Grenada Road.

Mrs. Williams conducted a business session. Plans for a fair booth were discussed, as were a number of resolutions of statewide interest.

Bright warm colors in a soft cotton flannel were the materials used in the six robes which were cut out and sewing begun by the ten women attending. By taking them home the women expect to have these robes completed in time for the holidays, with perhaps more to be undertaken later.

Mrs. Williams, assisted by her daughter, Susan, served refreshments.

Mrs. Rice plans to entertain the group at her home on December 16.

Butte Falls Pair Home From North

BUTTE FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Moore have returned to their home here after a four-day trip to Portland and to Richland and Pasco, Wash. In Richland the Moores were guests of Mrs. Moore's brother, Clyde Rose, and in Pasco they visited another brother, Stewart Rose.

En route home they were met in Canyonville by two additional brothers of Mrs. Moore, Albert Rose, Portland, and George Rose, North Plains, Ore., and the couples lunched together. The two men had been in Medford to spend some time with Mr. and Mrs. Tris Norton and Mrs. Grace Guyette and daughter, Diane, and with relatives in Ashland. Mrs. Guyette and Mrs. Norton are daughters of the Moores.

Events Are Announced By Bethel

CENTRAL POINT — Several coming events for Bethel 38, International Order of Job's Daughters members were announced by the honored queen, Miss Sue Kelley, during the November 19 Bethel meeting in Central Point Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Luther D. Day, guardian opened the meeting with Francis Thompson, associate guardian. Mrs. John Elhart, past grand guardian and Mrs. Glenn Kelley, past guardian of the Bethel, were honored.

Announced events are a food sale in Central Point November 23 to benefit the philanthropic fund; a style show, Saturday, December 7 sponsored by Town and Country Shop, White City, the location of the show and luncheon to be announced; Southern Oregon Council luncheon Sunday, December 1 at 1:30 p.m., in North's Chuck Wagon Restaurant to which all line officers are invited; "Go to Church Sunday" December 8 in First Presbyterian Church, Central Point.

A group from the Bethel also planned to attend Friendship Night observances in Medford and Shady Cove, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Miss Sheila Beasley reported on a visitation to Bethel 13, Grants Pass and Miss Mary Pinkham reported on a fund raising project when the group catered for the recent First National Bank open house.

Miss Lona Marie Woody, who transferred from Bethel 336, Citrus Heights, Calif., was introduced by her mother, Mrs. Walter L. Woody, Princess Way, Central Point.

The decoration committee included the Misses Carol Lamb and Marcia Clark. Refreshments were served by the Misses Jo Anne Hamilton and Linda Snyder. A horn of plenty decorated the refreshment counter.

At the previous meeting of the Bethel Nevita Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star members gave their opening and closing ceremonies. Participating were the Mesdames Ralph Johnson, Merrill Harsh, Loyel Kelley, Luther Day, Virgil Goff, Paul Snook, Russell Fair, C. F. McKibbin, Travis Littlefield, Lewis Kilbourne, Aubrey Taylor, Howard Short, Walter Turnquist and the Messrs J. Edward Vincent and Russell Fair.

Gifts and favors were exchanged between Miss Kelley, the honored queen, and the worthy matron and patron. The Bethel presented gavel and in return received a bank to be used for birthday donations. Mrs. Day made the original donation to the new bank.

The Misses Jeri Gardner and Pam Squire had decorated the hall in an autumn theme. Serving refreshments were the Misses Karyn Jantzer, Mary Pinkham and Cherissi and Clerissi Offutt.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

SHOWER GIVEN IN WILDERVILLE — A shower for Mrs. Eldon McCann was held at the home of Mrs. James Lindsay, 5145 Fish Hatchery Road, November 16. Co-hostess was Mrs. Don Bagwell.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Proper skin care must begin early in life, if the potential wrinkles of the future are to be avoided.

It is easier to prevent than to iron out, says Dr. Irwin I. Lubowe, a practicing dermatologist in New York, known in medical circles for his research in the care and treatment of the skin and hair.

The woman in her late 40's or 50's who arrives at the doctor's office with the announcement, "I'm beginning to wrinkle and I think it's time to do something about it!" is wrong on two counts, says the physician.

One, she isn't just beginning to wrinkle. The process has been going on for 20 years or more.

Two, the best time to do something about it has already passed.

"Care of skin throughout earlier life would have been far more satisfactory than anything I can do to help her now," says the dermatologist.

But don't despair, ladies. The physician adds there are aids for the aging skin—and he discusses them at length in a book just published, called "New Hope For Your Skin" (Dutton).

He mentions gentle massage, diet, cosmetics which disguise various types of surgery including plastic.

Of hormone creams, the physician says, "effective hormone creams are potent and should be used only under the supervision of a physician if continued for a long time. Certain hormone creams are available at cosmetic counters without prescription, but these contain hormones in such small quantities that they can't do any harm when used improperly. By the same token, the hormones aren't present in sufficient quantity in these creams to produce any unusually good results."

Lubowe mentions that many skin specialists hold that the sun, the action of its ultraviolet rays on the skin over the years is a major factor, perhaps the only factor, in the aging process.

But he adds, "others, myself included, feel that aging is an irreversible process basic to the entire body and that the skin merely shares in the reduced function incident to aging of hormone-secreting glands, the circulatory system, the fatty fibers in the subdermis and other body tissues known to be important to the welfare of the skin."

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You think your birthday is special? Close to nine million other people share it with you, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Washington, D. C.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "The ABC's of Beauty" makes the point that good physical and mental health are the basis of glowing good looks.

Barbara Marco, author of the encyclopedia of beauty, has included subjects ranging from aches to allergies, from bathing to bolls, and from youth to age. She spent eight years gathering material for her paperback compendium. (McFadden).

SHOP TONIGHT TILL 9

La Pointe's

IT'S A WONDERFUL STORE

Orlon acrylic pile robe, acetate tricot lining, Peris, deep blue, aqua or pink. Petite, S, M, L. 18.00

Amel tricot and nylon fleece robe. Raspberry, azure blue or turquoise. 10-20 15.00

Quilted nylon tricot robe with acetate tricot lining, Estron acetate interlining. Pink, blue, yellow or white. 10-20 13.00

LAST DAY To Join Our IDANWASCCC CLUB!

Nothing to buy! No dues to pay! Just stop in our store, drive a nail with a Syracuse CAREFREE cup, register for the free prize and you are a member of our

I-Drove-A-Nail-With-A-Syracuse-CAREFREE-China-Cup Club!

FREE! To some lucky nail driver...

A 16-piece starter set of Syracuse CAREFREE China in the pattern of your choice.

Hurry! Contest Ends November 23rd

Swem's
217 E. MAIN
Medford, Oregon

These are the robes that make the most of every leisure hour!

Fluffy robes in joyous colors that will make you want to hurry home . . . to be this comfy and this pretty! By Lougees.

ZALES YOUR SUNBEAM HEADQUARTERS

For faster, closer, more gentle feminine grooming

Lady Sunbeam

ELECTRIC SHAVER with Built-in Light

Exclusive built-in light lets