

Barrett To Face Borne Thursday

Irish Paddy Barrett, the flashy redhead who made a big hit with local wrestling fans when he held Nick Kozak to a draw on the Thanksgiving night card, returns to the Medford armory mat next Thursday night and will appear in the special event of a four-match slate featuring some of the top professionals in the northwest.

PADDY BARRETT Favorite Coming Back

Barrett, who showed a fine knowledge of the finer points of wrestling, will have his work cut out for himself this time, however, for he meets Loudmouth Tough Tony Borne, who is considered to be one of the toughest of the heavyweights.

Borne left here in a huff two months ago after losing his title to Nick Bockwinkel and it took considerable prodding on the part of Matchmaker Elton Owen to get him to come back.

The opener, scheduled for the mat at 8:30 p.m., will introduce Frenchy Tillet to local fans. Tillet, who comes from Texas with a reputation as a rough and tough character, goes against Ki Lee, the spectacular Chinese jiu-jitsu artist, who made his initial appearance here on the last card.

The main event sends The Destroyer in with Luther Lindsey while Bockwinkel collides with Maurice "Mad Dog" Vachon in the semi-windup.

Ringside reserved seat tickets are available at Lampert's Sporting Goods store.

Mustangs High For Duck Game

DALLAS (UPI) — Coach Hayden Fry likens his Southern Methodist Mustangs to the Marine Corps, his service alma mater.

"We have Esprit De Corps," he says of a Mustang squad that probably stacks up as the best 4-6 record team in the nation.

Fry and his Mustangs are not a bit ashamed of the record they will take into the Dec. 31 Sun Bowl game at El Paso, Tex., against Oregon. They feel the team as earned it, losses notwithstanding.

SMU commanded the rapt respect of all its opponents the past season despite the fact the 1962 Mustangs won only two of 10 games.

Seven of those eight losses were by seven points or less and the same pattern prevailed this past fall when four of their six setbacks were by a touchdown or less.

The reason was fundamentally team spirit and desire because the Mustangs seldom could match the opposition in manpower.

"I would like to play jaw to jaw football, but we don't have the people," Fry declares. "Our defense stunts so much because that is the only way we can get past our bigger opponents."

"Like the Marine Corps, we have Esprit De Corps. It's easier to keep a small squad happier when you aren't winning than a large one.

The Mustangs always seemed happy and their record of close ones bears out the fact they were aggressive.

Their slim list of victories includes a 32-28 defeat of Navy, the memory of which the Mid-dies would like to erase in the Cotton Bowl against Texas, and a 10-0 blanking of Air Force's Gator-Bowled Falcons.

And the team's defensive stalwarts are sorry they won't get a chance to try their shankles on Oregon's Mel Renfro, who hurt a hand and then signed a pro contract prior to the Sun Bowl announcement.

The opposition made SMU look bad early in most games, but after the SMU defense once had a chance to readjust, the going got real sticky.

Linebackers John Hughes and Jim Sifton, guards Ronnie Cosper and Marlon Cude and tackles John Kice and Bob Oylor exploited their stunting quickness to the utmost to keep the enemy off balance.

SMU's offense, however, had only sporadic moments of glory. Against the Navy, the Mustangs sprang converted track star John Roderick loose for some tremendous sprints around end and quarterbacks Danny Thomas and Mac White kept pumping away with their passes to clutch player Billy Gannon. It was SMU's finest night.

"We were truthfully not that good," Fry says of that Navy victory. "Only our hustle kept us in the game. We won because we wouldn't give up."

That is the same esprit de corps Oregon will have to watch for against SMU, which hasn't been to a bowl game since it beat Oregon 21-13 in the 1949 Cotton Bowl.

St. Mary's 70-63 Victor Over Saints

St. Mary's of Medford, manufacturing a 13-point margin during a 29-point fourth quarter, surged to a 70-63 basketball victory over St. Francis High of Eugene here on Saturday night.

The win gave the Crusaders a series sweep. They beat the Saints 87-81 on Friday evening.

St. Mary's applied a pressing game over the second, third and fourth stanzas in their Saturday night ruckus. For the second night the Crusaders had a troublesome first half. The press hurt them a little in the second quarter but they stuck with it.

In the third session it began to gain results and it paid real dividends in the fourth.

First quarter score was tied 14-14. St. Francis went in front 21-22 in the second canto and led 43-41 at the end of the third. St. Mary's took the lead at 47-45 on a jump shot by Randy Corliss. The Crusaders, who gained their third win of the season without a loss, extended to 67-54 with three minutes left to play.

