Navy Aptitude Tests Set Dec. 14

CHICAGO — Approximately 20,000 youths, at 17 to 21 years of age, are expected to take the Navy College Aptitude Test Dec. 14 in the 18th annual nationwide program of officer selection and training for the Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps.

Applicants will receive test results in January according to Verne Larsen, NROTC project director at SRA. On the basis of this examination, personal interviews, and other factors, an estimated 2,300 young men will be chosen for NROTC units in 52 leading colleges and universities.

A successful applicant receives financial aid for four years of college. This aid includes tuition, books, uniforms, miscellaneous expenses and a $600-a-year retainer fee. After successfully completing college degree requirements and naval science training, NROTC students become commissioned officers in the U. S. Navy or Marine Corps.
