BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

J. H. Gerdes is on the sick list.
C. R. Bone was down from Grant Sunday.
Captain H. C. Cox went to Portland yesterday.
Pictures framed to order at the furniture store.
Does S. B. get there? Well I should smile, S. B.
The Elliot residence, near town, was finished yesterday.
Coffins and undertakers supplies at the furniture store.
Call and see the new school suits for boys at Hanna's.
County court was in session at The Dalles this week.
The W. C. T. U. will meet at 3:30 this afternoon.
All kinds of country produce bought and sold at Harrison's.
A fine line of gent's furnishing goods just received at Hanna's.
Mrs. Elliot and Mrs. Burrell of Portland were here Thursday.
T. R. Coon has planted several acres with strawberries at Mosier.
Stock Inspector Rice has resigned his office on account of ill health.
Mr. Floyd Fields left Monday night for his old home, Dunaing, Nebraska.
Mrs. John Wilson has been quite sick for some time, but is improving.
S. J. LaFrance, after a short visit home, left for Heppner Wednesday morning.
Superintendent Shelley was visiting some of the schools of the valley last Thursday.
Copley Hurlbush and Claude Coppel went to Portland Monday to attend the business college.
The K. of P. have work in the second and third ranks tonight, and a full attendance is desired.
Superintendent Shelley will move his family to The Dalles next week to remain during the winter.
Mr. Kenrick and family have gone to Eastern Oregon. He is still in the employ of the Union Pacific.
The regular quarterly teachers' examination for teachers' certificates will begin next Wednesday at The Dalles.
The Regulator is to carry an excursion party down the broad bosom of the Columbia on the evening of the 14th.
James W. Wallace, yesterday sold the eighty acre tract recently purchased by him of W. H. Bishop, to T. R. Coon.
Marvin Rand has again returned to Hood River, not meeting that encouragement in business he expected in Portland.
For any one purchasing ten dollars worth of furniture of me, I will deliver the same at landing free of charge.
S. E. BARTMESS.
More new goods at Mrs. Howells' this week. Prices reduced; they must go. Small profits and quick sale will be her motto.
We understand we are to have a "delectable school" exhibition soon, the "pupils" being engaged in rehearsing for the same.
Mr. Charles Rogers and family, who have been in Portland since last winter, have returned to this place and are living on their farm.
Mr. Ellison's little girl, who had her leg broken three weeks ago, is getting along nicely and will be able to be out of bed in a few weeks more.
If our contemporaries in The Dalles will ease up just a little on the Regulator business they will do a wise thing. Too much sweetness in time cloys.
Rev. Eli D. Sutcliffe, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church of The Dalles, conducted services in the parlor of the Mt. Hood hotel Wednesday evening.
Mr. Bast has purchased property at Eugene, and in consequence both he and Mrs. Bast will leave us in a week or so to make their home at that place.
We have received a stock of deeds, mortgages, etc., which we will sell to those in need of that kind of material at considerably less than 100 per cent. profit.
Chrysanthemums now hold sway and Hood River boasts some beautiful collections of them. Wilder Pease, could here find satisfaction and content.
Mrs. S. C. Smith, has strawberries in her garden that will measure four inches in circumference, but they are not ripening well on account of the rain.

The second quarterly meeting of the U. B. church of this place will be held on Saturday and Sunday of next week. Rev. G. Sackafosse will conduct the services.
Uncle Sammy Clark, of Moscow, Idaho, who has been visiting friends in the Willamette valley for two months, stopped off here for a day on his way home. He left Wednesday morning.

