State Hist Society

THE COLUMBIA REGISTER

MAGAZINE SECTION.

HOME OF WASHINGTON.

HOW WOMEN PAVED THE WAY

Historic Place is Now Exactly as it Looked During the Lifetime of Great Statesman-General - Thousanda Visit it Annually.

The bell is tolling, the band playing "Nearer My God to Thee" and the passengers know, even before they raise their eyes to the fair sweep of Virginia's shore line, that the steamer is passing Mow t Vernon. A pretty custom—the toll, φ of the bell and the playing of the fine old hymn. A hush falls on the crowded decks, and one feels the thrill of patriotism stirring the hearts of the people. But do the thousands who annually sail down the Potomac to visit the stately home of George Washington know that to a woman's initiative is know that to a woman's initiative is due the restoration and preservation of the beautiful Mount Vernon of to-day? Away back in 1853 this home was in a rapidly deteriorating condition. John Augustine Washington, a son of Gen-eral Washington's nephew, was the owner of the estate. The descendants of Washington evidently did not inherit the clear business sense of their illus.

WASHINGTON AND LAFAYETTE. From a Painting at Mount Vernon.

for future generations this home of General George Washington, In this connection it is interesting to know that during the ten-day annual meet of the Board of Regents in the FOR RESTORATION OF MT. VERNON month of May a banquet is given to the Governor of Virginia. After the feast is ended and the toasts are drunk, the entire association conduct the Governor about the house and grounds. that he may know, by personal observa-tion, that the pact entered into so long ago is being faithfully kept.

It is the custom of the ladies of the association to live at Mount Vernon during the yearly session. At this time the old home wears an air of unwonted galety. The kitchen gives out the most appetizing odors, and, stimulated to unusual activity by tales of the the honor of "servin' de ladies." Even the brick oven, a relic of colonial days, is called into use, the beautifully browned bread, ples and cakes attesting its superiority.

Thirty States Represented.

The Mount Vernon Ladies' Associaof the association, and a vice-regent from each of the States of the Union, Thirty States are now represented. tion is a most exclusive body. It is composed of a regent, who is president Thirty States are now represented. The women are justly proud of the work that has been and is being accom-plished, and so value their places in the council that it has become a custom for the office of vice-regent to descend from mother to daughter or other near relative. When a vacancy occurs in the council the Governor of the State is invited to nominate some prominent woman; but should the name not receive the favorable considcration of the regent and vice-regents no appointment is made until one acceptable to all is proposed.

Miss Cunningham, the first regent, lived at Mount Vernon from 1868 to the clear business sense of their illus-trious ancestor, for in General Wash-ington's time the farm yielded a hand-some income. Now the fields were ly-who took up her abode at Mount Ver-

HOULTON, OREGON, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1905.

STEM INDUSTRIAL CRASH.

Remain the 1 of the STANDARD OIL MAGNATE PRE-DICTS CRISIS AND SUGGESTS PALLATIVE MEASURES.

Would Have Nation Begin Work of Vast Internal Improvements. Ex-Premier Meline of France Also Sounds Warning.

J. H. SHANNON.

That the land is the source of all real wealth, has been said by philoso-phers time out of mind, and now with the urban districts draining from the country much of the flower of its manold days, the corp of Virginia servants are anxious to show their fitness for the honor of "servin' de ladies." Even Land!" All manner of colonization projects are being devised and tried for the purpose of diverting foreign immigration from the cities to fields and to relieve the pressure of congestion in the over-grown centers.One mpends will be precipitated by overroduction of manufactured goods. He says "Consumption must have its ounds, and so with the consumption of manufactured articles. When a man has filled all his requirements in ciothes and furniture a mere lowering of prices, which is all that mechanical improvements generally mean nowa-days, can no longer attract him. Therefore, when the output is not restrained the market necessarily be-comes choked."

Mr. Rockefeller is specific as to the time when the crash is to occur. It is likely that he errs in this, because predictions as to periods of depression and readjustment are seldom fulfilled as to dates. Crises as a rule come unexpected and the immediate reason is most apt to be due to over-expansion of credit, and overproduction of securities than to actual overproduction of goods; but when to the cause of overexpanded credits is added overproduction of manufactures and a lop-sided industrial system, recovering from the crash is more difficult.

