Notwithstanding the cold weather which we have had for the past month wild flowers have bloomed right along. At present there is a profusion of purple Iris on the hills across the river.

The Ladies Aid Society will give a dime social Thursday eve March 19th, at the residence of Mrs. Ziegler. Fun and social games the order of the evening. Committee.

Dale Harrison while playing at the school ground Monday fell, his forehead striking an oak tree. The result was a bad cut over the left eye which required several stitches to close.

Parents and school children take notice that Hanna & Ziegler keep a general stock of school supplies and will make you the best prices going on copy books, tablets, pens, penholders, pencils, ink etc.

Now that we have a Miltha Company we should also have a band. We have the material and suggest to our old band that they get together and tout their horns on occasion requires for the boys in blue.

Monday the Townsite Company sold lot 6 in block C to J. L. and W. A. Langille. They will put up a two story building on the lot at once. We understand a restaurant will occupy the lower floor. The foundation is being laid.

Congregational services for March 15. Morning 10 o'clock Sabbath school 11 o'clock church service in valley church. Evening 7:30. Preaching in Columbia Hall. Text 2nd, Cor., 4th, chapter 34th, verse. But if our gospel be hid it is hid to them that are lost.

S. J. LaFrance arrived home from a business trip through the eastern part of the state Thursday. He is traveling continuously and insists that there is more buildings and improvements being made here proportionally than in any town in the state. And yet the good work has hardly commenced.

Work on the United Brethren church building was commenced Monday, and the foundation is rapidly taking shape. A car load of lumber was received during the week from the Oregon Lumber Company which is now on the ground. The plan of the building is good and if it is followed it will be a very handsome little church.

McCormack one of the men shot at the Locks recently is in a precarious condition with the chances largely in favor of his dying. From all accounts he was a peacable fellow enough when sober, but whiskey stirred up the slumbering devil in him Parr, the man who shot him, is in jail at The Dalles awaiting the result.

The Steamer Baker was taken from Crates point to The Dalles Monday, and will probably be put on the route soon. As a matter of fact she should not have been taken off the route at all, as there has not been a particle of ice in the river during the winter, or a day on which she could not have made her regular trips.

Captain Blowers had about twenty members of D Company out for drill Tuesday. The boys have had but little chance to learn but from the way they went through the evolutions, we are satisfied that they are determined to be the crack company of the Third, and we predict that D will yet be the best drilled company, and will furnish the best rifle team in the state. Hood River is proud of her militia company, and expects to hear good reports from it when it has had a chance.

Four Cougar: Less.

W. R. Whians killed four cougars on Saturday the others Sunday and Monday, all near "Dead Point." He brought the skin of the largest one into town Thursday and will have it mounted. It measured eight feet in length, and its claws were over an inch deep across the base, and nearly two inches in length along the outer curve. We imagine he looked much more handsome with his running gear taken out than he did before, at least his teeth and claws gave us that impression. Mr. E. W. Whians who is a skillful taxidermist will mount the best.

Sash and Door Factory.

The Stranahan Bros. are at work getting their sash and door factory ready to begin work. The boiler is in place and O. L. Stranahan will go to Portland after the machinery early next week. It is expected that the machinery will be in place by the 21st, and that the factory will be in operation before the end of the month. This is the beginning of our manufacturing industries, but who shall say to what proportions they will grow within the next ten years.

EDITOR GLACIER:

As Mr. H. C. McK, has not shown up for some time permit me to add a few lines to your sheet.

The snow was 21 inches deep this winter the deepest at any one time, and the thermometer ran down to 12 degrees below zero.

The settlers have decided to have a bridge across the east fork of Hood River a few rods below Mr. S. M. Baldwin's mill, and it is now under construction.

The recent chinook has cleared the snow to some extent.

Frank Reis is able to be around again after being confined indoors for about six weeks.

Mr. Editor you may hear from this section as often as matters of interest transpire.

BORN.

In Hood River Valley March 6th, to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harbison, a daughter.