Mr. C. G. Roberts and family came in from their place during the week for a short visit. Mr. Roberts shipped a pair of horses to The Dalles to be wintered Tuesday.
District court meets at The Dalles Monday. The docket is a large one, but Judge Bradshaw will polish it off as neatly and speedily as a cub bear would a rousing ear.
After nearly two weeks of steady and copious rain, the sun made its appearance for the first time Thursday. The ground is pretty well soaked and fall grain never looked better.
Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Husbands of Mosier were at Portland during the week. Mrs. Husbands' health has been poor for some time, but we are glad to state is improving.
Col. Houghton has resigned the Colonelcy of the Third regiment, to take effect about the 1st of December. The Colonel's change of residence from The Dalles to Portland made the resignation necessary.
Revival meetings will be held at the U. B. church, commencing Friday eve, the 13th inst. Rev. G. Sackafosse and Mrs. Ella Jones will be present to assist in the services. The public are cordially invited.
U. B. Church: Preaching at 11 a. m. Sunday school at 10 o'clock in the morning. Young People's meeting at 7 in the evening. A gospel song-service will take the place of the regular service in the evening. A welcome to all.
Mr. J. T. Delk was arrested Friday evening charged with threatening to do injury to the person of another, and was placed under bonds to keep the peace in the sum of $1,000. He procured bondsmen at The Dalles Saturday.
Mrs. Champlin took her daughter Winnie to The Dalles last Sunday and placed her in the Sister's school at that place. It is one of the best schools in the state, and Miss Winnie will have the best of opportunities to acquire a good education.
The school-house flag has been supplanted during the wet and stormy weather by a handsome pennant. All the building lacks now is a mast and sail to make one believe that Hood River was a deep-sea port and that the admiral himself was here.
The demand for Oregonian's Wednesday morning was so great that the train pulled out before the newsboy could supply it. All of which shows that the great American citizen is interested in the elections in the East, an interest that the meagre reports of the Wednesday's dispatches was unable to satisfy.
Mrs. Stella Gray desires us to state that her suit against E. R. Gray, for a divorce, has been withdrawn. The reason—well, she didn't give us any, and as we can't keep a secret, we give our readers the full benefit of our information. The fact is true, however, that the case has been dismissed.
Watch our sale columns for some of the best real estate bargains in the country. If you want to buy call on us, and if you want to sell, come and see what we can do for you. We advertise all property placed in our hands free of charge, and are so situated as to make the quickest sales. It will cost you nothing unless a sale is made.
Mr. Bast showed us his patent square one day this week. We are not up in matters of that kind, but this seems to be a very convenient instrument. It shows at a glance the length of rafter and jack rafters required for any sized house at any pitch, and at the same time furnishes a pattern for cutting them.
Mr. Fred Goodfellow, who has been visiting friends in Astoria, arrived home Wednesday morning. He took some Hood River apples with him, which attracted considerable attention and caused extended inquiry concerning this place. This is the right kind of advertising and is an example that other of our citizens should follow when going away from home.
The time of holding services in the Congregational churches, to begin Nov. 8th, is changed as follows: Services in the Riverside church will hereafter take place at 11:30 a. m., instead of 7 p. m., as heretofore. Sabbath school at 10:30. Services in the Valley church will take place at 3 p. m., instead of 11 a. m., as heretofore. All are cordially invited.
F. M. AUKS.
Superintendent Farley's report for the first month's operating expenses of the portage road at the Cascade Locks shows that the earnings will not yet pay the operating expenses. He suggests, however, that with the present earnings the operating expenses can be cut down sufficiently to make the road self-sustaining. We understand from the tenor of his remarks that he will resign before January 1st, and will recommend that the services of a superintendent be dispensed with.
Hollowe'en was evidently a week late in arriving here, as the boys did their celebrating Wednesday night in the usual humorous manner by placing boxes, barrels and other impediments on the porches and sidewalks. At the post office a dry-goods box as big as a small barn held possession of the porch, and at Harrison's the hind wheels of a big lumber truck loomed up in the gray light of the morning. Other extremely ludicrous boxes and trash properly disposed no doubt caused the celebrants of the occasion intense amusement.
The proposed irrigating ditch seems to be hanging fire temporarily between several parties who had intended construction of it. So far only one company has been incorporated, the Central, and the route proposed by this company, we understand, will not go as high as desired. If this is true, another company will be incorporated to supply water to lands not reached by the Central. The Glacier has called attention to the matter until the value of the ditch as an investment is understood, and no fears need be entertained that it will not be built.

NOTICE.
The shareholders of the Oak Grove Cemetery, of Hood River Valley, are hereby notified to meet in Odd Fellows' Hall, at Hood River, Nov., 7th 1891, at 2 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of considering approval of transfer of property and other business of great importance. A full attendance is greatly desired.
D. G. HILL,
President.

