Bethel 69 members were extended an invitation to attend a Christmas party at 2 o'clock this afternoon by Bethel 55 members, the event also to be in the Masonic Temple.

Miss Linda Walker, librarian, read "What Bethel Means To Me," by L. Hoyt.

The dining room was decorated in a winter theme. Refreshments were served by the Misses Janice Tyrrel, Diane Kimball, Cheryl Bramhall, Karen Smith, Vicki Vorheis and their mothers.

To Hold Party

The Rogue Valley Handweavers Guild will hold their Christmas party Tuesday, December 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lasher, 2517 Sandy Terrace.

For relaxing at after ski parties Bavarian peasant dresses may be chosen by some. Among ski fashions from the Rogue Ski Shop modeled during the December 7 event of the Rogue Snowmen were these two outfits. Mrs. William Brooks chose an olive green print fashioned on the European style with peach apron. Little Cheryl Ekerson, 3, was colorful in her bright red skirt and suspenders with white rick-rack and colored embroidery with white ruffled blouse.

Teachers Attend Meet

Jack Bailey, a teacher at Howard School and Mrs. Maxine Smith of the Medford High School teaching staff attended an Oregon Education Association representative council in the Portland State Student Center last week. Some 200 teachers from throughout the state were at the session.

Mr. Bailey attended as a representative of the Medford Teachers Association. Mrs. Smith nominated Miss Beulah Elliott for president-elect, to which she was named.

The group voted to support any sales tax measure. They drew up a resolution to be referred to the National Education Association convention in Seattle next summer, the resolution strengthening the OEA's stand on desegregation.

Delegates from the Future Teachers of America requested the group to try to obtain legislation for five years of college for elementary teachers, increasing subject matter fields.

A water-proof finish requires thorough rinsing because any suds left in the fabric will reduce the efficiency of the treatment.
