Mrs. Snidow is the former Marcia Ann Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Williams, 900 Siskiyou Boulevard. The bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Snidow, came from their home in Aurora, Colo., for the ceremony.

Some 250 guests attended the 8 o'clock evening rites. Dr. D. Kirkland West officiated. Baskets of white chrysanthemums and stock decorated the church. Organist was Mrs. Norman Thames.

ing coffee was Mrs. Raymond Frisbie.

For traveling to Honolulu and Maui, Hawaii, the bride chose a forest green suit with matching coat. The newlyweds will make their home in Eugene after January 4. The bride, a senior at the University of Oregon majoring in English, is a graduate of Medford High School. Mr. Snidow, a 1963 graduate of the University of Oregon, majored in physical education. He received the Hoffman award for being chosen the team's most valuable player and has just completed his first year with the Washington Redskins, professional football team. He plans to work toward his master's degree in physical education at the university.

Prior to the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Frisbie and Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Hinkle were hosts for a rehearsal dinner December 21 at the Frisbie home. Thirty persons attended.

Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Williams were hosts for a dinner attended by the Williams and Snidow families at the Rogue Valley Country Club. About 20 persons attended.

Evening Ceremony Weds Pair

EAGLE POINT — Miss Patricia Jean Claus, and Ronald E. Colley were married in 7 o'clock evening rites read December 21 by the Rev. Carl Christian in Eagle Point Community Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Harold Claus, 311 South B Street, Eagle Point, and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Mary Lou Colley, 1111 North Riverside Avenue, Medford.

Kenneth H. Luney gave the bride in marriage. Her gown, ballerina length, was of embossed peau de soie with fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline. The bell-shaped skirt was made with front over-panel held by a self-fabric bow above the hemline and the controlled back fullness was created by unpressed pleats. Her elbow-length veil was held by a crown and she carried white carnations.

Miss Sandra Poole, White City, was the bride's attendant. Her French blue frock was styled with scoop neckline and fitted bodice and the ballerina length skirt was made with small unpressed pleats. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Gary Dallas Colley was best man for his brother and another brother, Roy Colley, seated guests.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Georgia Powers was organist.

About 75 guests attended the ceremony and reception given by the bride's parents in the church rooms. Mrs. Edward Kimmel served the wedding cake and Mrs. David Kahl poured punch.

The couple is living at 921 1/2 Maple Park Drive, Medford. The bride attended Eagle Point High School and the bridegroom attended Medford schools. He served for three years in the Army.

Miss Hinman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hinman, 675 Oakdale Drive, is a member of Delta Gamma social sorority for women.

Miss Hinman, home for the holidays, plans to leave Monday to spend some time in San Francisco with friends.

Church Ceremony Held

The marriage of Miss Terri Lynne Mentzer and Daniel Delaney Matteson was solemnized December 21 at 8 o'clock in the evening in Medford First Methodist Church. The Rev. Robert Cornwall, of the Ashland Assembly of God Church, an uncle of the bride, officiated.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Thomas Cornwall, 710 Beekman Street, Medford, and Donald O. Mentzer, San Mateo, Calif. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Matteson, Route 2, Box 281, Central Point.

Mr. Cornwall escorted his step-daughter to the altar. The bride's gown of Chantilly lace and silk organza over taffeta was styled with basque bodice with long sleeves of lace and a Sabrina neckline embroidered in pearls and iridescent sequins. The bouffant organza overskirt was banded with scalloped lace picked up in back and front over a lace ruffle and held in place with organza bows. The hand-rolled silk illusion veil was elbow length with a butterfly face veil. Holding the veil was a cap of ruffled lace scattered with pearls and sequins.

The bridal bouquet was of white carnations with detachable white orchid corsage.

Attendants Wear Pink

Miss Rosemary Turk, Happy Camp, Calif., was the honor attendant and bridesmaids were the Misses Cheryl Johnson and Karen Johnson. Laurie Matteson, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

Their frocks were of pink satin and they wore matching net veils and slippers. Single flowers held the bridesmaids veils and the maid of honor's headpiece was a white fur crown. Their flowers were white and pink carnations.

William Oldham, Sacramento, Calif., was best man and seating the guests were John Dunlap and Harley Dickerson, Ashland.

Candelabra holding taper lights the altar, which was decorated with baskets of white flowers on either side. Pink bows marked the pews.

Mr. Cornwall sang the wedding songs.

The candles were lighted by Lynette and Judy Cornwall, daughters of the Rev. Mr. Cornwall.

Some 100 guests attended both the ceremony and reception.

Mother Wears Blue

The bride's mother chose a blue velvet suit with matching velvet purse and gloves and blue hat and shoes. The bridegroom's mother wore a green wool dress and black accessories.

A wedding supper served in the home of the bride for relatives and friends was given by the bride's mother.

The couple traveled to northern points briefly and a wedding trip is planned for a later date. The bride's traveling suit was of pink wool which she wore with black patent accessories.

The couple is living at 538 South Keene Way in Medford. The bride is a 1963 graduate of Medford High School and the bridegroom was graduated in 1961 from Crater High School. He is employed by the J. J.

Newberry Company Shopping Center Store as assistant manager trainee.

