

Distress After Eating

Nausea between meals, belching, vomiting, flatulence, fits of nervous headache, pain in the stomach, are all symptoms of dyspepsia, and the longer it is neglected the harder it is to cure it.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Radically and permanently cure it—strengthen and tone the stomach and other digestive organs for the natural performance of their functions.

Accept no substitute for Hood's. "I had dyspepsia twenty-five years and took different medicines but got no help until I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Have taken four bottles of this medicine and can now eat almost anything, sleep well, have no cramps in my stomach, no burning and no distress." Mrs. WILLIAM G. BARRATT, 14 Olney St., Providence, R. I. Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Rip Van Winkle Libeled.
Rip Van Winkle had just been taking a nap. Placing a hand upon his beard, he murmured drowsily, "How this grows on me!" After which he fell into a second doze, that he might sleep out the remaining ten years.—Yale Record.

How to Keep House.

With all the luxuries and pleasures of this life, its big enjoyments and its smaller comforts, there is an offset or antithesis which we have to contend with in the form of aches and pains. In some way and by some means every one has a touch of them in some form at some time. Trifling as some of them may be, the risk is that they will grow to something greater and rack the system with constant torture. There is nothing, therefore, of this kind that we have a right to trifle with. Taken in time, the worst forms of aches and pains are easily subdued and cured by the free use of St. Jacobs Oil. No well regulated household ought to be without a bottle of this great remedy for pain. It is the specific virtue of penetration in St. Jacobs Oil that carries it right to the pain spot and effects a prompt cure even in the most painful cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Lumbago. You want it also in the house at all times for hurts, cuts and wounds, and the house that always has it keeps up a sort of insurance against pain.

The Cautious Riley.

A friend of James Whitcomb Riley tells a story of an encounter with the bachelor poet once had with a woman reporter. The energetic young woman, after strenuous effort, had finally caught Mr. Riley at the telephone. This is the conversation that followed: "Is this Mr. Riley?" "Yes, that is Miss —" "Yes, Jones, of the Courier-Journal. I've been trying all day to get an interview with you, Mr. Riley." "Ah, would it were now a view instead of an interview," said the poet, gallantly.

"Oh, thanks! How long will you remain in Louisville, Mr. Riley?" "Only a short time."

"Is your wife with you?" "No, ma'am, she is not."

"Where is she, may I ask?" "You may ask, my dear Miss Jones, but I find it very difficult to answer. I am in absolute ignorance as to her whereabouts. For aught I know to the contrary, she may right now be at the other end of this telephone."—Kansas City Journal.

THE SKIN LIKE A SPONGE

Some of the most stubborn diseases enter into the system through the pores of the skin. Like a sponge, it absorbs poisons of various kinds, which are taken up by the little blood-vessels beneath the surface of the body, and emptied into the great current of the blood. The juices of poison oak and other noxious wild plants percolate through the skin like water through a sponge, are taken into the circulation, breaking out afresh each season, and lingering on for years unless antidoted and driven out of the system.

Dye Poisoning among the employees of dye houses, and from wearing colored under-clothing and hosiery, is of frequent occurrence and dangerous to health, causing boils and sores and other eruptions.

Workers in lead, brass and other metals are often poisoned by the chemicals and acids used in polishing, and the dust and filings settling upon the skin, and which find their way through the pores into the blood, followed by inflammation, swelling and the most obstinate sores.

Blood Poison, the vilest of all human diseases, is often contracted through shaking the hand or handling the clothing or other articles used by one infected with this dangerous poison. The deadly virus finding its way through the pores of the skin, contaminates the blood and produces fearful ulcers, eruptions and blotches.

The diseases that enter the system by absorption or through the pores are as deep-seated and dangerous as any brought on by internal causes, and cannot be reached by washes, salves, soaps or other external remedies. The blood must be purified and a healthy circulation established before getting permanently rid of the disease. S. S. S. acts upon the blood, ridding it of the original poison and restoring it to a healthy, normal condition. S. S. S. is guaranteed entirely vegetable, an unrivaled blood purifier and the best of all tonics. With all impurities removed from the blood, the sores and eruptions disappear from the skin. Write us should you desire medical advice or any information about your case; this will cost you nothing.

Precious Stones in America.

"It is a little strange," said Irving L. Russell, "that the United States, so far ahead in national resources of every other part of the globe in all essential things, should be so deficient as a producer of precious stones. I am of the opinion that there will be a big discovery some day of the most valued gems, probably in some out of the way corner of the land."

"I do not mean to intimate that we are exactly destitute of fine stones, but that those found are mostly of inferior quality as compared with the output of the old mines. In North Carolina a good many emeralds and rubies and sapphires are to be had, but they are not of sufficient value to warrant cutting. Some very fine pearls have been taken out of the shells picked up in the streams of Arkansas, and at one time the search for them down there amounted to a craze. Pearls, by the way, have gone up in price from 200 to 300 per cent in recent years. "A great many semi-precious stones are mined in California, the turquoise found out there being especially beautiful, but lacking in hardness. Tourmalines also come from California in abundance.—Washington Post.

Can You Conjugate the Word Kiss.

Richard Grant White, the eminent philologist, was asked once upon a time to conjugate the verb "kiss." He believed and maintained that English is a grammarless tongue, hence he felt no compunction when he gave this: "Buss, to kiss; re-buss, to kiss again; pluribus, to kiss without regard to number; syllybus, to kiss the hand instead of the lips; blunderbuss, to kiss the wrong person; omnibus, to kiss every one in the room; erebus, to kiss in the dark."

No More Orphans.

Bishop Potter admitted at a dinner the other night that he had fallen into the habit of asking his wife what he should speak about if called upon at any public function.

