SIX KILLED IN VENEZUELA BUS CRASH
MARACAY, Venezuela (UPI)—Two buses collided on the highway west of here late Monday night, killing six persons and injuring 17, it was reported today.

STEINBECK, WIFE ARRIVE IN VIENNA
VIENNA, Austria (UPI)—Novelist John Steinbeck and his wife arrived here Monday following a tour of the Soviet Union and Poland that lasted more than five weeks. They plan to leave Saturday for Budapest and Prague.

SOCIALISTS AGAIN DELAY COALITION RATIFICATION
ROME (UPI)—The strife-torn Socialist party today postponed ratification of a proposed new "center-left" government coalition for a third time pending frantic negotiations to avert a split.

Sources within the party indicated sharp dissension had flared, not only between supporters of party leader Pietro Nenni and a strong pro-Communist wing, but inside each of these factions.

CAMBODIA, RED CHINA SIGN AIRLINE AGREEMENT
TOKYO (UPI)—Cambodia, which renounced all United States aid, has signed an airlines service agreement with Communist China, according to a Peking broadcast by the official New China News Agency.

The agreement will give Chinese aircraft direct access to central Cambodia, which has a key location in troubled Southeast Asia, directly south of Laos between Thailand and Viet Nam.

Mrs. Kennedy Plans Thanksgiving With Husband's Family

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy was reported today to be planning to go to Cape Cod to spend a Thanksgiving holiday with the family of her slain husband.

Mrs. Kennedy's plans for moving from the White House have not been announced, and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, the new First Lady, said today she will not consider moving into the executive mansion until it suits Mrs. Kennedy's convenience.

"I wish to heaven I could serve Mrs. Kennedy's happiness," the new President's wife said. "I can at least serve her convenience. It is only when the last chore she wishes to do is done that I will contemplate moving."

Mrs. Kennedy apparently plans to move quickly, however. Several moving vans pulled into the south driveway of the White House Monday night and more came this morning. Members of the staff said the former first lady was packing with all possible speed.

Mrs. Kennedy stayed at the White House Monday night after her husband was buried at Arlington National Cemetery. Eight hours after the last rites she returned to the grave to leave a sprig of flowers and to gaze silently and prayerfully for several minutes.

NIGHT TONGUE-BITING
Q. What causes a girl (age 22) to bite her tongue at night?
A. Tongue-biting is a form of habit activity. It often occurs at night and the person is not always aware of its occurrence. Treatment is rather unsatisfactory. However, an attempt should be made to determine factors which may be responsible for increased tension. If the tongue is frequently injured by the teeth, a dentist can devise a protective mouthpiece.

OBESITY AND SINGERS
Q. Is it true that some degree of obesity is necessary in order to acquire a strong singing voice?
A. No. In fact, excess weight may actually interfere with the powerful movements of abdominal respiration that are necessary for proper "breath support."

Dallas Police Criticized for Closing Probe

LONDON (UPI)—Newspapers in both the Communist and non-Communist world asked today about the "forest of question marks" left by the assassination of President Kennedy and the slaying of his accused killer, Lee H. Oswald.

The term was used by the newspaper Die Welt in Hamburg, West Germany, which said "there is a feeling of shame that the law, which should explore the facts, was prevented from doing so. Political mists which also gathered should have been cleared. Now they thicken to poisonous clouds."

Criticism of the Dallas police was general, particularly for the announcement that the investigation into the President's murder was closed with the death of Oswald. Newspapers voiced the suspicion that there remained much of importance still unknown in the case.

There was much speculation about a plot or an accomplice for Oswald. One Vienna newspaper, Arbeiter-Zeitung, reported without confirmation that Oswald had been seen in the night club owned by his killer, Jack Ruby, only three days before the President's death.

The London Daily Mail reported "whispers" that "Oswald was a tool who was used and then liquidated." London's Daily Sketch doubted he could have carried out the killing without an accomplice and suggested the either right-wing extremists or Communist nations had a hand in it.

Britain's Guardian said jokes about Texas "will never again seem funny. The trouble with the image of the Texas is the six-shooter at the waist."

