

Grandmother Wants Allowance To Mother Cut

OLYMPIA (UPI)—The grandmother of a 13-year-old heiress to more than $2.5 million Tuesday urged the State Supreme Court to cut off the $500 allowance which the girl's mother draws from the estate.

In a brief filed with the court, Mrs. Jane Harrison of Auburn, Calif., said the mother, Julie Vance Ivarsson, does nothing to earn the money other than "those maternal duties performed by any mother."

In the middle of the dispute which has been raging most of her life is Victoria Harrison Ivarsson who was born in Seattle May 19, 1951. Shortly after she was born, her father, Edward Harrison, died in a freak accident on a Seattle golf course.

Harrison left most of his estate, which included part of the Weyerhaeuser timber fortune, to his daughter.

In addition to demanding an end to the allowance which Mrs. Ivarsson draws from the estate to pay for Victoria's education and welfare, Mrs. Harrison urged the court to require Mrs. Ivarsson to reimburse the estate for more than $50,000 in allowances and fees paid during the past several years.

Mrs. Ivarsson has 30 days in which to file an answering brief with the court.

Victoria, her mother and adoptive father, Karl Ivarsson, now live in Zerkow, Switzerland. But the girl's money is in a Seattle bank.

Mrs. Harrison complained that neither Mrs. Ivarsson nor Victoria have appeared in court in Seattle during the past few years when the girl's estate was under consideration.

Before any additional allowance payments are authorized, Mrs. Harrison argued, Mrs. Ivarsson should be required to appear personally before the trial court and submit herself to direct and cross examination.

In addition, Mrs. Harrison said, Victoria's appearance in court is "essential."

She claimed "conflicting allegations as to the care and well being of the child, from whose estate sizeable sums of money have been taken ostensibly for her welfare, could well be resolved by such an appearance."

Morse Opposed To Dunes Measure

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Action on a Senate bill to create an Oregon Dunes National Seashore was stalled Tuesday as a result of objections by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

Morse served notice Tuesday night that he opposes the measure to create a 1,000-acre park on the coast of Oregon.

The Oregon Democrat said Senate "should think a long time" before approving a bill not backed unanimously by the Oregon congressional delegation.

Morse said he objected chiefly to provisions in the bill to allow the condemnation of private property.

"We can have a park in the dunes area of Oregon without taking a square foot of private property," he declared. Morse added that an adequate park could be put together from public property.

"In fact," he said, "it is more than the public would ever use."

Morse submitted amendments to the bill which would remove the interior secretary's power to condemn property without the consent of the owner.

Portland Druggists To Fill Prescriptions

PORTLAND (UPI)—The Portland Retail Druggists Association has agreed to continue filling prescriptions for welfare patients despite a cut in payments by the State Welfare Commission.

The action was taken Tuesday at a meeting.

Druggists said they would not fill welfare prescriptions after the commission announced a 24 per cent slash in October. The commission said claims were exceeding available funds.

Peace Corps Members Type To Move West

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—Today's younger members of the Peace Corps are the youngsters who once would have headed for the Old West, according to a University of Rochester educator.

Dr. Helen Nowlis, associate dean of students and a professor specializing in the psychology of adolescence, observes that the "idealism of youngsters who join the Peace Corps is typical of the period of late adolescence."

PAVED WAY THRU

ITHACA, N.Y. (UPI)—The first journalism course in an American college was offered at Cornell University in 1876. In 1876, Cornell awarded the first journalism degree in America.

Artist Is First To Be Hired By Packaging Firm

By JESSE ROGUE, UPI Financial Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—In today's packaging industry, about the first man an employer hires when starting up a new company is an artist, explained Burton Kossoff. He spoke with the assurance of one who knows the business from the ground up.

Kossoff is president of his own firm, the Burton Packaging Co. Inc., which designs and makes boxes and displays. He is 40 years old and an active member of the Young Presidents Organization, Inc., composed of businessmen who have become presidents of their companies before they are 40.

"When I started up in business for myself in 1943, the first man I hired was an artist," Kossoff said.

"Anybody can make cardboard or paperboard boxes—but anyone who tried to make an imprint on the packaging industry today with no more preparation than that would get nowhere. Everything we do is made to order. There's no stock of 'packages' on hand."

While Kossoff is full of enthusiasm for the business which he runs, he is equally voluble on the subject of the YPO and the problems of the executive, both young and old.

"One thing you find when you meet with others who are running companies is that there are a lot of common problems in broad fields," he explained.

Another thing he has learned from talking with other successful young businessmen is their feeling that there is "such a tremendous lack of good executive talent everywhere."

Kossoff said he felt that too many young men who have the talent to succeed are willing to do just enough to get by on a comfortable living scale but don't want to break out of any area in which they feel secure, or feel that they have built-in protection of some kind. There is a reluctance, he feels, among many qualified potential executives to strike out on their own.

Mrs. Tippitt Gets More Than $100,000

DALLAS (UPI)—Americans, still mourning the assassination of President Kennedy Tuesday had sent more than $100,000 to the widow and three children of policeman J. D. Tippitt, who died chasing the suspected assassin.

A survey of sources receiving money showed the fund will total $100,000, including more than $63,000 counted at the police station where 14 large bags of mail remained unopened.

Texas A&M also had awarded university scholarships to the two sons of the late policeman. Southern Methodist University offered his 16-year-old daughter, Brenda, a scholarship.

The Dallas Morning News reported $5,000 had been received for Mrs. Lee Harvey Oswald, widow of the suspected assassin. A Houston minister reported his congregation sent the Russian-born woman $1,000. Secret Service agents were handling the contributions.

Arsonist Blamed For Airliner Fire

MIAMI (UPI)—Authorities said Tuesday they suspected that a fire which broke out Monday in the washroom of a New York to Miami airliner was set by an arsonist.

"All indications are that it was a set fire," said Metro Fire Chief Milton G. Bullock, who was called into the investigation by federal authorities.

Aron experts continued inspection of the aircraft today to determine exact cause of the fire.

None of the 109 persons aboard the National Airlines plane was injured and the huge DC-8 landed at the International Airport here without incident.

Several passengers were questioned by the FBI, but no charges have been filed.

'Human Rights Week' Designated by LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Tuesday designated the week of Dec. 10-17 as "Human Rights Week." He called upon all Americans to rededicate themselves to the principles set forth in the U.S. Bill of Rights and the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights.

His proclamation set forth Dec. 10 as "Human Rights Day" to commemorate the 15th anniversary of the U.S.'s adoption of the universal declaration of human rights. It designated Dec. 15 as "Bill of Rights Day" to mark the 120th anniversary of the adoption of the first 10 amendments to the Constitution.
