UP TO THEIR NECKS IN WORK

Some of our fine Community women workers in Hubbard certainly made things "hum" and "hustle" for the big Clackamas-Marion meet. "Spuds," "Murphys" or if you wish Killarney peaches were made into the best salad ever tasted. Mrs. Herman Carl, who is the community worker par excellence in everything from a high school social to a club picnic, made the dressing and 99 other things. Mrs. H. E. Adams, Mrs. Ed Wolfer and Mrs. George Knight prepared those "spuds" as only real chefs could. Mrs. Wolfer decorated the tables with flowers from the Ed Wolfer gardens and they were beauties. Taletta Voget brought in a gallon of that super fine cream from the Foshay farm to go with the 20th Century coffee, donated and served by our Oregon City friends who were glad to do it for that Clackamas booster, Percy Caulfield. Mrs. Laura Knox of Gresham boiled "Murphys" until the Irish were already for a dandy good "dressing," and, believe me, she knows her "spuds." The Herman Carl farm sent in two gallons of Guernsey cream for Senator Reynolds and Henry Crawford to pass on and for Senator Linn Jones and "Tex Rankin" to sample. You've got to fly high "to beat" it said "Tex."

"We Trilled 'Em to Salem," following Charlie Wilson's advice and got that fine Rotarian Malloy, of the Cherry City Baking Co., to send down wonderful cakes for 500 "eaters." Then we grabbed Frank Deckebach, another "Rote," of the Marion Creamery, who "loaded" us up with cheese. Hollis Huntington, of the Man's Shop, the best in Oregon, remarked that a couple of excellent cravats would be in keeping with the cheese and cake, so we took them. Then comes that "up and go-getter" Kiwanian, Howard Hulsey, of the Western Dairy Products Co., and shouted "get into that ice cream, Prof., and name your quantity." And we DID. Mr. Mattson of Woodburn, who makes the finest home made ice cream you ever tasted and who packs it in his own manufactured "clear as crystal ice," handed us 5 gallons as a gift. You've got to have a "comfy cushion" for this show, yelled Carl Hansen, of the Hansen Motor Co., and he gave us a red one to match our complexion. What good is a community meet "piped up?" Mr. Beers, of Moore & Beers Drug Co., if the ladies do not have some exquisite perfume? And he dumped two big bottles of the expensive odor in our "Universal," (paid ad for Henrico). This happened in Woodburn, the "World's Berry Center."

"You'll need a headlight or a flashlight, to see your way," said Bill Gifford, of the Hubbard Garage Co., and he handed us a dandy. "What's the use of all this stuff," said Frank Thompson and George Garland, "if a couple of boxes of fine candy are not on the list? You need them in your business. So candy is our sweet word to you." Joe Hicks, that genial and courteous manager of the 20th Century and as popular as our next president, Hoover, whispered in our ear, "better get all the cheese and sugar you can 'old top,' so count me in as a community booster." This we did, and we were so tickled right then that we could have kissed Joe just like George Baker "smacked" Mary Garden.

"What's this noise about," squeaked Jack Sadler, in his delicate tenor voice. "Step into this mercantile establishment and see if you can find better sugar or mustard anywhere? Sadler & Krauss want you folks to know that Aurora grows the best sugar cane and mustard this side of the Pudding river." "Listen to me," sings A. L. Strickland, of the Molalla Electric Co., "the Stafford Pickle Co., known all over the world as producers of the only pickles with guaranteed 100 per cent warts, wants your meeting to know that sugar and mustard, or even ice cream or Fishers Pigs in blankets were never complete without a Stafford pickle." "Save your nickels for Staffords pickles," (copyrighted in Aurora).

And then to that big little town, the "hop land" of Oregon. "Take the bloming store," said Earl Carver and Joe Groff, "and if you need

Hubbard Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Mack have returned from the beach.

Mrs. McKenzie's brother, who has been on a visit, has returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert de Lespinasse and children were Sunday guests with Dr. and Mrs. de Lespinasse.

Piper the jeweler of Woodburn will make that watch or clock run. Just try him.

