BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Considerable travel to Trout lake.

What's the matter with the ferry boat? A. J. Rand walked in from Lost Lake the other day, arriving here in time for dinner.

Mrs. Phoebe Jones, mother of Louis Jones the engineer, is visiting Mrs. Newman Clark.

Arthur Dishrow will make final proof on his homestead at The Dalles' land office August 20th.

Mrs. W. W. Whitcomb will come up from Portland in a day or so to visit her mother Mrs. S. Hutton.

Rev. T. L. Elliott came up Wednesday from Portland and will remain with us during the summer.

Mr. W. J. Baker has opened his house for boarders, and can accommodate a limited number of lodgers.

A contract will be let shortly for clearing twenty or thirty acres around the hotel, by removing brush, logs, etc.

If it is possible to do it, a road will be built from the hotel to Lost lake. If not a good trail will be made, probably this fall.

Joe Wilson did a good job of leveling for the hotel water works, the water in the tanks is in good shape.

Mrs. Will Graham, of The Dalles, accompanied by her daughter, Lulu, came down Thursday, and will remain two or three weeks.

Sunday Col. C. E. S. Wood, Henry Failing, Captain T. Zebree and Col. Wood's brother went up to the glaciers returning Tuesday morning.

Dr. Newcomb, who has been visiting here for some time, returned to Victoria Monday. He tells us that Hood River grows more attractive each year and he finds it difficult to leave.

The sheriff's sale of property to satisfy delinquent taxes took place at The Dalles Thursday. Several pieces of property were sold and the sale was then postponed until today.

Quite a number of Portland people are at the glaciers and more are going there nearly every day. If the hotel was open all the vehicles in town would not be sufficient to carry the crowds.

The county road out to Tieman's place is developing some fair sized chuck holes, a thing to be expected at this time of the year, but the application of a little bark would act as a good tonic and put it in good shape.

That left handed serenade for Mr. Ingalls and wife did not "pan out" worth a cent simply because Mr. Ingalls invited the boys in, thus abstracting all the dulcet music from tintinabulating bells and their tin pans.

Mr. A. A. Stevens, who resides near Farmington, W. T., arrived here with his family Wednesday. He is a brother of Conductor Stevens and we understand has a place in the valley. He will leave for home in a few days but will leave his family here.

Mr. H. L. Howe resigned the office of justice of the peace at the last session of the county court, and Mr. C. Wells has been appointed to fill the vacancy. The appointment is a good one, as to master the intricacies of the average law business the justice wants to C. Wells.

The new thresher will make its trial on August 5th for the Harbison brothers. The machine is a first class one and will no doubt do excellent work, though if it does not give the boys a little trouble for the first day or so it will not be as cantankerous as the average machine.

Mr. Adams, superintendent of the Mt. Hood Stage Co., took one of the coaches out over a part of the road Wednesday, returning Thursday morning. The trip was made to see how the coaches would handle, and he is more than satisfied. The coaches are perfect beauties, and the way the big grays brought one in this morning reminds us of early days in the mining camps of California. The ride out to the hotel promises to be, instead of a tiresome affair, one of the most delightful portions of the trip.

H. S. Lewis and family returned to Portland, Thursday.

Robert Rand's hardware store was opened for business Friday.

G. T. Prather received Wednesday 2700 pounds of blackberries.

Livery stable business is booming, no teams to be had, so the boys buggy ride their girls on a wheel barrow.

Clark & Mathias' paint shop is in position on the corner of Fifth and Oak and they will soon open out with a full line of goods.

J. B. Rand has finished putting down 1000 feet three-fourth inch pipe, thus insuring a plentiful supply of pure water at his home.

Joe Wilson has been doing considerable road surveying for the county recently. Thursday he surveyed the road from Tupper's mill to Mr. Divers' place.

Mrs. Nellie Pruyn, of Ellensburg, W. T., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Coe, for the past two weeks returned to her home on Tuesday last.