President Harrison will start on his western trip about the 1st, of April, accompanied by members of his family, and Secretaries Tracy and Proctor. He expects to be a month on the trip unless the day of his departure gets in its work on his plans.

The dead lock in the Illinois senate was broken Wednesday by two of the Farmers Mutual Benefit Association members voting with the democrats electing General Palmer by a vote of 103, C. J. Lindley 100, and A. J. Streeter, 1.

Until the 3rd, of August.

The latest dispatches from the Commissioner of the land office to the Register of The Dalles land office is that the time from which the law giving actual settlers six months in which they have the priority right to file on lands, began to run February 3rd, and will therefore expire August 3rd.

The officials of the land office at The Dalles received the following letter from the general land office last Friday:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 18 1891.

Register and Receiver, The Dalles, Oregon: SIRS—Your letter of the 14th, instant has been received. In reply to you are advised that the entries allowed by you of the lands forfeited by the act of September 29, 1890, were erroneously allowed; but having been made, they will be allowed to stand, subject to any adverse claim that may be asserted within the time prescribed therefor by the law.

The act of September 28, 1890, (section 2) aforesaid, provided that homestead claimants should present their claims within six months from the passage thereof, but the act of February 18, 1891, extended the time to six months from the date of the promulgation of the instructions by this office.

Purchases under the third section of the act of 1890, may be made within two years from such promulgation. Said act does not require the filing of a declaration of intention to purchase and does not authorize the collection of a fee from applicant to purchase.

The blank form of application and affidavit forwarded is sufficient for the class of persons provided for in the third section who settled on the land with the bona fide intention of purchasing from the Northern Pacific railroad company, when it should secure title, but when money is paid a receipt therefor must be issued, and a certificate must also be issued as a basis for a patent. The ordinary cash certificate may be used, but a reference thereon must be made to the fact that the purchase was made under the act of September 29, 1890.

The form of application and affidavit for homestead claimants enclosed by you will be satisfactory.

Respectfully,
LEWIS A. GROFF,
Commissioner.

A Shooting Affray at the Locks.

Mr. J. W. Thompson, who is under arrest as an accomplice in the shooting affray at the Cascade Locks, and who was arrested and brought to the city Saturday night, gives the following version of the affray: There appears to have been an agreement between Henry Parr and Patrick McCormack to meet in the prize ring, and considerable excitement was created over the affair. Parr was formerly a resident of Washington; but for the past two weeks has been keeping a barber shop at the Locks. McCormack is a large man and weighs fully forty pounds more than Parr. They met at the Locks Saturday about noon. There were six in the crowd. The fight seems to have been settled by the belligerents and Mr. Thompson came up to Parr's barber shop, and walked into the saloon—the barber shop is in the same building. Mr. Parr asked him to come up and take a cigar, and he took a cigar. Mr. Thompson stood there and talked awhile, and then went aside by another door. Another man came in and went to the barber shop. McCormack was waiting there. McCormack went to the bar with the door open, and he and McCormick called him back. Parr looked at him and told him there was not room to talk over the affair or else he did not have time, and turned to go out. He walked out of the saloon and off the steps. McCormick followed him, and as he stepped off the sidewalk he pulled his pistol and said, "here we have it," and commenced shooting. Parr on being followed, turned with his side towards McCormick and prepared for defense. They were about fifteen feet apart, and fired until the pistols snapped. Mr. Thompson and a crowd of others were standing on the sidewalk while the shooting took place. At this juncture McCormack turned as though to go into the saloon, but only made one step backward, when he appeared to raise his pistol again, or to reload it, Thompson could not tell which. Parr at the same time went towards Leavens' store, and said, "Boys come on; I'm shot all to pieces." At this time Thompson went towards him, and they started up the track. Some one inquired from the crowd what is the matter? Thompson told him there was a shooting scrape, and as they kept up the track several shots were fired at them. Parr received a shot in the breast and the ball was taken out near the left arm, and is not necessarily fatal. McCormack was struck in the side and is seriously wounded.—Times Mountaineer.
