Glenn Envisions Future 'Horizons' KITTY HAWK, N.C. (UPI)—Astronaut John Glenn, here to help celebrate the 60th anniversary of aviation, said today American youth would be faced with solving more problems than their forebears.

Glenn, at a brief news conference, was asked if future generations would have the same "horizons" to meet that confronted the astronauts and the Wright brothers.

"More than we ever dreamed of," replied Glenn. "The more knowledge we gain the more things, we will find to overcome."

Glenn and a host of other dignitaries began a two-day round of activities honoring the 60th anniversary of Orville and Wilbur Wright's first airplane flight.

Christian unity and peace were expected to be the keynotes of the Pope's address on the final day of his two-day visit to the Holy Land, which currently lies in the states of Israel and Jordan.

Greater Source of Energy Discussed DALLAS (UPI)—Scientists today discussed a possible source of energy that may be greater than ever a hydrogen bomb blast—gravity.

More than 100 scientists participated in the three-day international symposium on gravitational collapse. They exchanged ideas on how to harness the gravity pull of stars far in space.

"Gravitation is capable of yielding a hundred times more energy than the most powerful nuclear reaction," two of the scientists wrote.

Prof. William A. Fowler of California Institute of Technology and Prof. Fred Hoyle of Cambridge University are the chief exponents of the idea that the primary source of energy is shrinking or gravitational collapse of a super-star.

Some Unanswered Questions Noted On Assassination

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former U.S. Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman said today that there were unanswered questions about President Kennedy's assassination that "should be resolved."

Baughman, who guarded presidents as chief of the Secret Service for 13 years, said "the plain fact is that you cannot protect the President from every danger. And the greatest danger is from a sniper hiding in a high building."

In a copyright interview with U.S. News & World Report, Baughman said he didn't know if the Secret Service did all it could to protect Kennedy because he wasn't in Dallas on the day of the assassination.

"But I can't understand why Mrs. Kennedy had to climb over the back of the car as she did to get help," Baughman said.

News photographs showed Mrs. Kennedy helping Secret Service agent Clint Hill into the presidential limousine after her husband was wounded.

Baughman said that one reason that agents weren't next to Kennedy on the running board of his car was that the White House wouldn't permit it.

"The White House has been trying to avoid making it conspicuous that you're guarding the President closely," he said.

Asked if there were any mistakes in the Dallas security preparations, Baughman said, "as an investigator, I can think of a lot of questions, but I wasn't there. The only thing I can say is that the Secret Service does not have enough men."

BUSINESS SIGNALS FLASHING PROSPERITY Not ever have so many of the most reliable barometers of U.S. business trends been flashing a signal of prosperity ahead at this time as a sign of an economic upturn.

At midnight Dec. 31 our economy will enter its 35th month of uninterrupted business rise, making it the second longest peacetime upswing in 110 years of U.S. history.

Yet "old" as this expansion is by every peacetime standard, it shows no signs whatsoever of fading away into another recession. On the contrary, the upturn which began in early 1961 is still solid, still strong at the end of 1963 and the now almost certain early passage of the massive across-the-board tax cut will keep it going in 1964.

Among the most valuable business forecasting tools we have are 26 economic indicators selected out of thousands by the National Bureau of Economic Research. Of the total 12 are "leading indicators," meaning they usually signal in advance business upturns or downturns; nine are "coincident indicators," meaning they usually move up or down as the economy moves up or down; five are "lagging indicators," meaning they usually go up or down after the economy as a whole has changed direction.

Here are the signals being given by these 26 indicators in mid-December, 1963, in our non-bufflegag language of "good," "bad" or "fair-neutral."
