

ROUTE OUTLINED—The trip from the state line to Crescent City, already speeded up by the completion of the Randolph Collier Tunnel, will be improved some more when this stretch of freeway is constructed. The map above outlines the State of California's plans to improve U.S. 101 and 199 between Crescent City and Gasquet.

California Eyes Freeway On Portion Of U. S. 199

The California Highway Commission has taken under consideration the adoption of a freeway routing for 16.2 miles of U.S. Highways 101 and 199 between Crescent City and Gasquet in Del Norte County, one designed to preserve the scenic beauty of the Redwoods and the Smith River Canyon. State Highway Engineer J. C. Womack has recommended a route extending from 0.3 mile north of Northcrest Drive to 1.4 miles south of Gasquet Post Office which has been endorsed by the State Division of Beaches and Parks and the U.S. Forest Service in connection with its effect on Jedediah Smith State Park and the Six Rivers National Forest, respectively. The recommended route runs generally parallel and slightly to the north of the existing highway between Northcrest Drive and Walker Road, then swings to the north to cross the Smith River about three-quarters of a mile north of the existing route. It then continues along the north bank of the river, but slightly east of South Fork Road

Classroom Teachers Group Hears Talks On Team Technique

The team teaching program in the English department at Medford High School was the subject of discussion at the November dinner meeting of the Jackson County Classroom Teachers Association. A panel of four Medford High teachers discussed the topic at the meeting, held Nov. 18 at Wilson Elementary School in Medford. James Backen, head of the English department of Medford High School, acted as moderator and outlined the initiation of the present team teaching program. He stressed the need for thorough preparation in team teaching and the continual evaluation of the program.

Function Explained Mrs. Alyda Gilkey, first speaker, gave the audience an explanation of the function of the English teaching team. She used an overhead projector to illustrate outlines, charts, examples of plans and groupings of students, and presented objectives of the team planning. Charles Nevi, second speaker, listed some of the difficulties encountered in the program and told ways in which the team is attempting to meet the problems involved. Mrs. Thelda Bevens concluded the panel discussion by presenting the advantages observed in using the team teaching methods. The positive benefits were noted from both the standpoint of student and teacher.

Drop in Temperature Blamed for Petty Theft MOUNT SHASTA — A sudden drop in temperature is thought to have been a contributing factor in a petty theft in Mount Shasta last week and a longer stay than planned in Siskiyou County by two visitors. These were James Calvin and Julian Ray Sivley, of Los Angeles, and Colorado Springs, respectively. Tuesday morning when the brothers awoke to resume their travel, they discovered snow all over everything and getting deeper by the minute. Each added a blanket to his baggage — then checked out. They went south where they probably wouldn't have needed the blankets, anyway. But owners of the motel, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Priddy, did. Their motel was filled each night with guests from the Ski Bowl who probably still shivered after going to bed. The thieves left their car license number and other information on the register, and so the long arm of the law brought them back before they got far, and Judge John Kinstry wrote a chapter in their travelogue.

Entertainment Entertainment for the evening was provided by a group of fifth and sixth grade students from the Jackson Elementary School chorus under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Nesheim. The group sang several numbers, and concluded their program with a choral arrangement of "Come Ye Thankful People, Come" while colored slides of the Thanksgiving story were being shown. Mrs. Barney Nunley accompanied the group. The committee in charge of table and room decorations was Mrs. Marjorie Shelton, Mrs. Maxine Mee, and Miss Wilma Bench. The next dinner meeting for the Jackson County Classroom Teachers Association will be held at the Ashland Junior High School on February 17. The executive council meeting is scheduled for January 14.

Christmas Decor Contest Planned In Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE — A contest to select the best Christmas decorations in the city of Jacksonville will be sponsored this season by the Jacksonville Boosters Club and cooperating merchants.

One prize will be given for the best commercial entry, and three prizes for residential entries. First prize in the latter category will be $25, second prize $15 and third prize a turkey.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the public library. After they are filled out they may be returned to the library or mailed to P. O. Box 609. Deadline for entries is Dec. 14.

Judging will be done between Dec. 16 and 20. Winners will be announced Dec. 21.

Everyone in Jacksonville is eligible to enter except officers of the Boosters Club (Robertson Collins, Don Wendt, George McUne and Helen Roberts).

The cost of materials used, or the sheer number of lights used, will not be considered in judging entries, it was noted.

Emphasis will be placed on ingenuity, appropriateness, enhancement of building and grounds, and contribution to community pride.

Judging will be done from the street. Overall effect from the street will be considered, although it is realized by the club that certain materials, lights or decorations may be inside the building.
