SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Little Sherman Lewis, All-American halfback from Michigan State, scooted 10 yards around end for a touchdown in the waning minutes of play Saturday to give the East a 6-6 tie with the West in one of the Shrine game's all-time greatest defensive battles.

And when the East had a chance to win it with a conversion, Dave Parks of Texas Tech sliced across from his defensive end position to block Rick Leeson's kick.

It was a rugged battle of pass interceptions, fumble recoveries and smashing, pro-type blocking and tackling in which the defense completely dominated play.

West's Defense Strong — The defense set up the West's touchdown in the third quarter when Jim McNaughton of Utah State recovered Don Di Gravio's fumble for the West on the East 25. On the first play, quarterback Don Trull of Baylor fired a high trajectory pass to Willie Brown of Southern California in the end zone. Brown shook off two defenders and leaped high in the air to snare the ball over his shoulder for the touchdown.

It was one of many feats by the brilliant Trojan who also intercepted two passes and knocked down several other aerials while playing on defense.

For his efforts, Brown was named the outstanding player of the game. End Vern Burke of Oregon State, on the receiving end of Trull's passes, was named the outstanding lineman.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — The North Carolina Tar Heels unlimbered their big guns, Ken Willard and Junior Edge, Saturday and shot down the Air Force Academy 35-0 in the most lopsided game in the 19-year history of the Gator Bowl.

Willard, a 220-pound junior halfback from Richmond, Va., tore through the Air Force defenses as though they were made of tissue paper while Edge, a 265-pound senior quarterback from Fayetteville, N. C., gave the airmen fits with his option play.

The Tar Heels, co-champions in the Atlantic Coast Conference in an 8-2 season, had far too much class for the Air Force which based its entire hopes on triple-threat ace Terry Isaacson who did not have a good afternoon.

A full house of 50,018, mainly rooting for North Carolina, egged the Tar Heels on as they powered their way on long drives almost every time they had the ball.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — The best passer in Dixie found a volunteer pass-catcher from Tennessee to give the Rebels a 21-14 victory over the Yankees in the 26th Blue-Gray football classic Saturday.

Quarterback Larry Rakestraw of Georgia snapped a 10-0 lead by passing to Tennessee halfback Mallon Faircloth in the flat and over center to shatter the Blue defense. The Georgia Bulldog, leading passer in the Southeastern Conference this past fall, hit Faircloth for a 44-yard scoring pass and a 19-yarder for another touchdown.

Faircloth was the leading rusher for Tennessee, gaining 1,161 yards during the past season.

The other Rebel score came on a one-yard crunch by Jerry Rogers, 5-11, 215-pound fullback from Texas A&M. Quarterback Russell Vollmer of Memphis State made the conversions.

The Yankee scores came on a one-yard plunge by fullback Ken Coleman of Arkansas and an eight-yard pass from Henry Schiohle of Wichita to halfback Don Caum of Penn State.

The first Blue try for an extra point was blocked by Louisiana State end Mike Morgan. But the Yanks picked up two points after their second score with a snap pass from Schiohle to Missouri halfback Vince Turner. Rakestraw, who can get rid of the ball with three tacklers clinging to him, hit 14 of 22 throws for 177 yards. When he wasn't aiming at Faircloth's breadbasket, he hit Bulldog teammate Mickey Babb for vital yardage.

Ode Burrell of Mississippi State, named the most valuable player in the Liberty Bowl last week, kept the Blue defense honest with his slashing slants. Caum was the outstanding Yankee defensive player. He intercepted one pass and made crucial tackles to keep the eight-point favored Rebels in check. Rakestraw was named game's most valuable player.

ROGUE RIVER — A shot by Arden Liles, which was in the air as the final buzzer sounded, plunked into the net to give Rogue River a 60-59 victory over Sutherlin here Friday night.

It was a hectic climax to a see-saw game in which the lead changed hands numerous times, particularly in the last quarter. Rogue River had a two-point lead with four minutes to go. Then Sutherlin grabbed the lead.

Rogue River drew to within a point of the visitors with about a minute left. Then with four seconds to go, Gus Scheffstrom of Rogue River fouled out. But Sutherlin's Don Goertzen missed his free throw.

Gary Frantz grabbed the rebound and threw the ball the length of the floor to Liles, who got the winning shot away just in time for it to count.

Sutherlin led after the first period, 13-12. Rogue River led at the half, 29-28. At the end of the third quarter, Sutherlin was back in the lead with 41-33. Scheffstrom was high point

Record Gate Expected As Giants, Bears Clash Today For NFL Title

CHICAGO (UPI) — The New York Giants and Chicago Bears tangle today for the National Football League championship, and fans will pay a record gate of $1.5 million to watch their all-out battle in clear cold weather.

The temperature was expected to be in the low 20s with fair skies at game time, advanced to noon, CST, to make possible a sudden death overtime if the two clubs are tied at the end of the regulation playing period.

Regardless of the frigid air, Owner-Coach George Halas of the Bears expected the field to be good unless unexpected snow or rain raises the humidity prior to game time or falls after the game begins.

The field has been covered by a tarpaulin for more than a week and a half dozen blowers have forced hot air under the tarp to thaw the scattered frozen areas.

National League Commissioner Pete Rozelle predicted the record gross gate of $1.5 million which would provide for a player pool of about $750,000, paying the players on the winning team about $6,000 and those on the losing end about $4,000, comparable to last year's payoff.

All 46,000 tickets for Wrigley Field, site of the game, were expected to be sold Saturday, leaving closed circuit television at three local sites for those shut out at the Bears office.