Day of Distress Near.

The richest man in America is positive, however, that the crash will come about 1907-year after next-and so sure is he that the trouble is on its way, that he is already weaving a plan to provide work for those who will be thrown out of employment, and thus ameliorate the panic. He is certain that the number of men who will need help will be about 7,000, 000. and when is added to those men the number of dependents, the total is ap-palling. Mr. 'Rockefeller thinks this vast army of unemployed should be set to work by the government on in-ternal improvements, the building of new roads, improvement of old ones, dredging of streams, irrigating land, etc. He says;

Vast Plan of Construction.

"There is enough labor today needed on the public highways to employ all the idle or surplus labor for a century. The improvement of the roads, the dredging streams, and especially of the Mississippl, where annually millions of damage is done by the over-flow, the irrigation of arid lands, the preservation of forests and the drainage of the swamps are the great publie problems that should be occupying the public mind. Municipal, state and national laws should be enacted now for the building of roads, so that

THE TARIFF PROBLEM.

REVISION AND ANTI-REVISION SENTIMENTS IN WASHINGTON.

Speaker Cannon between Two Fires

It is rather amusing to those who are on the inside of the political arena in Washington to observe the manner in which discussions of the tariff are conducted throughout the country. In an academic way the theories of the tariff are talked over. But to the men on whom the real work of revising the tariff would devolve there are very dif-ferent considerations to influence them. They openly declare that the tariff ought to be revised, but they say the danger to business interests would be so great that they fear undertaking it. They inside that a struggle area the speaker. "Now you see what an easy thing it is to revise the tariff," said the speaker. They insist that a struggle over the schedules would last six months, and that during that time the business in-terests would be suffering stagnation that would afflict the country very sorely.

This view is scouted by the revision ists as one that has no standing with men who believe in doing things. They claim that if such considerations are to prevail there never could be a re-vision of the tariff.

So Easy To Revise.

Not long ngo the difficulties in agreeing upon changes in the Dingley over the revision of the tariff. He de clared that it would be an easy job.,

PAGES 1 TO 4.

As Simple as Can Be.

"What would you do with the tariff?" he was asked. "Why," he replied, "it's as simple as Speaker Cannon between Two Fires Question to be a Live One During the Next Session of Congress.

try would be pleased." The Illinois representative was in-formed that he had been preceded by a member from Massachusetts who thought that all that would be neces sary would be to put coal, hides and wool on the free list. "Hides on the free list!" exchanged

"If I was God," again remarked the speaker in his quaint style, "I would make some changes in the tariff. I would put them into effect before any-body knew what they were to be made. Then there would be no unsettling of business and at least some people would be happy."

Question an Absorbing One.

What alarms so many prominent protectionists is what they claim is the danger of unsettling the business onditions of the country. The theretical adjustment of the tariff acording to the principles of protection ing untilled and useless, and the house, non, accompanied by only a few serv and outbuildings were showing signs ants. Miss Cunningham, the regent, of the passing of the years. The glory was prohibited from crossing the miliof that splendid home was departing.

A Woman's Work.

To the great credit of John Augustine Washington it is related that he refused absolutely to consider propositions advanced by private companies and individuals to purchase the estate, to be converted later into a pleasure resort. Think of the desecration-a vaudeville performance on that magnificent stretch of lawn, waiters bearing their burdens of food and drink through those stately halls, the daily uproar of irreverent crowds.

And then came Miss Ann Pamela Cunningham, of South Carolina. She visited Mount Vernon in 1853 and was shocked and grieved at the fate in store for the historic spot. She conceived the plan of rousing the women of her beloved southland to the true state of affairs and enlisting their cooperation in the raising of a fund of $200,000, the price asked for the house outbuildings, wharfage, garden and some two hundred acres of farmlands

So she went to work, and it must be remembered that fifty years ago it took no small amount of bravery for a woman to inaugurate and carry on an undertaking of such magnitude. But after five years of effort the whole of the $200,000 was in hand. It was found impracticable to confine the propaganda to the Southern States, so the North was invited to assist, which she did in generous measure.

At the close of 1858 the Mount Vernon estate was purchased and the title passed to the Mount Vernon Ladies; Association of the Union.

