As a result, signatures will be hard to come by after the northern Democrats and liberal big-city Republicans have signed. The support of moderate and conservative Republicans from small towns and rural areas is vital to the discharge petition, and this group tends to follow the GOP leaders.

In any case, civil rights supporters do not expect to get the necessary signatures in the next few days. Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee, sponsor of the discharge petition, said the effort would be carried over the year-end holidays if necessary.

Celler and others pushing the bill never expected to get it to the floor before Christmas. But they do hope for action early in January. They consider Smith's offer a trap, which would close on them when the wily leader of the southern conservative bloc let rules committee hearings on the bill run on for endless weeks.

Their hope is to get enough support to force Smith to offer to hold limited hearings and a definite date for clearing the bill.

Russian Plenary Session Debating Nikita's Plan

MOSCOW (UPI) — The leadership of the Soviet Communist party today began debate on Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's $46 billion plan for a speedy buildup of the chemical industry, possibly with the aid of entire plants purchased in the West.

The party central committee held its second plenary session in the Kremlin Hall of Congresses, with chemical experts, party and government planners, and industry officials speaking on Khrushchev's plan, which was virtually certain of approval.

Khrushchev said the seven-year program, "unprecedented in world practice," would regenerate a falling agriculture with chemical fertilizers and also help satisfy demands for more consumer goods.

He disclosed in his long speech to the opening of the party meeting Monday that Soviet collective and state farms delivered 21 per cent less grain to the state-controlled markets this year than last. He defended his decision to buy more than $700 million worth of wheat in the West and said Stalin let people starve during bad harvest years while continuing to export wheat.

Then he outlined the seven-year program to increase farm yields and make such grain purchases unnecessary in the future.

Khrushchev's plan for the chemical industry was double what had been expected. Its goals and details included: —Trebling the output of the chemical industry by 1970. —Investing $46 billion, including more than $25 billion for the plants themselves. —Producing 70 to 80 million tons of chemical fertilizer by the end of the plan, which would make it possible to double present grain and fodder production. —Buying entire plants in the West if the equipment is not available in the Soviet Union or its satellites.

Hope Due Final Treatment on Eye
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Comedian Bob Hope was scheduled for one final follow-up treatment today for a blood clot in his left eye.

Authorities at Children's Hospital expect Hope to remain confined there until next weekend. But they expect he will be released in time to make a Christmas tour of U.S. military installations in the Mediterranean area.

Hope entered the hospital Thursday. His treatments consist of a new photo coagulation process by which a very bright light is beamed into the eye and focused on the blood clot, permanently closing the blood vessel.

PRESERVING SIGHT
What precautions should an older person take to preserve the eyesight? Would it help to avoid reading in bed, to wear sunglasses, to avoid watching TV, etc?
A. So far as eye health is concerned, there are no special restrictions that need be applied to older persons. No special dangers arise from reading in bed, watching television, and moderate exposure to sunlight. Normal use of the eyes won't affect vision.