The bride has lived in Medford for about five years. The bridegroom, born in White City, always has lived in the Rogue Valley, and is a member of an early-day family.

Out-of-town guests included a great aunt and uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Bolts, Spokane, Wash.; a grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Jack Edwards, Springfield, and an uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. James Cornwall, Eugene.

Father Escorts Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of peau de soie fashioned with long sleeves, fitted bodice and A-shaped skirt which formed a chapel train. A wide panel of Chantilly lace fell from the neckline to the hem and an inverted pleat in front was fastened at the waistline with a self-fabric bow. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion was held by a pillbox hat of tulle and Chantilly lace accented with pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom, and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Attending the bride were Miss Laura Eleanor Williams, San Francisco, her sister, as maid of honor; Miss Carolyn Snidow, Aurora, Colo., sister of the bridegroom; Miss Susan Brennan, Miss Joy Olson, and Miss Nancy Curtis, Portland, Delta Gamma sorority sister of the bride; all bridesmaids and Mrs. Gene Vail, Arcadia, Calif., bridesmatron. Flower girl was Lissa Bush.

Wear Crepe Frocks

The attendants wore frocks in white crepe with floating back panels which were held at the waistlines with self-fabric bows.

Their veils were held by small white taffeta hats and each carried a bouquet of red roses, laurel and holly. The flower girl wore white organza and carried a basket of red rose petals decorated with a red bow.

Earl Lasher III, Seattle, Wash., served as best man. Seating the guests were John C. Morris, Eugene, Neal Ingram, Portland, Michael Orling, Eugene, and David Gelsler, Eugene, all Beta Theta Pi fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, and Keith Harrison, Medford.

For her daughter's wedding and the reception which followed at the Rogue Valley Country Club, Mrs. Williams wore a red velvet dress with black accessories. Her white gardenia corsage was on her purse. Mrs. Snidow chose a dress of cream colored embroidered brocade with soft green accessories. Her corsage was of cypripedium orchids.

Sword Used

Lighted white candles in crystal holders, holly and Hawaiian bouquets decorated the club for the reception. For cutting the first piece of cake the couple used a Masonic sword, owned by the late William J. Williams, grandfather of the bride. Four-

Antique Prayer Book Carried

CENTRAL POINT — A Norwegian prayer book, more than 100 years old and loaned by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. W.J. Gebhard, was carried by Miss Judith Ann Gebhard when she became the bride of John T. Burns, Jr. The candlelight ceremony was held at the Central Point First Presbyterian Church December 21 at 8 o'clock in the evening. Dr. C. Donald Krug officiated at the double ring rites, attended by 200 friends and relatives.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Gebhard, 2900 Gebhard Road, Central Point. Mr. Burns is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Burns Sr., 45 Mace Road, Medford.

Mrs. Bernie Clayton, Grants Pass, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Jane Burns, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Karen Gebhard, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids.

George Lee was best man and ushers were David and William F. Burns, brothers of the bridegroom.

Douglas Christie and Stephen Colley were candlelighters.

Father Escorts Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of satin moire brocade with a fitted bodice, a basque waistline, sweetheart neckline and elbow length sleeves. The modified bell-shaped skirt was fashioned with two floating hemline panels flowing from the empire back of the bodice, and joined with three petite bows. She wore a bubble veil of silk illusion, with a hand-rolled face veil held by a petal cap of re-embroidered Alencon lace and pearls with a miniature pearl tiara.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white chrysanthemums on the Norwegian prayer book. The bride's attendants wore street-length dresses of moss green brocade. Their headpieces were fashioned in pillbox effect and they carried nose-gays of holly with red net and ribbon.

White chrysanthemums and Christmas greenery decorated the church. Pew ends were marked with white bows with holly and candles.

German Song

Mrs. William F. Saxbury sang "Ich Liebe Dich," and Mrs. Arthur L. Schafroth sang "The Lord's Prayer." Organist was Mrs. Darrel Greb.

The bride's mother wore a raw silk print dress with a moss green duster and black accessories. Her corsage was a white spider chrysanthemum. The bridegroom's mother wore a champagne beige suit trimmed in brown fur with brown accessories. Her corsage was a gold spider chrysanthemum.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the church fellowship hall following the ceremony.

The bride's table was decorated with holly and white candles.

Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Dale Miller. Mrs. Edwin Gebhard, aunt of the bride, poured coffee. Mrs. Max Flowers Jr. and Mrs. Lester Wilcox served cake. Mrs. James Allen at the gift table and Miss Rena Offutt was in charge of the guest book.

Couple To Coast

The newlyweds traveled to the coast for their wedding trip, the bride's traveling attire being a red wool suit with black accessories.

Among out of town guests were the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Cleo Linkhart; her uncle, Bernie Clayton; Mr. Lou Barry, all Grants Pass; Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. Smith and Linda and Mark, the bride's uncle.

and cousins from Dixon, Calif.; Miss Stephanie Fowler, Roseburg; Mrs. William C. Calhoun and William I. Calhoun, Myrtle Creek.

The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of Crater High School. He attended the University of Oregon and is a student at the University of Oregon Dental School in Portland.

The couple will be at home at 739 S.W. St. Clair Avenue, Portland, after January 1.