"My wife told me this evening," he said, "that she would like to have me correct a rumor that has been going around to the effect that she intended to give up her house to an orphan asylum."

"Tell the guests at dinner, if you say anything," she bade me, "that it is not so. I have already taken in one orphan, and I do not propose to admit any more into my house, if I can help it."

The Wrong Girl.

Miss Passay (with affected indignation)—Mr. Huggard caught me in the dark hall last evening and kissed me.

Miss Pepprey—Oh, I wouldn't blame him.

Miss Passay—Why shouldn't I blame him?

Miss Pepprey—You say the hall was dark; it was undoubtedly an accident.

Becoming Constitutional.

"Is it true that Uncle Rastus has got de lung trouble, like I heard?" asked Mrs. Jackson, anxiously, for Uncle Rastus was a valued member of the neighborhood society.

"True! I reckon it's true," said Aunt Stasia, with a sort of sorrowful pride.

"De trouble's been chasing back and forth among two or three ob his lungs for dese two las' months, and dis morn'ing de doctor said it 'peared like another one was gwine to be affected 'less he could find some more pow'ful remedy."

POISON OAK AND ITS EFFECTS.

Over fifteen years ago I was poisoned with Poison Oak. I tried remedy after remedy without getting relief. Sores broke out over my body and on my tongue, affecting the lining of my mouth. Finally, about a year ago my doctor told me to try S. S. S., which I did. After taking three bottles all the sores disappeared, and I have not been bothered since, and I feel much indebted to your valuable medicine for so prompt and complete a cure. I am certain that S. S. S. will do all that is claimed for it in blood diseases.

"A tall bride is the best-looking, don't you think?" "Well," replied the titled Englishman who had caught on to a little American slang, "so far as I am personally concerned, I certainly am not looking for one who is short."—Chicago Evening Post.

The army officer looked with displeasure at the soiled sheet of paper that had been handed him. "That's a measly looking document," he exclaimed. "Yes, sir," said the subordinate, touching his hat. "It's the sick list."—Chicago Tribune.

Edyth—Yes, you see she told the count that her father's partner had robbed him of nearly all his wealth, just to test his love for her. Mayme—And then? Edyth—He asked her for a letter of introduction to the daughter of her father's partner.—Chicago News.

Johnny—I wish my folks would agree upon one thing and not keep me all the time in a worry. Tommy—What have they been doing now? Johnny—Mother won't let me stand on my head, and dad is all the time fussing because I wear my shoes out so fast.

Mistress (returning from holiday)—Why, Bridget, whatever has become of the parrot? Bridget—Well, you see, mum, after you left it looked a bit pliny like and didn't talk much, so the cook and I put it out of its misery, poor thing, and I had it stuffed for my new 'at.—Judy.

"They say," said Mrs. Oldcastle, "that Mr. Faddethwaite, who used to belong to our church, has become an agnostic." "Is that so? Josiah used to take his lunch at the same place he did down town, and he says he often warned him that he'd get it if he didn't give up eatin' so fast."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Hallit—What's the matter, Klay? You look all tired out? Klay—And no wonder. I've had a hard day of it. I don't know when I've worked so hard. I looked at the men clean up the railroad station this morning, and after that I saw three safes raised into four-story windows, and four loads of coal delivered in baskets.—Boston Transcript.

They had been married only three short weeks, and he was actually interested in his paper at the dinner table. "Darling," she began in a tone meant to be reproachful, "do you love me just as much as you ever did?" "Sure thing," he answered briefly. She ought to have been satisfied to let it go at that, but she wasn't. "Why?" she asked. "Don't know," he replied. "Just a fool habit I've got into, I suppose." Then for seventeen consecutive seconds silence reigned supreme.—Chicago News.

At the first performance on the new church organ no one in the audience was better pleased than the maid employed in the organist's family. "So you liked the music, did you, Mary?" said the organist the next morning, reports of her enthusiasm having reached his ears. "Oh, it was just grand," replied Mary, "the grandest I ever heard." "What did you like best?" asked the organist, moved by the glowing eulogy. "Oh, I don't know that," said Mary. "But there was one place where you came down with both hands and your feet at the same time; that was about the best. It sounded like the steam roller coming down the street!"

Steel Used in Making Pens.

The latest figures show that more steel is used in the manufacture of pens than in all the sword and gun factories in the world. The first steel pen was made just 100 years ago. A single firm to-day manufactures 200,000,000 annually, using seven and one-half tons of the finest sheet steel each week, or 78,000,000 pounds in a year.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Effect of Moral Teaching on Youth.

Two small boys stood before Judge Stubbs of the Juvenile Court. They gazed fearfully into his earnest, yet kindly face, and not too badly frightened to understand, grasped the import of the lecture.

"My boys, tell me, now, why did you jump off and on those cars? You knew that you might have a leg or an arm cut off, didn't you? You might have been killed. Now, you haven't got any more arms and legs than you need, have you? Don't you see that it's very foolish of you to put yourself in danger in that manner?"

Sitting in the little waiting room of the court half an hour later, both boys were silent. They had evidently been pondering over the words of the judge. Not so much reverence as might have been expected was heard in the voice of the smaller boy as he suggested to the other:

"Hub! Bet that's how the judge lost his own arm."—Indianapolis News.

Self-Righteous Man's Last Words.

Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst was talking about the self-righteous. "They are a strange class," he said. "Whenever I think of them I am reminded of a man who died in Leipzig while I was studying there, some thirty years ago. This man was so abominably self-righteous that they say he murmured as he lay dying: 'And if I owe any man anything I freely forgive him the debt!'"
