Now there is whole lots of truth in this statement, truths which the write hereof when in charge of the Wasco Nun iterated and reiterated until the subject became tiresome to both writer and readers. We undertook to show and did show that there was wilful premeditated and gross mismanagement of the money and of the work, under the regime of Powell, and certainly an effort to delay and retard the work under his successor Major Handbury. We did not stop there, but claimed then as the Chronicle admits now that the enlargement of the size of the canal was done at the instigation of the O. R. & N.