Batzer Scores 26 John Batzer ran up 26 counters as four Crusaders scored in double totals. Corliss had 13, Ron Roberts 12 and Mike Soran 11. Mike Kehoe put in 25 for the Saints and Scott Taylor 11. Corliss cleared 11 rebounds and Kehoe 10. St. Francis had 31-30 team edge in retrievals.

Twenty of 35 shots from the free line made the scoring difference for St. Mary's. The Saints of Eugene hit nine of 14. St. Francis shot .422 from the field on 27 of 64 and St. Mary's .349 on 25 of 72.

SM Coach Dick Papp declared that he was real pleased with his whole Crusader group both games. He praised the club for lots of hustle. He said he was especially pleased with Dennis Rose who is "really coming along" in his rebounding and also his shooting.

The Eugene club is now 2-2 for the season with the Oregon School Activities Association determining that their game with Pleasant Hill was a victory. The question was whether SF won 68-67 or 68-66 or tied 68-68.

St. Mary's will play in the holiday tournament this Friday and Saturday at Cave Junction.

SCORES IN OVERTIME — Jim Consruck (53) of Phoenix High starts down after putting ball up for field goal in Saturday night basketball game with Myrtle Creek. This score was in the overtime. Consruck was fouled and added the gift shot to cut a Myrtle Creek lead to 40-39. Phoenix went on to win 47-44. Score at the end of regular time was 36-31. Myrtle Creek players identified are Dennis Birenbaum (at left) and Bob Beanblossom (53). At right in Ron Williams (52) of Phoenix.

West Coast Basketball Teams Gird For Tournaments This Week

By HAL WOOD UPI Sports Writer

This is the week of the big test for West Coast college basketball teams.

There's the Los Angeles Classic in the southland, the Far West Classic at Portland, the West Coast Athletic Conference event in San Francisco, and an All-College Tournament at Oklahoma that attracts three Western teams.

But unbeaten Stanford shies away from all tourney competition and tangles with Kansas tonight, Southern Methodist Saturday and Arizona State Dec. 30.

"By then we'll know just what we may be able to expect from our team when the conference race opens Jan. 3," said Indian coach Howie Dallmar. "We've only played four games so far and really haven't had a chance to find out too much about our club."

The Indians waxed St. Mary's, 72-37, Saturday night for their fourth triumph in a row.

Competing in the Los Angeles Classic where undefeated UCLA and USC act as co-hosts, will be Michigan, Illinois, New York University, Pittsburgh, West Virginia and Yale.

The Bruins won their sixth straight on Saturday night by drubbing Creighton, 95-79, on the strength of Walt Hazzard's 26-point performance.

And Southern California warmed up for the big one by whipping Nebraska for the second straight night, 79-64.

Favored Oregon State meets Louisiana State the first round of the tournament at Portland. The Beavers, with seven wins out of eight starts this year, knocked over Indiana twice during the weekend, with a 56-52 score on Saturday night. Other teams competing in this classic are Iowa, Colorado State, Brigham Young, Seattle, Oregon and Washington State.

University of San Francisco hosts the WCAC tournament. The other teams entered are Loyola of Los Angeles, University of Pacific, Pepperdine, St. Mary's, San Jose State, Santa Clara and Santa Barbara.

The Dons, who are favorites to win the conference championship this year, are off to a rough start. They dropped three games in a row on the road, but came back to snow under Kansas, 75-58, on the home court Saturday. Ollie Johnson scored 24 points. The Dons now stand 4-3 for the season.

California's in-and-out Golden Bears stay on the independent path during the week—spending a holiday in Hawaii. They dropped the finale of the Sun Devil Classic at Tempe, Ariz., on Saturday night to host Arizona State, 66-71.

Washington, which was idle during the past week, meets Colorado State tonight, then plays in the Oklahoma tournament along with Idaho and Montana State from the West.

In the Holiday Tournament at San Diego, California Western won the championship by defeating San Diego Marines, 64-59.

In a big Sunday battle, firehouse guards Charlie Williams and Peller Phillips led Seattle to a 92-87 victory over Portland. It was the Chieftains' sixth consecutive win without a loss.

Williams hit 25 points to lead the winners' scoring, while big Steve Anstett had 34 for the losers.

Crater High Tops Lebanon Warriors To Split Series

LEBANON—Crater High's Comet cagers grabbed the lead at the start and stayed in front on Saturday night to defeat Lebanon here 49-38.

The outcome evened the score for a Friday night 52-51 win by Lebanon.

It was a slow, deliberate contest with the home team Warriors playing a control offense and zone defense. The Comets worked the ball in for short jump shots for their field scores.

Good rebounding and scoring work by big men Bob Stroh and Mike Turner, backboard aid by Darryl Summerfield and scoring support from Summerfield and Larry Pepper figured in the triumph. And the Comets were steady with the ball.