In Remembrance of Lillian Oiler.
"She faded by the way side, and the angels took her home,
Now our little darling is dying,
Moon she'll cheer her soft blue eyes,
Angels wait to bear her gently
To her home beyond the skies;
Kiss her pale lips sweetly parted,
Moon we'll see her never more,
Angels voices call our darling,
To that distant golden shore.
To that distant golden shore."
She was all that made home happy.
With her little sword of love,
Now she goes to join her pain;
In the Father's home above.
How we'll miss her little footsteps,
And her voice we'll love as dear!
But in heaven she awaits the mother
Left so sad and lonely here.
Then chide not the mother that she weeps,
But comfort her instead,
In language eloquent and sweet,
The poet, true has said—
"You saw not the angels who met her there
But over the river, the beautiful river,
"Thy darling is waiting to welcome thee."
—Bass 1—

Lone Star Literary.
The question chosen for debate next Wednesday evening is, "Resolved, that Intemperance has caused more misery than War." The leading disputants are Will Shoemaker and Richard Gibbons. Mr. Shoemaker will be assisted by E. C. Miller, C. L. Gilbert, Fred Shoemaker, James Stranahan, W. Foley, James Ingalls, Charles Wallace, John Gibbons, Charles Stranahan and Rev. F. M. Aunks. Mr. Gibbons will be backed by J. H. Shoemaker, M. Willis, B. F. Shoemaker, C. E. Markham, H. E. Balch, John Nickelson and Rev. Rigby. These meetings are well attended, and the public generally is invited to be present and to assist.

To Move the Depot.
There is a rumor, that seems to have general credence, that the depot is to be moved in the near future to some point near the section house, and it is probable that this will be done. The sills and under works of the building are rotten and a new foundation is absolutely necessary. The principal reason for making this change are that the present location in the middle of the only sand patch in this neighborhood conveys a bad impression to newcomers, and the other that the level ground near the proposed new site gives ample room for side tracks, and will afford ample accommodation for loading and unloading cars. The new location will also make the depot more convenient to the town as it grows through Waucoma and to the proposed new hotel. Taken altogether, it will probably do more good than harm to make the change. It will probably affect property values somewhat for a short time, but this will even itself up before 1892 becomes a back number.

MARRIED.
At the residence of the bride's parents in Hood River valley, Wednesday evening, Nov. 4th, James M. Hoag to Miss Etta Udell, Rev. Rigby performing the ceremony. Mendelsohn's wedding march was played as a prelude to the ceremony, and after that was performed a splendid wedding supper was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Udell, Mrs. C. H. Ellsworth, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Blowers, Misses Minnie and Eva Blowers, Alice Udell, C. J. Hayes, and Henry and Wilard Udell. Mr. and Mrs. Hoag have gone to house-keeping in Oak A. R. Middleton's residence on Oak street. It is unnecessary, perhaps, to add that the GLACIER has extended to them its paternal blessing and has bespoken for them the kindest treatment from the chief clerk of Kismet.

DIED.
At Hood River, Saturday morning, October 31st, Lillian, daughter of Mrs. Mattie Oiler, aged 5 years. The funeral took place Monday morning.
Lillian was the only child of Mrs. Oiler, who is indeed bereft, her husband dying about a year ago. Lillian was a bright little child of happy disposition and sunny temperament. In such cases words of consolation are but mockery, idle, hollow, useless. The tenderest sympathies of the entire community are with the bereaved mother in her doubly sad bereavement.

A Wharf-boat.
The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Transportation Company, in other words, the company owning the Regulator, are calking and repairing a wharf-boat, which will be placed at the landing here. It will be 45 by 20 feet and will have a convenient waiting-room, with stove, etc., for passengers. It will be covered over so as to give ample protection to freight, and it is scarcely necessary to add, will prove a great convenience. This company seems to be going on the principle of deserving success whether it gets it or not.

PORT TOWNSEND, Nov., 3, 1891.
EDITOR GLACIER:
Permit me through the columns of your worthy paper to write a word of encouragement to my school-mates in district No. 4, hoping that they may profit by it in their present winter's school work. As you all know I went to school to Prof. C. L. Gilbert, for two years, and although he does the work of two teachers, still through his untiring efforts and good teaching, I am able to take the lead in nearly all of my classes, in the (11) eleventh or highest grade in the schools of this city. I advise you all to make good use of Professor Gilbert while you have him. Success to the efforts of you all.
TOMMY A. MCKAY.