The Abendpost of Frankfurt, Germany, charged that Ruby, "the dubious strip-tease boss, well-known to police, was not stopped when he approached Lee Oswald as though to shake his hand. Our photos show the guard did not even react when the murderer had already pulled his gun."

West Berlin's Morgenpost quoted a State Department official as having said, "It cannot be ruled out that Ruby and Oswald belonged to an assassin's ring. It is possible that Ruby silenced Oswald to cover the men behind the plot."

Victim of Conspiracy?
The Telegraph, another West Berlin newspaper, said Oswald was shot "under the eyes of police who probably were not able to block the deed. Perhaps they did not want to."

"Was Kennedy a victim of an insidious act or of a conspiracy?" asked La Suisse of Geneva, Switzerland.

East Germany's Communist newspapers said again that extreme rightists assassinated Kennedy and then killed Oswald to cover up their tracks. As a result, they said, "international contempt is growing for a nation that boasts it is 'the freest and most democratic in the world.'"

WEEPS AT GRAVE — Mrs. Marina Oswald, widow of the accused assassin of President Kennedy, weeps as she views the body of her husband. She is holding her daughter, June. Oswald was killed while being transferred from city to county jail in Dallas, Tex. Jack Ruby, a nightclub operator, has been charged with killing Oswald. (UPI)

Oswald's Widow Faces Future With Two Children, No Money

DALLAS (UPI)—Mrs. Marina Nicholovna Oswald faced the future today with two tiny children, no money, a stigma on her name and one certain wish. She does not want to go back to her native Russia.

The 23-year-old widow's constant companions were Secret Service agents. Friends said two magazine correspondents also were with her and she might be selling her life story. There had been private offers of donations. But other than that, they said, she has no funds.

Since her 24-year-old husband was arrested as the assassin of President Kennedy, Mrs. Oswald has appeared briefly at the edges of the drama. She came and went at the police headquarters, always with her two-year-old baby June Lee and Marina Rachel, the five-week-old baby born at Parkland Memorial Hospital — where the President and her husband died of their wounds. Mrs. Oswald, whose English is limited to a few simple words, is one of three women widowed by the assassination.

Unlike Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. J. D. Tippitt, wife of the slain Dallas policeman, Mrs. Oswald was not permitted to see her husband's body until it was brought to the cemetery. There the cheap coffin was briefly opened. She and Oswald's mother Marguerite, a 56-year-old practical nurse in Fort Worth, kissed the corpse.

The elder Mrs. Oswald sobbed and patted and soothed the whimpering infant during the funeral. While Marina kissed her husband, her brother-in-law Robert L. Oswald of Denton, Tex., held June Lee. Marina Oswald received sympathy from many Mrs. Ruth Paine, who sheltered her and the children in Irving, Tex., said she was "gratified" by the number of people who called to offer donations to the widow.

"I understand there are people in the Chicago area who are talking of helping her, too," Mrs. Paine said.

Mrs. Paine said Mrs. Oswald probably had been encouraged to sell her story by her mother-in-law. Mrs. Paine said neither Mrs. Oswald nor her mother-in-law has any means of livelihood.

Marina was a pharmacist in Russia, Mrs. Paine said. "But she speaks only a few words of English. She would take any kind of job but fears that resentment over her husband might keep people from hiring her."

Mrs. Paine said Mrs. Oswald's mother-in-law was afraid she might have trouble finding a job.

"She's (Marina) a very good mother, a thoughtful person and the kind of woman who does not want to be dependent or beholden to anyone," Mrs. Paine said.

"For that reason, I wonder if she would accept outright charity," Mrs. Paine said.

She said Mrs. Oswald was welcome to return and live with her anytime.

Neighbors who lived near the Oswalds in New Orleans last summer said Oswald was unpleasant but she was "nice" and "friendly."

Mrs. Oswald and her children had lived with Mrs. Paine since last September.

Stock Market Opens On Heavy Trading; Dow Jones Up 10.47

NEW YORK (UPI)—The stock market soared today in the heaviest first-hour trading in more than 30 years following a shutdown in tribute to the late President Kennedy.