Freed from Taxation.

to its original condition and preserving home of the Father-of his country.

tary lines and could not join her. For

The plan of the rehabilitation of Mount Vernon, by returning to its be brought on by overproduction in rooms the original furnishings, or arti- all lines. The Standard Oli magnetic cles similar in design and construction, (does not stand alone as a prophet of duction of manufactures will lead to Freed from Taxation. A charter was secured from the State of Virginia, granting exemption from taxation, the association in return binding itself to the task of restoring to its original condition and preserving stateman says that the crisis which ity."

J. D. ROCKEFELLER AND HIS NEW WIG.

feature of the ominous flow of people to the cities is the phenomenal develop-ment of manufactures. There may come a time when manufactures will so overbalance agriculture that there will not be enough basic wealth produced to afford a profitable market for the factory-made goods. When the industrial situation shall become so unbalanced, a commercial crash of stupendous magnitude must ensue.

As Helpless Babes.

Then the city-trained men who know not how to make bread out of the soil will clamor for work, curse the economic condition of the period, denounce the state, threaten the re-public with all sorts of fantastic theories, and there will be acute friction between the few rich and the multitude of poor. Gradually men will drift back to the land and learn to make their living with the plow and reaper and a satisfactory equilibrium between agriculture and manufactures will once more be reached. Before this result is attained, there will be intense suffering. Families that are in comfortable circumstances will know the meaning of misery, and families now affluent will fall into beggary. All this is not a dream. Men of clearest vision see it coming.

Rockefeller's Prophecy of Panic. It is what Mr. John D. Rockefeller sees when he predicts, as he did in a truly great national problems is philfour long years Miss Tracy remained at recent interview "an industrial crisis of world-wide extent and unprece-and guarding time buildings. recent interview "an industrial crisis of world-wide extent and unprecedented severity." Mr. Rockefeller says the crisis will is national loss-waste by flood and drought as well as waste by fire. Every acre of land should be made to pay. The government promotes revulture, with a view to increasing the offectiveness of tillage; there, is no reason why it should not give countenance and support to reclamation of land and the enchancement of the fertility of land already under culture. It is the land-the farm, which is the pedestal of the republic

JULES MELINE.

It makes no difference whether Mr.

Rockefeller be right or wrong in his forecast of a gathering storm, his plan is a practical and profitable one and er improvement, irrigation, forest pres-

There should be no effort to minimize the worth of manufacturesmize the worth of manufactures— processes that work up the raw prod-ucts of the earth into serviceable forms. The ores from which are ob-tained the metals of commerce are as much a product of the land as corn, wheat and cotten bet and productile wheat and cotton-not as primarily important, but quite as necessary to man in his present highly organized social state. It is difficult to draw the line between some of the basic manufactures and agriculture, for the iron furnaces and steel mills build the railroads and bridges which give farmers a short-cut to markets.

French Statesman Also Predicts Panic.

But the point is, that where manufactures develop out of proportion to the growth of agriculture, the world is being turned wrong side up. Mr. Meline in declaring that the overpro-

"You see," declared the Massachu-setts member, "we all make too much over the difficulties in revising the tariff. It would really be very sim-ple. We would only have to put hides, wool and coal on the free list and the country would be practically satisfied. We might do more, but that would really be enough. There could be no difficulty in coming to an agreement on that-merefy a matter of a few for the employment of surplus labor his enumeration of road building, rivsetts member came a representative from Illinois who also wanted to re-vise the tariff. He started in the same as his predecessor. He thought there was altogether too much fuss made ervation and swamp draining, as the schedules were illustrated by rep-esentatives who called on Speaker Cannon. It happened that one day a prominent Massachusetts member called to impress the speaker with the easy manner in which the tariff might be revised. "Year control of the tariff with the declared purpose to simply lower the schedules they say would have the same effect on the country that they called to make the Massachusetts are of the ques-tion. A revision of the tariff with the easy manner in which the tariff might be revised. be revised. "You see," declared the Massachu-claim would follow an attack of really be enough. There could emont difficulty in coming to an agreement on that-merely a matter of a few tariff revsionists next winter. The re-tariff revsionists next winter. The speaker listened intently as visionists and the men who believe in the always does listen to advice. But the principles of reciprocity are band-ing together to give battle in the halls