Pelmulder's Floral Gardens have anything you want for your garden, porch box or any floral need. 8-tf

Stuart L. Johnson, president of the Commercial club, brought in Mrs. Johnson's cake and it was a dandy.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sadler of Aurora were present at the Clackamas-Marion meeting. Always glad to see the Sadlers.

Fred Gearin of Donald had to speak a la Jerusalem with his hands. He was too busy with a "Pig in a blanket."

Going to buy a piano? See us at the Enterprise office.

Get Piper at Woodburn, the real jeweler to repair it.

We noticed those fine twins with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Strickland. You can even duplicate "Jimmie" or "Gene."

Tom Kay made a fine talk at the Clackamas-Marion meeting. He certainly put a "crimp" in Joe Dunne's "bill." Tom knows his "Dunn."

If Frances can ever bake a cake like her good "Ma" we bet she will have a million sweethearts. Thanks Mrs. Leffler, we certainly appreciate you.

Frances Weaver in her Fisher Blena costume had Mary Pickford "backed off the map." Frances Weaver worked like a beaver. And so did her good mother. Many thanks.

If Olson can't repair it, throw it away.—O. S. Olson, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Woodburn, Oregon.

We're going to move right next to George Grimps to simply live on that fine cake that Louise bakes. Not only can she sing and handle the saxophone but she certainly wields a mean hand when it comes to cake. We're for you Louise.

One of the very first workers to respond was Mrs. George Leffler, who carried with her a cake such as only Mrs. Leffler can make. No wonder George is so happy and good looking. Mrs. Leffler was head over heels in work from the time she arrived until the lights went out.

sugar or cheese or mustard or anything else, we have the best and are always ready to boost the community." You simply can't beat that combination—Carver and Groff.

Little Jack Bush turned the corner in his $7000 meat auto and nodded that he wished to see us. "What's the matter with the Donald Meat Market sending over about 25 pounds of Frankfurters?" "Why nothing, Jack, only I'm afraid Ivan Stewart and Fred Gearin will eat nothing else but Donald products." "Let the bunch sample them, Doc, and since my good old friend, George Grimps, is also donating a lion's share I want to be in on it too." There you are. Two of the best butchers in Oregon, Jack and George. What! No more type? So the printer says and we will have to "throw in." But the trip around the Horn was worth it, and we're going to send Ivan Stewart, the popular secretary-treasurer of Marion Community Clubs, and that good old scout, Henry Crawford, a full account of the meeting, written on the classy stationery donated by the Evenden Drug Co., of Woodburn, and held in the fine book stands given by Eyerley's Variety Store from the same place.

L. A. Beckma and T. C. Watton were Potland visitors Wednesday.

Dan Hostetler and family are leaving for Indiana to be absent until January.

Wm. Dick and family of Portland were Hubbard visitors Sunday.

Chiropractic treatments. Dr. Ethel K. Riley, Hubbard. Calls anywhere.

Roy Troyer is planning a trip to Kansas with his family in the near future.

J. J. Hershberger and family are expected home about the 10th of September.

Be SURE you register if you want to vote. If you are NEW citizen bring your final record papers. NOW is the time to register.

Mr. and Mrs. August Riechel of Woodburn attended the joint Clackamas-Marion meeting last week.

August Will and B. G. Wells recently visited the former's farm in southern Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knox of Gresham were week end guests with their daughter, Dr. Ethel K. Riley.

Kodak Finishing, Hall's Studio Woodburn. 116-120 rolls developed, 1 print each, etc. 3-tf

Bob Smith has made a splendid residence out of the old Wolfer mercantile building. It adds greatly to the town and shows what a person may do in the way of beautifying his property if he so desires. We offer congratulations.

Bring your seed to Stewart & Garrett at Donald. The best equipped plant. Clover, vetch, flax, etc. Experts in charge. Farmers always welcome.

Cobie deLespinasse peeled and boiled spuds for the Clackamas-Marion meeting like "a house afire". Cobie said it is fine practice for the slide trombone. Well, she knows how to handle the "Murphys" as well as the music.

Thanks to the mayor and city council for the use of the chairs. And thanks to good Levi Miller and Volunteer Firemen, who hauled them and brought them back. Thanks to everybody from everywhere who helped. We WILL NOT and DO NOT forget.