Dow-Jones industrial average down 21.16 at the market's premature close Friday, was up 10.47 at the end of the first hour. Trading during the first 60 minutes amounted to 2,040,000 shares—heaviest since the 2,102,000 shares traded on June 3, 1933.

Today was the fifth highest first-hour trading in history. Buy Orders Credited Wall Street attributed the early rise, stemming from an overwhelming accumulation of buy orders during the three days since last week's closing session, to two factors.

The first was the three-day hiatus in which investors had a chance to reflect on the implications of the President's death. The other, according to New York Stock Exchange President Keith Funston, was the announcement by the exchange of a plan to protect customers of Ira Haupt & Company.

The Haupt firm was suspended from trading last week after it was caught in a commodity market margin squeeze.

The plan, contingent upon an absence of legal proceedings against the firm, called upon the exchange to make available up to $12 million, to be administered by a liquidator, and for deferment by a banking

Terrorists Blast Venezuela Lines

PUERTO LA CRUZ, Venezuela (UPI)—Terrorists dynamited a cluster of six U.S.-owned oil and gas pipelines near this northeastern port before dawn Monday, starting a fire that raged all morning, it was reported today.

The wrecked pipelines included three operated by the Mene Grande Oil Company, a Standard-Gulf subsidiary; two belonging to the Mobil Oil Company and a natural gas line operated by a Gulf subsidiary.

A Mene Grande spokesman said the act of sabotage temporarily halted oil and gas shipments through the blasted lines but did not affect the company's operations or its export shipments.

In the "oil capital" of Maracaibo, Gov. Luis Vera Gomez of Zulia State announced the arrest of "several" extreme leftist leaders as an apparent pre-emption against attempts to disrupt Sunday's presidential election.

Vera said those under arrest included Armando Faria Rincon, known in leftist circles as "Major David," and a number of leftists caught with explosives or subversive propaganda in their possession.

Castro - Communist terrorists have been trying to sabotage the election because parties of the extreme left were not allowed to nominate candidates.

Goldmark Libel Hearing Resumes

OKANOGAN, Wash. (UPI)—Trial of the $225,000 John Goldmark libel suit resumed in Okanogan County Superior Court today after being in recess since President Kennedy was shot Friday morning.

Testifying when the court took its usual mid-morning recess yesterday was Mrs. Edna Ringer, New York City, sister of Mrs. John Goldmark.

Goldmark and his wife, Sally, seek damages for statements made during the 1962 primary election campaign which they claim linked them to communism.

Trial of the suit opened Nov. 4 and is expected to continue into next year. Today was the only day of court scheduled this week because of the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Johnson To Push For Tax Reduction

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has pledged every effort to gain congressional passage of the biggest tax cut in history.

The $11 billion tax reduction bill, passed by the House Sept. 25, is stalled in the Senate Finance Committee—almost certainly until next year.

But in a moving, 30-minute speech to 35 governors Monday night, Johnson said it was his firm intention to seek action on most of President Kennedy's domestic programs, including the big tax cut bill and civil rights legislation.

According to reports of the meeting, the new Chief Executive indicated that the tax program would occupy a prominent place in his speech to a joint session of Congress Wednesday.

At the very minimum, Senate observers expect Johnson to urge the tax-writing panel to catch up on the few days it has lost and finish public hearings on the "new frontier" bill before Congress quits this year.

"He's a get-it-done sort of fellow," said Sen. Russell B. Long, La., who holds a key spot as second-ranking Democrat on the finance group.

"I expect Johnson to lay an ambitious program before Congress Wednesday. I suppose he will want the Kennedy program passed. My guess is that he is going to keep us here and ask us to work."

Portland Senator Gets Telephone Threat

PORTLAND (UPI)—Sheriff Donald E. Clark said today State Sen. Ted Hallock, D-Portland, was given permission to carry a weapon after a telephone threat.

Hallock said a man called Walter Daggett, his campaign manager, referred to recent events in Dallas, Tex., and added, "... you tell Hallock that we have him on a list."
