

Jim Bannister jumped out of the idea of any girl waiting five years for train, his black bag in his hand, and an absent lover, without a word to hat Margaret had withdrawn her the platform in search of his wife and could have laughed at the idea of any walking a little apart from him. children. They generally were there to meet him when he came down from town on Friday evening. Finding that they were not visible, he left the sta-they were not visible, he left the station and took the road that led away from the town and the harbor towards the new suburb which had of late years set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in business as a watering place of the set up in business as a watering place. Interview of the set up in the set u

He could hear the man's voice now, and he crouched lower, lest he might be neen "The poor fellow actually asked me if I thought a girl would wait five, years for an absent lover, and I hadn't the heart to say what I thought. I said: "Yes-twenty years!" Poor chap, I suppose he fancies somebody is waiting for him."

castle on the sand. There was not castle on the sand. There was not a shadow of danger, but it was im-possible to reach her dryshod. The tramp waded through the water, picked up the child, and looked around for her mother. A still more or him, and a still great-er surprise for the public, when one night the dramatic editor became ill and for sheer want of some one better to send the city editor told Cameron he child a minister a wife?" "No. No, Alan. Jim Bannister mar-ried my sister. I.—I knew you would came back, and I waited!" "Your uncle found out after you had goue," Margaret said, as they made their way slowly homeward a good hour afterwards, "that he was quite wrong. He had made a mistake in the accounts, and you were perfectly honest. He bitterly repented his honest. He declared women to be the hater. He declared women to be the hater you know.

Why, I thought Charley Hudson

CAMERON'S WATERLOO.

And This is a True Newspaper Story of Washington,

When he came into the office even the Angel Child knew he was looking for a job. It was written all over him, from the brim of his rusty hat to the tips of his well-worn shoes. And this is a true newspaper story of Washing

The city editor knew what was com-ing, but refrained from signifying it until the request had been made. "Nothing doing," said the city editor, "unless you can help out on sports. We need somebody there just now."

"Well, I can do a little of that," Cam-

Nobody knew where he hailed from, and the Bohemian spirit which rules the newspaper profession prompted no one to ask. Somebody noticed his shabby clothes, concluded his bank ac

A still more brilliant achievement possible to reach her dryshod. The resurprise for the public, when one the tramp waded through the water, picked up the child, and looked around for her mother. It was in store tor her want of some one better to send the city editor told Cameron in a plain style, to send the city editor told Cameron to cover Irving's performance of "Mohana the way. In a moment there was a pattering of soft footteps beind him. ""Won't you let me thank you—"The put the little one down gently, and turned away. In a moment there was a pattering of soft footteps beind him. ""Won't you let me thank you—"The put the little one down gently, and me?" "Won't you let me thank you.—"The put the little footteps beind him. """ "Yes Margaret, I know you, but I thought I had better keep away from you. It reterated you hadly, precious the only man who was not surprised in three miting and far-reaching use of the ture work seand the saver of of footteps beind him. """ "Yes treated you badly, precious "the only man who was not surprised in unremitting and far-reaching use of the ture work the saver of the ture work the saver of the ture work the saver of the second the saver of the ture work the can be and the saver of the saver in fury into the saver of the ture work the saver in the saver of the saver in the saver of the ture work the can be and the saver of the ture work the saver in the saver of the ture work the saver in the saver of the ture work the saver in the saver of the ture work the saver in the saver of the ture work and the saver of the saver in the saver of the saver in the save to the save to the save and the save to the save to the save the save and the saver in the way may be way show the ture work as a save the save to the save to the save to the save to the save the save to the save the saver the saver indices. The boys didn't mind, but they for the as a save the save to the save the saver the save to the save the saver the saver the saver the saver the save to the save to the saver the saver the saver the saver the saver the show that he was convinced that he had misjudged you he left you a half share of everything he had. The house is yours, and the farm with it."

cents each. Everybody you show them to will be you. When sold send us the $2.40 and we will a

Handsome Fur Scarl

The second secon

COLUMBIA NOVELTY CO. Dept. 655, East Boston, Mas.

Music Lessons Free IN YOUR OWN HOME.

A wonderful offer to every lover of me whether a beginner or an advanced player.

Ninety-six lessons (or a less number if you desire) for either Piano, Organ, Violin, Guitar. Banjo, Cornet or Mandolin will be given free to make our home study courses for these in-struments known in your locality. You will get the lesson weekly, and your only expense dur-ing the time you take the lessons will be tho cost of postage and the music you will use, which is small. Write at once. It will mean much to you to get our free booklet. It will much to you to get our free booklet. Is will place you under no obligation whatever to us if you never write sgain. You and your friends should know of this work. Hundreds of our school before." "Have learned more in one term in my home with your weekly leasons that in three terms with your weekly leasons that in three terms with your weekly leasons to thorough and complete." "The leasons are marrels of simplicity, and my H-year old boy has not had the least trouble to learn." One minister writes: "As each succeeding leason comes I am more and more fully permaded I made no mistake in becoming your pupil."

