AURORA CAUSES FLAMES

Telephone Exchange Burned and Cable Communication Hindered.

Telegraph Operator Hatch said he was driven away from his instrument by a flare of flame which enveloped the switchboard and ignited the building.

London.—Telegraph and telephone lines in the British isles and throughout all northern Europe have been seriously interrupted by the great magnetic storm which virtually paralyzed wire transmission in the United States Saturday night and Sunday. Cables between England and the United States were affected early Monday morning and transmission was badly delayed.

The disturbance was believed to have caused a fire which destroyed a telephone exchange at Karlstad, a Swedish town about 160 miles west of Stockholm. The building was destroyed.

New York.—Damage to the Western Union Telegraph company's trans-Atlantic cables by the electrical disturbance accompanying the aurora borealis Saturday and Sunday nights may necessitate raising of the cables for repairs, Newcomb Carlton, its president, announced Monday night.

Traffic on the cables was interrupted from time to time during the disturbance, he said, and serious damage caused by the stray electrical currents.

"The magnetic disturbance," he said, "was much the worst ever experienced. A great many fuses were blown out on our land lines and we had great difficulty with the submarine cables.

"The oceanic currents accompanying the aurora searched out the weak spots in the cable insulation, aggravating them and interrupting service."

GERMANS OBDUKATE, MILLERAND ASSERTS

Little, France.—With Germany still disclaiming responsibility for the war, there is no other course than to deal with her as one who must be compelled to make good her misdeeds, declared President Millerand in an address delivered Monday in the presence of King Albert of Belgium.

"If the citizens of Lille and northern France and Belgium are too generous to claim revenge," he said, "they nevertheless, in accordance with the remainder of the people of France and the allies, demand justice against the government and the nation which brought on the war, and which, throughout the hostilities, pursued a systematic course of ruin and devastation toward the mines and industries, employing pillage and arson as a means of insuring their own industrial and economic ascendancy upon the coming of peace.

"As long as Germany continues to deny the responsibility which her plenipotentiary acknowledged at Versailles there can be no real peace.

MEXICO TO BE TOLD WHAT HE MUST DO

Recognition of Obregon Will Depend on Conditions.

STATEMENT DEFINITE

Americans on Their Interests Must Be Safeguarded Before U. S.
Will Resume Relations.

Washington, D. C.—A definite statement outlining conditions on which the United States would extend recognition to the Mexican government has been prepared for submission to President Obregon. This statement, in the form of a memorandum, it was said Sunday night will be delivered to Obregon by George T. Summerlin, counselor of the American embassy at Mexico City, who is expected to leave for Mexico this week.

Conditions for recognition, it is understood, are practically identical with recommendations made by Secretary Hall in his report to congress as chairman of a sub-committee of the senate foreign relations committee.

The communication is said to insist that Obregon must sign a document giving assurances that Americans and their interests will be safeguarded in Mexico before the United States will consider resumption of formal relations. If such assurances are given, it is believed Henry P. Fletcher, under-secretary of state, who was ambassador to Mexico under Wilson until he resigned, will be designated to represent the United States in drafting a treaty.

The communication contains nothing which can justify its being characterized as an ultimatum, but it is understood Obregon will be left in no doubt as to the determination of the American administration to see that American interests are not indefinitely imperiled against. It is said to have been prepared in collaboration with Secretary Hall.

Conditions set forth are:
Elimination of provisions of articles 27 of the Mexican constitution relating to the nationalization of the subsoil rights insofar as they affect tenure of land to which title was obtained prior to the adoption of the constitution in 1917.

Elimination of the provisions which deprive Americans of the right of diplomatic appeal in cases where property is acquired.

Modification of the provisions which prevent American acquiring and owning property within a certain zone along the Mexican coasts and international boundaries.

Assurance that article 33 providing for the expulsion of "pernicious foreigners" will not be applied to Americans without filing charges and opportunity of a fair trial.

Modification of the provisions governing religious worship in such manner that American clergy shall have the right to exercise functions usual in their denominations.

It is also suggested that the two governments agree to the creation of a mixed court for the adjudication of claims.

MARINE WORKERS ACCEPT WAGE CUT

C.—Acceptance of the 15 per cent wage reduction by marine engineers demanded by the shipping board, but with modifications as to working conditions, is understood to be included in an agreement reached here Saturday at conferences between Secretary Davis, Chairman Benson of the board, and representatives of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association.

Separate agreements, it is understood, will be signed by representatives of the radio operators and the seamen.

The changes in working conditions and overtime, it was indicated, would bring the actual reduction in wages to somewhat less than 15 per cent.

The Italian prune crop was somewhat affected by recent rains and Mr. Van Trump said it was too early to estimate the damage.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

SCOUTS SOW GOOD HABITS

Scouts everywhere are interested in gardening and forestry. In a recent issue of Boys' Life, the chief scout executive reminds the boys of the movement that there is another kind of planting going on all the time, whether they are conscious of the process or not, Mr. West says:

"Boy time is essentially planting time. The habits you are forming now are the ones you will reap the harvest of when you get to manhood. And that is where scouting comes in as a sort of expert gardener to show you what to plant, and how and why to plant it.

"One of the accusations that is sometimes made, with some justice, against the American people, as a whole, is our lack of thoroughness, our tendency to be 'jacks of many trades,' expert at none. This charge should never be allowed to fit or hit a scout. Thoroughness and the doing of a given task, 'pon honor, to the best of our ability should be, and I am glad to say usually is, characteristic of boys who are scouts. Even if it is a small thing in itself, like learning to tie a certain kind of knot, keep at it until you have the trick completely mastered, and can tie the knot any time, any place, just right, as speedily and deftly as possible.

"Take the matter of first aid, when you are learning to make bandages and tourniquets, studying and practicing what to do in case of a certain accident or how to prevent that accident from happening, put your whole mind and skill into it. Learn to do it, not 'any old way,' but just right, so that if the time comes when you are called upon, in the flash of an instant to put that knowledge to practical use, you will not be found wanting.

"Be prepared. Sow habits of energy, patience, perseverance. Train your mind and body to work together in splendid alliance. Live clean lives, think clean thoughts, read good books, follow true heroes, like Abraham Lincoln and Theodore Roosevelt. Plant for tomorrow and manhood."

MESSAGE FROM SPANISH CHIEF.

In connection with the new international scout magazine representing all the scouts of the world, the chief scout of Spain makes this statement:

"To create an international journal which shall be the expression of the common ideals that flourish beneath the boy scouts' flag throughout the world; and with that journal to carry to the farthest corners of the earth the common desire for physical and moral redemption for which men of goodwill in all climes are striving, will be to endow with a new strength, with the winged and powerful strength of written thought, this gigantic crusade of universal brotherhood which already binds with strong links the youth of all countries, without distinction of race or frontier.

"The boy scouts of Spain, who are working for their country and for their well-being, follow the inspiration of Baden-Powell's immortal doctrine, cannot forget that they are part of that enterprise, or that in all nations they have brothers with the same desires and ideals; and for this reason they rally with enthusiasm to the work of their common publication, which will find in us fervent propagandists if it serves, as we hope, to strengthen and encourage the noble scout aims."
