

CLOSE TURNPIKE — East Berlin policemen close the turnpike after a hearse carrying the body of Paul Schultz crossed the sector border into East Berlin at Heinrich Heine Strasse. Schultz, an East Berliner, was shot and killed by Communist border guards as he attempted to flee to West Berlin on Christmas Day. His body was shipped to East Berlin for burial at the request of his brother. (UPI)

Minstrel Marchers Target of Protests

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Spokesmen for two civil rights groups have vowed to "use our bodies" to block the 6th annual Mummers Parade on New Year's Day to protest black-faced minstrel marchers. Louis Smith, president of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), said other CORE chapters from Washington to New York were being asked to come to Philadelphia to help halt a "gross insult." The threat was also voiced by Stanley Branche, head of the Committee for Freedom Now. Smith said other groups, which he did not identify, had threatened violence if any of the marchers in burnt-cork or black grease paint makeup "cannot be responsible for any violence which occurs" because "we will try with our bodies, non-violently, to see that the parade does not go on."

SAM'S STAMP POSTPONED — The Post office Department in Washington, D.C., said that issuance of 1,300 million stamps showing Texas Sam Houston with a rifle in his hand has been postponed indefinitely. A postal department spokesman said the commemorative stamp is being withheld "as a matter of taste." (UPI)