We have been established soven years have hundreds of pupils from eight, years of age to seventy Don't say you cannot learn music till you send for our free booklet and tuition offer. It will be sent by return mail free. Address U. S. SCHOOL OF MUSIC, 15 Union Square. New York City.

BOOKS-BOOKS

We have published some good ones ap ially suited for farmers. Books that will help every farmer to make more out of his farm Write for our catalogue.

WEBB PUBLISHING CO. St. Paul Minn.

Crusade of New England Women to Encourage Cleanilness in Streets, Houses, Bodles, Clothes, Food and Drink. The Woman's Health Club, of Boston is doing an excellent work in the in-terests of public health by the publi-cation of its booklets on hygienic sub-were worn and stained. He wore no (supper," said Bannister, handing him shirt, for the old tweed jacket was but-toned up to the neck. On his head was a battered soft felt hat; on his feet a to the giver.

THE DANGER OF FILTH.

"AND I HAVE BEEN WAITING."

pair of coarse seaman's shoes, he did not say a word. Bannister looked at him. Their eyes met, and Bannister. We are staying here for the unspoken appeal was more elo- the rest of the month. Good-night." quent than any words could have been. He waved his hand and was gone. Plainly the man was a derelict.

So clear was the expression in the man's face that Bannister, answered him as if he had spoken.

"Sorry I have nothing for you." The man's swarthy cheeks flushed. "Did I ask you for anything?"

said. Then the next instant: "I beg your pardon. I am wrong. I did, though not in so many words."

"You look as if you needed help," Jim said awkwardly.

"Then my looks only tell the truth."

"I am sorry," he said hastily, "but the tow I can't stop to hear your story to- of her. night-calmly.

Yet I should like to hear it." "No. reled with my best friend, an uncle. to repay the money for weeks. He He treated me unjustly, or I thought turned and began running after Ban-glauce at his tattered raiment "So you made your way back to the would catch sight of him.

old country?" Bannister said, absently fingering the coins in his trousers pocket,

"Yes-and to the old town, And now courage to speak to a soul. You see, 1 worked my passage home, and 1 scarcely think any of my old friends would now be pleased to see me." He gave a short, bitter laugh.

"But you must have some relatives?"

"Only the uncle I told you of. He is dead.- I have seen his grave in the her face. Margaret! churchyard. And the old house is in His heart stood sti the hands of strangers."

By this time they were moving on side by side, for Bannister was anxious to get home about one thing," said th , derelict, ab- must know at once. ruptly.

did, there is generally some one that to the gate, climbed over it, and then cares for him. Now how long do you ran, under cover of the hedge, so as to aloud. He could have laughed at the as they talked. It was Margaret her- news.

"I should like to send this back to

He stopped as he drew near the re-spectable man with the black bag, but tell me your name?"

"You needn't mind, but my name is

The tramp leaned over a gate, thinking. He could see the chimneys of the house that had been his uncle's, the house he had hoped would one day be his own. It belonged to Charley Hudson now. So he had been told in the he town. But Margaret had preferred him, though some called him a ne'er-dowell. Was it possible that she had been waiting for him all these years? The very thought made his heart burn. It seemed impossible. It was said the derelict, and as he spoke he too much to expect from any girl. Yet smiled. The smile startled Bannister, that man-what was his name? Ban-This was the face of a cultivated man, nister-he had seemed to think it quite of what one calls a gentleman, dirty likely. He must find out. He must and unshaven as it was. He felt that get some decent clothes so that he he could not offer this tramp a copper. might make inquiries. Some one in "I am sorry," he said hastily, "but the town must know what had become Another thing-he must send back "Did I offer to tell it?" said the man that money to Bannister as soon as possible. But how was he to find as possible. But how was he to find him? He knew the man's name, but "I don't see the object of my telling not his address; and he was only a it. It is a very common one. I quar- summer visitor. He might not be able he did. So I ran away to Australia to nister as well as his clumsy shoes seek my fortune, and I found-this." would let him. A little ahead there seek my fortune, and I found-this." would let him. A little ahead there He ended with a rueful downward was a bend in the road, and he felt sure that once around that corner he

He turned the corner, and saw Bannister, but he was not alone. A girl in a light gray costume was coming rapidly to meet him. Two children that I have got here I can't find the darted from her side, and outrunning her, threw themselves into their father's arms. The two, the man and the woman, came close together. She held up her face, and he stopped and kissed'

It was not till then that he saw

His heart stood still. He would not believe it. Had not the man said-?

