

Nursing Group Holds Luncheon

The 1963-64 class of Southern Oregon School of Practical Nursing held a potluck luncheon in the cafeteria at the Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital November 26. The table decorations, in autumn motif, were arranged by Mrs. Pamela Bloxom. All class members assisted in the preparations for the event. Special guests were Miss Voda Brower and Mrs. Bertha Morrill.

Earlier social events include a coffee and an observance of the birthdays of Mrs. Maydene Schwilert and Mrs. Bloxom.

SILVER SPRINGS, Md. (UPI)—If a dress has underarm perspiration shields, remove them before you have it drycleaned, advises the National Institute of Drycleaning. Many such shields contain rubber which will deteriorate in drycleaning solvent. This causes release of a yellowish color that makes a stubborn stain.

Hospital Staff Member Speaks On Insurance

The part insurance plays in the operation of hospitals was the subject for Mrs. Phoebe Burgoyne of the Rogue Valley Memorial Hospital administrative offices, when she spoke recently to Insurance Women of Jackson County.

The speaker pointed out that 70 per cent of hospital charges are paid by some form of insurance.

Mrs. Alvin Tregoning, wife of the manager of the Seattle offices of Colonial Insurance Company, was a guest.

Mrs. Susan Walsh, president, presided and introduced two new members, Miss Patricia King of Johnston Claims Service and Miss Colleen Borreson of Jackson County Savings and Loan Association.

The next meeting is announced for Tuesday, December 10 at 7 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Ralph Swalling, 2332 Thorn Oak Drive, off North Ross Lane. Each member is to take a gift for a child, marked as to sex and age to which it is suited. The gifts will be given to Medford firemen for distribution at Christmas time.

Birthday Observed At Recent Party

Robbie Hill observed his fourth birthday at a recent party given for him by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Hill, 4821 South Pacific Highway.

Games were played and prizes won by Lorie Witt, Dawn Goodman and Joy Pond. Sixteen guests attended.

DREAM HOUSE

WASHINGTON (UPI)—What kind of a house do you want after you're married? That question was put to 2,000 coeds from Oregon State College, Pennsylvania State University and the universities of Oregon, Tennessee and Minnesota.

The dream house, as reported by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was a modern split-level or ranch type with three bedrooms, one bath, one powder room, ample dining space. The price the coeds expect to pay: about $17,000.

American Field Service Presented Group Award

The Lane Bryant annual group award of $1,000 for volunteer service to the community performed during 1962 this year was awarded to the American Field Service organization, Mrs. Robert Sleeter, president of the local AFS committee has announced.

The award was announced November 21 at a luncheon in the Plaza Hotel in New York City and was accepted for the organization by Stephen Galatti of that city.

The award is given in recognition of the work and dedication of each and every person involved in the AFS program over the years. Lane Bryant is a group of women's specialized clothing shops and was named for its founder, a widow who started the business in 1900.

Raphael Malsin, president of the firm stated that "the awards are given in memory of the late founder in the hope that all will recognize those individuals who, without thought of personal gain, unselfishly devote themselves to the betterment of the lives of others, wherever and wherever they may be."

Girl Scouts

Skills Day

Troop 76 of St. Mary's School went to Little Switzerland recently for Skills day. Younger troops from St. Mary's also attended.

The Cadettes laid a trail that went around the mountain to the Lodge. The girls learned how to tie knots, some also learned to lash. The girls took sack lunches and ate around the camp fire.

At a recent meeting Tina Carrara was appointed treasurer and Joan Littlefield, scribe. Members of the troop are Patty Evans, Teresa Darby, Theresa Henry, Susa Randolph, Celeste Preston, Barbara Glonning, Mary Burich, Joan Littlefield, Tina Carrara, Lynette Stinson, Sally Anne Cornelius, Carla Dibble, Barbara Doody, Shelly Moore, Caroline Clark and Pam Scarlett.

Some of the girls are helping with the second and third grade troops as patrol leaders. The Brownies meet before the older girls at the Girl Scout Center. The leaders of these troops are Mrs. J. A. Carrara, Mrs. Howe and Mrs. Corliss.

Scribe,
Joan Littlefield

Apply rubbing alcohol to ball point pen marks on cloth. This will also work on some leather furniture.

Miss Betty Ramsey, social chairman of Rogue Snowmen, is shown receiving a corsage from Larry Schade, master of ceremonies for the 30th anniversary dinner and dance which the Snowmen gave November 23 at Rogue Valley Country Club. Miss Ramsey planned the event, which attracted about 165 club members, former members and friends. Next evening planned by the Snowmen is the showing of a ski film, crowning of the club's 1963 Snow Queen and a ski style show December 7 at Medford High School auditorium.

Navy Mothers

A potluck luncheon will be served during the all-day meeting of Medford Navy Mothers Club Tuesday, December 3 in the home of Mrs. Dan Evans, 987 Nanticoke Street. Members of Navy personnel are invited.

Indian Schools Program Topic For DAR Group

YREKA — "Our Indian Schools" was the topic of the program given by Mrs. Rosamond Westover at a recent meeting of Siskiyou Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, in the Pacific Power and Light social room. The meeting was preceded by a dessert luncheon, with Mrs. Jennifer Terwilliger, Mrs. Elsie Turner and Mrs. Ellen Walters as hostesses.

Mrs. Westover reported that the DAR, through scholarships and donations, sponsors two schools for American Indians. Both are supported by various churches, individuals, and patriotic organizations.

The schools are Bacone College, Okla., a junior college supported by missions of the Baptist church, and St. Mary's School for Indian girls at Springfield, S. D. The latter is owned and operated by the Episcopal Missionary District of South Dakota.

About 20 to 25 per cent of the annual budget for St. Mary's is provided by the National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, through hundreds of scholarships, donations toward special projects, state projects and the building fund. No one is turned away from either school because of lack of funds.

Over 300 students from 25 states and 40 different Indian tribes attend Bacone College. Mrs. Westover said. She also spoke of Murray orphanage on the edge of Bacone campus.

Mrs. Westover is chapter chairman of DAR school. During the business session, conducted by Mrs. Terwilliger, regent, the chapter voted to accept the budget for the year.

Mrs. L. L. Lichens gave the national defense reading and she told of a recent bill that was passed allotting a large sum of money for building shelters.

Mrs. Sadie DeNure, chapter chairman for American Indians, reported that she had just shipped a large box of wool clothing for the Klamath River Indians.

Collect Donation
Mrs. Hazel Eller collected the donation for Penny Pines.

The President General's message was read by Mrs. Parrott. The December meeting will be a no-hostess luncheon and Christmas party at the Colony House. The twelfth birthday of the local chapter will be observed and there will be a gift exchange.

Three guests were present, Mrs. Alma Forrester, Dunsmuir, Mrs. Delma Jones, Yreka, and Mrs. Ellee Walters, Little Shasta.