Mustangs and Ducks Prepare For Tuesday Sun Bowl Clash

EL PASO, Tex. (UPI) — The Oregon Webfoots will meet the Southern Methodist Mustangs Tuesday in this bowl - happy town's 29th annual Sun Bowl football game.

In the bowl's first try at major college teams, it has come up with a new stadium and accessory events from basketball to bullfights at nearby Juarez, Mexico, and sky-diving to table tennis tournaments.

If the weather holds, and there is no reason it shouldn't as the sun has shown in El Paso for 711 consecutive days — a near sell-out crowd of about 25,000 is expected.

Oregon, with a 7-3 record, is a four-point favorite over its Southwest Conference foe, whose 4-6 mark belies its ability.

The Mustangs beat Navy, the nation's No. 2 team 32-28, and lost by only 5 points to national champion Texas, which met Navy in the Cotton Bowl classic in Dallas New Year's Day.

Four of SMU's six losses were by one touchdown or less and they also held a victory over the Gator Bowl's Air Force Academy team as well as Texas A&M and Arkansas.

SMU's last bowl game was in 1949 — oddly enough against Oregon, and the Mustangs came out ahead 21-14. SMU uses a balanced rushing-passing attack, mostly out of the "I" formation and can rely on the nation's leading punter, Danny Thomas, when in trouble.

Thomas also is the Southwest Conference's No. 2 passer behind national passing leader Don Trull of Baylor. Thomas has thrown for 66 completions in 138 tries for 846 yards.

Oregon relies more on its passing than its running with junior quarterback Bob Berry doing the throwing. Much of the Ducks' running attack depended on Mel Renfro, who will miss the Sun Bowl because of a hand injury.

The Mustangs arrived here Saturday after a workout in Dallas. Coach Hayden Fry announced he would hold one-a-day light practice sessions through Friday.

The Ducks also beat Stanford, West Virginia, Idaho, Arizona, Washington State and Indiana. In addition to San Jose, they lost to Penn State and Rose Bowl-bound Washington.

Oregon arrived Friday and Coach Len Casanova announced the team would hold two practice sessions daily. After a spirited workout, however, Casanova cut the practices down to one a day.

Team To Have Oregon Flavor

HONOLULU (UPI) — The North team in the annual Hula Bowl Classic here Jan. 4 will have a strong University of Oregon flavor.

Oregon coach Len Casanova and Jack Mollenkopf of Purdue coach the team, while four Webfoots are on the squad. They include end Dick Imwalle, Tackle Milt Kanehe, guard Dave Wilcox and back Larry Hill.

Oregon State's Vern Burke also is on the north squad.

One of Casanova's former assistants, Johnny McKay, now head coach at Southern California, heads the South team along with assistant coach Johnny Johnson of UCLA.

The Maggies defeated Toppensh, Wash., 102-58 and Port Peck topped Chiloquin, Ore., 107-81 in the semi-finals of the three-day tourney.

Lapwai, Idaho, won over the Warm Springs Cougars 85-74 and Sprague River, Ore., got past Wapato, Wash., 85-72 in losers' bracket games.

The Maggies meet Port Peck for the championship tonight at 7:30 p.m. following consolation contests.

Puget Sound nudges Portland State, 67-65. Puget Sound posted its ninth win by edging Portland State 67-65 in a non conference basketball game at Portland Friday night.

Bob Abelseth scored 20 points for the Loggers, who led 36-27 at halftime. John Nelson and Dave Remington topped the Vikings with 27 and 19 points, respectively.

Red Raiders Fall To Humboldt, 76-63

ARCATA, Calif. — The Humboldt State Lumberjacks led all the way to defeat Southern Oregon College here Friday night 76-63.

The two teams met again Saturday night. The Red Raiders will return home to Ashland for a game Monday night, Dec. 30 against Eastern Washington.

With Ron Good netting a sensational 35 points, the Lumberjacks were hard to catch. The Red Raiders did put on a sustained drive in the fourth quarter. With five minutes remaining they pulled to within two points. But then Jerry Shults, SOC's leading scorer, fouled out and the Raiders were unable to keep pace.

The teams had somewhat comparable shooting percentages from the field. SOC netted 26 of 70 for a 37.1 percentage, Humboldt 29 for 74 or 39.2.

The Lumberjacks won it at the free throw line, getting in 18 of 21, while the Red Raiders were doing only 11 of 23.

Celtics Finally Are Defeated

By United Press International

The "Big O" ran circles around the Boston Celtics Friday night to increase the Cincinnati whammy over the National Basketball Association champions.

Oscar Robertson scored 37 points, gathered 22 rebounds and made 11 assists as the Royals defeated Boston for the fourth time this season, 91-67.

The Celtics, who have lost only five games in 29 outings, outscored Cincinnati only in the fourth quarter.

Philadelphia defeated Detroit 119-107, in the only other action. Chet Walker topped the winning 76ers, with 29 points and Ray Scott tallied 22 for the Pistons.

In the night's only other game, Pete Panagabko slammed home a goal with a minute and 17 seconds left to play to give the San Francisco Seals a 4-3 win over the Vancouver Canucks. The win boosted San Francisco into fourth place in the league—one point ahead of Vancouver.

Sandy partially atoned for a defeat in the state tournament last year by handing Tigidar a 63-57 loss Friday night in the highlight of a slim Oregon high school basketball schedule.

The sixth-ranked Pioneers lost to Tigidar in the semifinals of last year's state tourney at Eugene. Tigidar went on to finish second and Sandy finished third. The Tigers were ranked fourth in the state going into the Friday night game.

In other action, unbeaten Marshfield handed Corvallis its first defeat, 68-58.
