

Tornado Wrestlers Will Travel To GP

Third wrestling match of the season is billed for Thursday evening by the Medford High Black Tornado.

The Medfords travel to face the always strong Grants Pass aggregation. The Cavemen last year were state wrestling champions. Last Friday they won both A and B divisions of a tournament held at their school.

The tourney included Klamath Falls, Marshfield and Reedsport in the A division and Grants Pass, Klamath Falls, Henley and Del Norte of Crescent City, Calif., in the B.

Medford has wrestled two varsity matches, defeating Reedsport and Roseburg last Saturday.

Medford leaders in various categories after the two jousts are Russell Smith, three take-downs and one predicament; Tom Owens, George McNair and Tim Brown, three reversals each; Jim Hettinga, two escapes; Dwight Brown, two near falls; and Mike Orr, two falls.

In the Reedsport match Medford outdid the Braves in take-downs 8-3, in escapes 4-3, near falls 2-1 and falls 2-1. Reedsport had edges of 8-7 in reversals and 2-1 in predicaments.

Against Roseburg the Medford margins were 9-8 in take-downs, 10-5 in reversals and 7-9 in falls. Roseburg led 3-0 in escapes, 2-1 in predicaments and 3-2 in near falls.

Lahdenpera Wins Race

SPOUT SPRINGS, Ore. (UPI)—Peter Lahdenpera of Fort Collins, Colo., won the second cross-country race in the Olympic ski trials Tuesday with a time of 73 minutes 31 seconds over the 15 kilometer (9.2 mile) course.

Dick Taylor of Gilford, N. H. was second in the time of 73:56 and Otto Rohsbom of the U. S. Army, Anchorage, Alaska, third 76:20.

With one cross-country race left to go on Thursday, Taylor led the combined scorers with 464.82 points with Lahdenpera second at 461.92 and Mike Gallagher, Rutland, Vt., third at 453.30. Six places on the U. S. team are open in the cross-country.

Jim Page of Lake Placid, N.Y., remained the leader in the Nordic combined competition with Jim Shea, Lake Placid, second. Two skiers will be picked for the U.S. team in the combined.

Full Speed For Huskies

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI)—The Washington Huskies moved through practice at full speed again today in preparation for their New Year's Day meeting with Illinois in the Rose Bowl.

Coach Jim Owens said Tuesday, "We went out three-quarter speed in our drills. I didn't plan it that way, but they were a little bit sore after the first workouts."

Owens said the team seemed to be shaping up pretty well after two days of two-a-day practice sessions.

Owens' major worry was his punter. He said his No. 1 punter, and All-America linebacker, Rick Redmond, was bothered by a pinched nerve in his shoulder.

No Linebacker Meeting Slated For This Week

There will be no meetings of the Medford Linebackers this Friday or on Friday, Dec. 28.

Next meeting will be on Friday, Jan. 3 at North's Chuck Wagon. Election of officers is planned at that time.

Val Brumel Sportsman Of Year

LONDON (UPI)—Valery Brumel, Russia's 21-year-old record-shattering high-jumper, today was named United Press International's "Sportsman of the Year" for the third consecutive term.

In the annual European poll of 46 sports editors in 20 countries, including the Soviet Union, Brumel scored 199 points to beat out decathlon champ C. Kwang Yang of Formosa by 21 votes. Third place went to John Thomas Pennel, 23, the pole vault king from Northeast Louisiana College, who garnered 153 votes.

Brumel's winning margin in 1961 was 155 and last year 30. The fourth spot went to American swimmer Don Schollander with 131. Swedish world speed skating champ Johnny Nilsson was fifth with 122. Jacques Anquetil, the French cyclist who practically "owns" the tour of France, was a joint sixth with world heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, both with 84; Vaslov Eighth.

Russian weightlifting marvel Juri Vlasov was eighth with 78; Britain's world auto racing champ Jim Clark of Scotland was ninth with 67 and Britain's dazzling sprint queen, Dorothy Hyman, was 10th with 38.

All editors polled submitted their list of nominees in merit order. Ten points were awarded for a first place, nine for a second and so on.

Brumel polled only eight first place votes compared with the 12 scored by Yang, but the Russian picked up six second place nominations to the Formosan's three and six fourth-places to one for Yang.

The Russian's big achievement this year was the record-breaking 7 feet, 5 1/2 inches he cleared during the meet against the United States in Moscow, July 20-21, with Soviet leader Nikita Khrushchev in attendance. He is a red-hot favorite for an Olympic Gold Medal in Tokyo.

NBC Receives Exclusive Right For NCAA Video

NEW YORK (UPI)—A record high of $13,044,000 was paid by the National Broadcasting Company Tuesday for exclusive rights to the National Collegiate Athletic Association football schedule for the next two seasons.

NBC outbid two other television networks to obtain the rights and the price was almost $3 million more than the previous record two-year contract paid by the Columbia Broadcasting System in 1961.

The 1964 program calls for telecasts of college games on 14 dates, 13 Saturdays beginning Sept. 12 and extending through Thanksgiving Day and Dec. 5. Nine of the 14 dates are devoted to a single nationally televised game and the other five dates call for regional telecasts.

About 50 Apply For Cougar Job

PULLMAN (UPI)—The replacement for football Coach Jim Sutherland at Washington State University is expected to be named about the middle of January, Athletic Director Stan Bates said Tuesday.