But, of course, he could not know. Was it Margaret? He did not feel get home. "I should like to ask your opinion turned to him. But he felt that he

At one side of the road there was

"Well, what is it?" a thick hedge, and a field on the "In books, when a ma i goes off as l other side of it. The tramp ran back ed with sincere conten was to have that. He was the favorite, and unbiased scorn. Mrs. Parish, on the contrary, was a

Yes, but your uncle thought he gentlewoman to the tips of her fin owed you some reparation for thinkgers. Her slow, deliberate manner of ing you had cheated him, and so speech bespoke her gentle Southern driving you away from home. He died ancestry and gave some indication of almost four years ago. My sister had her fine womanly character. been married some time before that." Despite his profound antagonism to "And you, my dearest? What have ward the gentler sex, Cameron thought enough of his position on the paper you been doing?" "Oh, I live in London now. I have not to offend Mrs. Parish. pupils. And, I have been-waiting." He turned suddenly and caught her to his breast. "Please God, my little girl," he whispered, as he strained her yet closer to him, "our waiting days are nearly over!"

EIGHTIETH BIRTHDAY.

Mother of Captain Gridley, of Dewey's of the room, saying: Flagship, Holds Reception.

Mrs Ann E. Gridley held a reception at her home in Washington, in Decem-ber, in celebration of her eightieth birthday anniversary. The parlors were decorated in red with palms distributed about the rooms, making a pretty appearance.

Although an octogenarian, Mrs. Gridley is a well-preserved and active old lady, and discourses interestingly up on the remarkable changes which have come under her observations of sev-

MRS. ANN E. GRIDLEY.

Capt. Gridley is the mother of the late of the vocal department of instruc-flagship Olympia of Admiral Dewey's and wife of F. Celoste of the Difference of fleet in the naval action of Manila Orchestra, has set the tongue of gos-Bay.

Beats Hanging.

"James," said the teacher, "do you know what capital punishment is?" "Yes, ma'am," said Tommy, "It's when a fellow is naughty, and his mother shuts him up in the pantry where she keeps the cake and jam." of Music at Christiana. Mme. Bramcares for him. Now hew long do you think a girl would be likely to wait for a fellow, never getting word or sign from him all the time? Would whe be likely to wait five years, do you think?" Jim Bannister coul i have laughed ion's arm, and she smilled into his face aloud the time? Would is the state the smilled into his face aloud the set the state the smilled into his face aloud the states into the states the stat closed in a sandal of ancient pattern,

One day, however, he came into the office from a baseball game. The home team had lost, the day was hot, and, as if to add to Cameron's ill humor, he found Mrs. Parish at the big table in the center of the room, her exchanges completely covering what little space might have been left for anyone else. With one sweep of his arm Cameron sent the papers flying to every corner "To hell with all this rot!" Everybody heard. Every man in the room held his breath, expecting a wife. scene. Mrs. Parish, manifestly sur-prised, looking calmiy, first at the papers, then at Cameron, and in her slow, gentle voice, as if she were repeating her charming "Good afternoon!" she said "That's what I say, Mr. Cameron. 'To hell with all this rot!' But you know if I don't do it I don't get my dinner. But just the same, I feel as you do, and when I go to some of these society people's houses and they com pel me to talk with their servants rather than see me themselves, I say, "To hell with them!""

Cameron looked like a man overboard. He gathered up the papers from the floor one by one. A sheepish look that had never been there before came over his face, and when he had care fully piled the papers on the table before Mrs. Parish he said, loud enough for the entire room to hear:

"You keep your papers here when and as long as you please, and the first fellow who interferes with you I'll kick him full of holes."

Pittsburg Society Shocked at Eminent Singer Who Does Not Belleve in Wearing Stockings.

It is not considered proper to enter high society in Pittsburg without stockings on. Because she appeared without stockings at a reception given by society women of the East End, Madame Maria Sandal-Bramsen, head slp wagging. Mme. Sandal-Bramsen does not believe in wearing stockings, and has not worn them since, when a girl of fourteen, her singing caught the fancy of King Oscar of Sweden, who paid for her education in the Conservatory sen came to Pittsburg with her husband six weeks ago. Since then she has been in popular

Can you tell me why A hypocrite sly Can better descry Than you can or I On how many toes A pussy cat goes?

Pussy Cat Rhyme.

A hypocrite neat Can best counterfeit, And so I suppose Can best count her toes.

The Value of an Acre.

According to a statement prepared by a statistician, to sustain one person on fresh meat, 22 acres of land are required. If, however, this same amount of land be devoted to wheat culture it would feed 42 people; if to oats, 88; and if to potatoes, Indian corn and rice, 176 people.

A Happy Problem.

Pardon me, but I ought to tell you that Jones has run away with your Husband (bored)-Why run?

Goldfield, Nevada, has 250 incorporated Mining Companies, and instead of the barren desert of four years ago, is a hustling, bustling, up-to-date city of 8,000 inhabitants.