WANTED—Girls and women to work on pears. Season will start about Aug. 20, and will last about six weeks. Good wages can be made on the piece-work basis. Phone Main 84.

Ray - Brown Company, Inc., Woodburn, Oregon.

TEX RANKIN SPEAKS

Tex Rankin, Oregon's own aviator and a dandy at that, gave a magnificent talk on the future of aviation at Playmore Park last Friday evening. Tex is not only a good flier but a rattling good talker. The audience liked this clean cut aviator.

Big time Labor Day at Playmore Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pembler are occupying the Joe Weaver home.

Mrs. Ida Hochstetler and sons have returned from a visit in eastern Oregon.

These are the big days—Sept. 19-20-21-22—at the Round Up in Pendleton. Who's going?

J. P. McKillip, St. Paul wholesale butcher. Cold storage equipment. See me if you have hogs. 7-tf

When all other remedies have failed, why not try CHIROPRACTIC. Dr. Ethel K. Riley, Specialist, Hubbard, Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. George Leffler and the Holmes family of Molalla enjoyed a week at the Newport beaches.

Margaret and Vivian Miller visited with their grandmother, Mrs. Adams, at Woodburn, last week.

George Riley and wife of Portland visited Mr. and Mrs. George Beck last Sunday.

Dr. Thompson, Friday, August 31 — Thompson's Hotel.

Those fine Camp Fire Girls worked like little troopers and we are mighty grateful to them. You know our number, girls, when you need anything. Be sure and call on us.

For the Butteville Fire Relief Insurance or any other insurance phone Wm. Bliven, Blue 32, Woodburn, at Mr. Bliven's expense or leave name at Hubbard Enterprise office.

Get your tickets for all S. P. stages at Garland's Barbecue. 23-tf

If Olson can't repair it, throw it away.—O. S. Olson, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Woodburn, Oregon.

Bill Gifford of the Hubbard Garage donated 10 gallons of gas to the big Clackamas-Marion meet. Tom Molloy of Salem won them, and knowing our failing for "gas", gave them to us. For which, dear Lord, we are grateful. Thanks, Bill; thanks, Tom.

Three sacks of grain were stolen from Cecil Daemler's truck Monday evening. Thieves broke into George Grimps' building, just outside of town, and stole several hides. It is high time to stop this sort of thing, even if the city has to pay an official to patrol our streets. The public will demand this soon and rightly so.

Piper, the jeweler, of Woodburn, will trust you. Repairs fine watches.—Adv.

EXCELLENT PROGRAM

The program rendered at Playmore Park August 17 for the Clackamas-Marion meet was, to say the least, exceptional. The Mt. Angel Boys band played magnificently. Mrs. Ivan Stewart, accompanied by Marguerite Blumenberg, was in her usual splendid voice. Vernon Keane and Ted Kinns showed them how to play banjos and that boy from Milwaukee made them laugh. Mr. Henselman, with his accordion, again made the Cherry City famous and had Charlie Wilson all smiles. An inspirational talk from Oregon's fine orator, B. F. Irvine, won the hearts of all. Other speakers were State Treasurer Tom Kay, Senator Reynolds, Henry Crawford, "Tex" Rankin, Merton Ellis, Ed Brodie and Howard Belton. The movie man took several pictures which will be shown in Salem and Oregon City. The meet was a decided success.

AT THE ELSINORE

Moving pictures of the Clackamas-Marion meeting were shown at the Elsinore theatre in Salem, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and in Oregon City, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. This is a big advertisement for the two counties and especially for Playmore Park, Hubbard. Several people from Montana, California and some from Hood River and Grants Pass who saw the picture said it was an "ad" that certainly would do good.

WHO BOILED THE MURPHYS?

Here they are: Mrs. George Knight, Mrs. Cobie de Lespinasse, Mrs. Herman Carl, Mrs. Hal Hoss and Mrs. Laura Knox. The clubs certainly enjoyed them, ladies, and WE thank you "a million."

We have the agency for All Sherman-Clay Instruments

Pianos, Organs and every musical instrument. Also the wonderful Sherman-Clay Radios. Reduced Prices. Come in if you need a piano and we will talk business. Everything in music. We are agents for Sherman-Clay of Salem.