About 50 men have applied for Sutherland's position, Bates said. The applicants were "pretty well scattered" across the country and included everything from high school to professional coaches.

Bates said interviews with the coaches would be held while he attended the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco, the Rose Bowl game in Los Angeles as well as the National Collegiate Athletic Association meeting in New York.

Sutherland coached football at WSU for eight seasons before having his contract terminated with one year remaining. The Cougars had their third losing season in four years with a 3-6 record this year.

GAME RESCHEDULED
CENTRAL POINT — Crater High Jayvee basketball game slated for last night against Prospect was postponed because of the fog and has been rescheduled for 4:45 p.m. Thursday at Crater High. The sophomore game with the Prospect junior varsity was cancelled.

Coach Jim Tacchini has listed a main crew of wrestlers with some different faces in it from the gang that beat Roseburg 27-22 at the start of the season.

Tom Campell, David Anderson, Richard Kirkham and John McNichols have gained positions through wrestle-offs. Mike Yager takes over at 157 pounds with Jim Pitts in the hospital for a tonsillectomy to day. Campbell wrestles at 98 pounds where the Comets had no foe last time for Roseburg.

Preliminaries are set for 6:30 o'clock this evening. It may be 7:30 or 8 p.m. before the regular matches get under way, depending on how many grapplers Roseburg brings for prelim action.

Bronc Five Victor Over Notre Dame

By United Press International
Don't let the names of the schools fool you, they grow 'em tough in the Mid-American Conference.

Overshadowed in size and stature by the neighboring Big Ten, the seven members of the Mid-American Conference are writing their own publicity notices and charging the expenses to some of the biggest schools in the nation.

Western Michigan, located in Kalamazoo but forever in the shadow of the University of Michigan and Michigan State, struck another blow against the elite Tuesday night by shading Notre Dame, 92-89. This is the same Bronco team that overcame a huge deficit against top-ranked Loyola last week before bowing, 105-102.

Ohio University, not to be confused with giant Ohio State, also held up the honor of the Mid-American Conference by beating a good St. John's team, 58-54, in New York. It was the sixth straight victory for the undefeated Bobcats, including a one-point decision over Wisconsin of the Big Ten.

Thus far, though, the Mid-American team with the biggest reputation is Toledo, which upset New York University last week and climbed into 10th place in the United Press International ratings. The Rockets seek their seventh straight triumph against Villanova in Philadelphia tonight.

Agase, who said that he would have gone to Notre Dame with Parshegian had he not been named new head coach at Northwestern, said he would "talk" to the other Wildcat assistants and then determine whether he would retain them.

Brigham Young Releases Coach

PROVO, Utah (UPI)—Hard-nosed Hal Mitchell, a young football tactician who acquired acclaim by using the antiquated single wing formation and then saw the same system betray him, was released Tuesday night as head football coach at Brigham Young University.

Mitchell, coach at BYU the past three seasons, was out of a job only three weeks after his team closed a disastrous campaign in which it won only two games and lost eight. Mitchell, 33, was the youngest head football coach ever hired at BYU.

BYU President Ernest L. Wilkinson, who announced that Mitchell's contract would not be renewed for next season, said a search would begin immediately for a new head grid coach.

Alex Agase Boosted To Grid Helm

CHICAGO (UPI)—Notre Dame and Northwestern had new football coaches today, definitely, and most of the nation must have heard the sign of relief breathed by officials of both schools.

Ara Parshegian accepted the Notre Dame job after telephone conversations cleared up a "little difference" which caused him to reject a proffered Irish contract Monday.

Northwestern promptly hired Alex Agase, Parshegian's No. 1 assistant during his eight years as Wildcat coach, as the new head man under a three-year contract.

Announcements of the final selection of the two coaches came less than an hour apart. The log jam broke first when Parshegian and the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, C.S.C., executive vice president of Notre Dame, settled on exact terms of a four-year contract.

Parshegian, 40, notified Northwestern Athletic Director Stu Holcomb, and Holcomb hastily called a press conference and notified Agase he was hired.

Parshegian said he would take "two and possibly three" of his Northeastern assistants with him to Notre Dame, and that it was "not likely" he would keep any of the current Irish staff, although he was "considering two of the younger ones."

Notre Dame's coach of the past year, Hugh Devore, named on an "interim" basis after Joe Kuharich resigned in March, Saturday was elevated to the post of assistant athletic director.

Agase, who said that he would have gone to Notre Dame with Parshegian had he not been named new head coach at Northwestern, said he would "talk" to the other Wildcat assistants and then determine whether he would retain them.

Halas Coach Of Year

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Halas, a stubborn old cogder who learned a few new football tricks at the age of 69, today was voted the 1963 National League coach-of-the-year by United Press International.

The Chicago Bears, after drastically revamping their defense this season, clinched their 10th Western Conference championship under Halas' long reign last Sunday. They meet the New York Giants in the NFL's championship playoff game Dec. 29.

Halas, a member of football's Hall of Fame, won the honor by a majority of the votes cast by a panel of 42 writers who covered the NFL season regularly during 1963. He received 21 votes compared to six each for Buddy Parker of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Wally Lemm of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Coach Blanton Collier of the Cleveland Browns had four votes and Harlan (Swede) Sware of the Los Angeles Rams one.

MEETING SCHEDULED
The Medford Parks and Recreation Commission will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the city hall. Progress reports will be given.