Mr. Habersham, engineer of the Goldendale & Pasco railroad passed through on the east bound train yesterday. He goes up to look after the road's interests.

Mr. D. E. Bedan, has just fitted up a house moving outfit and has plenty of business on hand. His first job was moving Clark & Mathias' paint shop from Ash to Oak street.

Jim Ferguson's saddle horse made an excursion up Oak street, Thursday evening in company with a section of Smith and LarFance's board fence. The horse was recovered later on but the fence is still out.

On Monday last, Messrs Ferguson, Heald and Platt started for Dead point creek to make a preliminary survey for water ditch, the heavy forest fires, however, drove them back and the survey will be postponed until later.

When Mr. E. Lock was returning home Thursday evening, he discovered a fire burning in his destination. In attempting to get through, his team took fright and ran away, doing some damage to wagon, harness, etc.

Hon. E. L. Smith, A. B. Jones and another gentleman whose name we did not learn, left Thursday morning for the Little White Salmon, to examine the country and get an idea of its timber resources. They will be gone for several days and will no doubt see some of the best timber in the territory.

Arthur W. Oiler and Wm. Buskirk will make final proof before the register and receiver at The Dalles land office September 7th; Margaret A. Winans and Wilson R. Winans will make final proof at the same place on August 12th and Michael P. Neff on September 6th.

A correspondent is wanted from each of the postoffices of the White Salmon country. If some one will jot down all the local items of each neighborhood and forward them to us, so they will reach us by Friday at the latest, we will gladly give the space. Let the world know something of your section and thus aid in developing it.

Frank, the six year old son of Mr. Oscar Angell of Eight Mile fell from his horse Thursday and broke both bones of his left arm midway between the elbow and wrist. The horse was standing still but becoming frightened suddenly moved to one side and Frank fell in a rut in the road with the above result. Dr. Logan set the arm, and it will be as good as ever in a short time.

Mr. W. D. Chandler, of Jefferson, Iowa, has been visiting with his cousin, Mr. H. C. Coe. Mr. Chandler was a resident of Hood River over 22 years ago, afterwards he removed to Walla Walla where he married a sister of Cale Reinhardt of the Goldendale Sentinel. He afterwards went east to Jefferson where he has been in business ever since. He is now on the Sound and will probably locate on this coast.

David E. Mattin, who killed Charles C. Grant in a Tacoma lodging house last Friday morning, was arrested at Kalama Wednesday. Conductor Granger picked him up at Media, a small station just this side of Tacoma, and identified him at once by descriptions of him. He telegraphed the sheriff at Kalama who made the arrest upon the arrival of the train. Fears are entertained that he will be lynched on his arrival at Tacoma.

As the season is growing short the hotel management are undecided whether to open the Glacier hotel or to devote the balance of the season to building the other wing. We hope they will conclude to throw it open as the guests will advertise it thoroughly for next year. A conclusion will be reached very shortly and the hotel will either be opened, or a force of men will be put to work at once to build the other portion.

Mr. Jewett, the White Salmon nurseryman, left a new (to us at least) variety of fruit at Middleton's store the other day. He calls them Prunis Samouf and we rather think that must be what they are. They look like a plum flattened on the ends until they are wider out than they are long up. They smell more like an apple than a plum, and are said to taste like a banana. They are a Chinese fruit, and if any further information is wanted our readers will have to apply to Mr. Jewett.

Frank Cramer August Buchler's brewer got in a quarrel with Ed. Elliott, who runs the engine at the brewery, at The Dalles yesterday, in which Elliott knocked Cramer down. Cramer evidently got mad as he got his shotgun and renewed the battle. Elliott ran and fortunately fell over a stick of cordwood just as Cramer fired at him, the charge perforating the air where Elliott's head was an instant bore. He rose and continued his flight towards the railroad when Cramer let a shot at him with the second barrel, but the gun was loaded with bird shot at the distance was great and rapidly getting greater, no damage was done. Cramer was arrested and had his examination yesterday afternoon.