Capitalize on Fouls Crater had 13-2, 19-12 and 32-27 quarter leads with a gap once of 17-2. Lebanon cut the Comet margin to 28-26 with two minutes left in the third quarter. Pressing tactics by the Warriors as the Fireballs came down the court with the ball, however, led to fouls and Crater was able to capitalize on these to widen its advantage.

Mike Turner had 15 points and Stroh 13 for the Comets and each cleared eight rebounds. Steve Simpson's 13 points were high for Lebanon.

The Warriors started to close the gap in the game as Crater Coach Lloyd Hoffine began giving reserves opportunity to see duty.

Crater free shots brought about the scoring difference in the hassle. The Fireballs put in 25 of 34 free chances. Lebanon took 11 gift shots and made four. Warriors collected 17 field buckets and Crater six. The Central Point club was charged with just nine fouls and Lebanon with 22.

Comets made 18 of their free shots in the second half.

The Fireballs were quicker on the boards than on Friday night and had rebound advantage in the second game. Mike Turner looked particularly good on the boards, as well as in his scoring. And, hustle by Stroh paid off for him and for the Comets.

Crater stuck with man-to-man defense most of the distance. It hit .364 from the field.

Hoffine will hold Thursday and Friday morning workouts for the Comets. They play Douglas at Central Point on Saturday night.

Albany To Have Freeze-Dry Plant

ALBANY (UPI) — Plans for a freeze-dry food processing plant here to begin operation next summer were announced by officials of Oregon Freeze Dry Foods Saturday.

Ellis Byer, manager of the project, said the facility will be one of the largest of its kind in the country.

The freeze-dry process involves freezing foods, then placing them in high vacuum chambers where water is evaporated directly from the ice surface. The finished product retains its original form and size but is porous.

Among the developers of the process is Prof. Robert L. Smith a vice-president and director of the Albany firm. Smith is an associate professor in the department of food and science and technology at Oregon State University.

A member of the State Planning and Development Department, William Miller, said in Portland he was "excited about the tremendous future" of the forthcoming project.

Chargers Top AFL In West; Boston, Buffalo Tie in East

By NORMAN MILLER UPI Sports Writer

It figures to be a mighty cold day Saturday when the Boston Patriots and Buffalo Bills meet in the American Football League's Eastern Division play-off but the winner can expect a warm reception one week later in San Diego.

The San Diego weather should be sunny and the San Diego Chargers hot.

The Chargers clinched the Western Division crown Sunday with a 58-20 rout against the Denver Broncos and now have a two-week stretch in sun-soaked California to prepare for the AFL's title playoff against the Eastern Division winner at San Diego, Jan. 5.

The Bills and the Patriots, who ended their regular season last weekend with 7-6 records, clash next Saturday afternoon at Buffalo in temperature that undoubtedly will be freezing.

Coach Sid Gillman and his Chargers will be waiting to thaw out the winner.

High Scoring Game The Chargers weren't the only hot team in the league on the final Sunday of the regular season. The Oakland Raiders edged the Houston Oilers, 52-49, in the highest scoring AFL game ever played. Despite the win, the Raiders failed in their game try to overtake San Diego. The Kansas City Chiefs drubbed the New York Jets, 48-0 in the other game played.

In winning the Western Division title for the third time in four seasons, the Chargers finished with an 11-3 record, one game ahead of Oakland. In their first two playoff ventures, in 1960 and '61, the Chargers lost both times to Houston.

Paul Lowe scored two touchdowns, on runs of 10 and 66 yards, and gained 163 yards in 17 carries for San Diego. The Chargers scored the first four times they had possession of the ball, yet they led only 26-17 at halftime.

Don Breaux, rookie Denver quarterback, hit on eight straight pass attempts during the first half to keep his team in the game. However, George Blair's 28-yard field goal and Lowe's 66-yard touchdown run pulled the Chargers away in the third period. And with second-string quarterback John Hadl taking over for most of the nal quarter, they broke the game wide open with 22 points.

Four Records Set Mike Mercer of Oakland kicked a 39-yard field goal with 4:37 remaining to beat the Oilers. At least four records were set in the game. In addition to the 101-point total, Clem Daniels set an AFL season rushing record of 1,098 yards and Art Powell caught four touchdowns passes. Daniels gained 158 yards Sunday, giving him two more yards than the record set last year by Buffalo's Cookie Gilchrist.

Tom Flores completed six touchdowns passes, one less than the AFL record; George Blanda who holds that mark, threw five TD tosses. Oakland gained 407 yards by passing and 181 by rushing for a 588-yard total offense that also was a single-game mark.

The Raiders, who won only one game in 1962, closed out the '63 season with eight straight wins and a total of 10.