Bright Prospects.
Mr. Joseph A. Wilson returned from Ashland, in Southern Oregon, last Friday night. He, with several other gentlemen, bonded a mine some three miles from that place, and Mr. Wilson has been superintending the sinking of a prospect shaft on the ledge. The shaft was sunk 145 feet, the quality and quantity of the ore improving steadily from the top down, until the last assay ran as high as $153 to the ton. Ten tons of ore, an average of the lot taken from points at all depths of the shaft, have been sent to Tacoma to be smelted. Should the ore not prove refractory and should it work up to 60 per cent. of the assays, Mr. Wilson and his confederates will go into the ranks of Oregon's millionaires. He brought several samples of the ore with him, and we unhesitatingly pronounce it the best we have ever seen in Oregon. It is one that would cause a stampede down in Nevada or Arizona, and we are informed that the supply is practically inexhaustible. We congratulate Mr. Wilson on his brilliant prospects, and sincerely hope that the mine may prove better even than the very good it promises.

Cheap Rates to Denver.
Those desiring to visit Denver will soon have a splendid opportunity. The Mining Congress will be held in the "Queen City," Nov. 18th and 19th, and a great many will want to visit Denver and vicinity about this time. To accommodate these people the Union Pacific has made a rate of one fare for the round trip. Several days' limit will be given on the tickets, and the return portion will be good for stop-over privileges. For dates of sale of tickets, limits, etc., apply to

A Weird Phenomenon.
Capt. Carrie, of the British ship Wayfarer, which arrived in Oakland, Cal., a few days ago, 154 days from Antwerp, reports a weird phenomenon on the night of Nov. 12. The Wayfarer was then in latitude 52 deg. 30 min. south, longitude 65 deg. 20 min. west. It had been blowing several days, but with nightfall the air became perfectly calm and the sea as smooth as glass. Overhead the sky was as black as ink from the dense masses of heavy clouds, and with the barometer at 28.50 a rain storm was looked for. The expected down-pour did not occur, but instead the sea glowed with a phosphorescence beyond anything the oldest mariner had ever seen.
The ship's surroundings were lit up so that it was possible to read on deck. Nobody cared much for reading, however; the contrast between the light from the sea and the inky clouds was so ghoulish that all hands could not help feeling that some unnatural catastrophe was about to occur. The crew were much relieved when a breeze dissipated the clouds, and the phosphorescence disappeared at the same time.—San Francisco Examiner.

An Infuriated Cow Among Children.
An infuriated cow broke away from a herd of cattle which was being driven through Hospital street, Nantwich, to the Crewe abattoir, and ran into the Wesleyan school yard. The children were in the yard waiting for the opening of the school doors. The appearance of the animal caused a panic among the children, whom it attacked furiously. A number of them were caught on its horns and tossed, while many others were trampled upon. The drovers and other men who had pursued the cow beat it out of the yard and it was eventually slaughtered. Forty-five children were more or less injured and had to be carried to their homes. Fifteen were seriously bruised and cut, and their clothes torn to shreds. One little girl had her face lacerated, and was picked up in an unconscious condition.—Pall Mall Gazette.

There Are Giant Oysters in These Days.
The Smith Brothers, of Oyster Point, had what some people concluded was the largest oyster in the state. It was caught a few days ago a short distance from the new lighthouse. It measured 11 inches long and 2 inches across at its widest part.
Ellery Camp, proprietor of the store 141 Orange street, has an oyster shell that beats the Smith monster. It is 12 inches in length and 4 inches across its broadest part. He has had it five years. He picked it up in an oyster shop in Stony Creek. It was caught by the Stony Creek Oyster company off Flying Point. It tapers in width from 4 inches to about 1 inch. How old this oyster shell is Mr. Camp could not state.—New Haven Register.

Colorado's Pretty Reading Clerk.
Anna M. Kelly, of Denver, may be found today and hereafter until the close of the session occupying the desk of reading clerk in the Colorado senate, to which office she has been chosen. The contest over the election of this official was sharp and interesting while in progress. It ended in a victory for a woman. The rights of women are at least partially vindicated in the result which places a member of the gentler sex in an office never before held by any other than a strong voiced man in the history of Colorado senate.—Denver Republican.
