

Cakes Without Eggs.

Observing housekeepers quickly learn that Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is far superior to other brands in the fact that they never fail to make the finest pastry, and if they wish to be economical they can dispense entirely with eggs and can use a less quantity of butter for shortening purposes. The advantage is not alone in the saving effected but in avoiding the trouble and frequently the great difficulty of securing eggs that are fresh. This is often a serious trouble.

Cakes of various kinds from the informal Griddle Cakes to the stately Bride Cake can be made with Price's Cream Baking Powder, which insures light, sweet and handsome cakes; or when used for Griddle Cakes to be eaten hot enables their production in the shortest space of time, always tender and delicious.

Dr. Price's is the only Baking Powder that contains the white of eggs. None so pure! None so wholesome!

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is reported by all authorities as free from Ammonia, Alum, or any other adulterant. In fact, the purity of this ideal powder has never been questioned.

MY LADY OF THE GOLDEN HEART.
My lady of the golden heart, she comes each day
Down by the lodge gate that I keep; she comes Demurely,
And her two hounds sedate do follow and obey
Her slightest wish; and they do love my lady surely.

She comes each day, my lady of the golden heart,
Sometimes from riding or sometimes she comes
A-walking;
The birds along the hedge, they do not even start
When she comes by, sometimes to her big hounds a-talking.

"Good morrow," says my lady, she who's heart is gold,
And gold out of her heart makes light the gates away;

The sunshine of her face in winter time does hold
Green meadows and sweet flowers and makes a summer straightway.

My lady, she who's heart is gold, my lady goes
Each day into the village bread and good wine bearing.
To those that sick be, and my gentle lady knows
All of the village folk, and for them she be caring.

Now, as she comes each day (gold is my lady's heart),
Or goes upon some errand Heaven has sent her,
The gates of my poor heart, they do fly far apart;
But there my lady fair and sweet she will not enter.

Meredith Nicholson in Washington Post.

A Hard, Hard World.

The most pitiful sentence I have read in a newspaper in a long time was that brief line in one of the New York dailies the other morning in connection with an author of good parts whom bad luck had driven to suicide. "He had no friends." The reporter who wrote the article was merely filling in the perfunctory details of a police record, and had already given the name, nativity, sex, age, occupation and dwelling place of the unfortunate.

Usually these descriptions end with the statement that "a brother took charge of the remains," or "the coroner delivered the body to the friends of the deceased," or "the lodge of which the deceased was a member will conduct the funeral." But this man, borne down to despair and death in the midst of a teeming city where he had lived and labored for twenty years, "had no friends." Ah, this world, which looks so small when we measure its girth with a telegraph cable, how infinitely huge it seems sometimes when we try to span the distance of its surface between man and man!—Kate Field's Washington.

Remarkable Lakes.

The deepest lake in the world is Lake Baikal, in Siberia. Its area of over 9,000 square miles makes it about equal to Lake Erie in superficial extent; its enormous depth of between 4,000 and 4,500 feet makes its volume of water almost equal to that of Lake Superior. Although its surface is 1,350 feet above sea level, its bottom averages over 3,000 feet below the same level.

America has a lake which, although its waters are not as deep as those of the Siberian wonder, also bears a unique distinction. It is located in the Yosemite valley, and is called Mirror lake. On account of the height and sheer descent of the surrounding mountains the sun does not rise upon it until 11:30 o'clock in the morning and sets seventy-three minutes later.—St. Louis Republic.

Your native village is a good place to go away from, but a better place to come back to.

Don't give up and say there is no help for catarrh, hay fever and cold in head, since thousands testify that Ely's Cream Balm has entirely cured them.

I have been bothered with catarrh for about twenty years; I had lost sense of smell entirely, and I had almost lost my hearing. My eyes were getting so dim I had to get some one to thread my needle. Now I have my hearing as well as I ever had, and I can thread fine a needle as ever I did, my sense of smell seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendell, Perry county, O.

Apply Balm into each nostril. It is quickly absorbed. Gives relief at once. Price, 50 cents at druggists' or by mail.

STOCKTON BUSINESS COLLEGE.

AN INSTITUTION THAT HAS MADE ITS WAY TO THE FRONT BY THE ENERGY AND ABILITY OF THE PROPRIETOR W. C. RAMSEY.

In the business education of this coast no institution ranks above that of the Stockton Business College, with a sister college at Fresno, under the same management, known as the Fresno Business College. The departments of the college are three—Business, Teachers' and Shorthand and Typewriting.

Not only is tuition cheaper here than at any similar school on the coast, but board and room, with all the comforts of a home, are placed at the disposal of their students at $10 per month, and parents may rest assured that every influence is placed around those under the care of the school to restrain and build them up to perfect manhood. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey with five others of the teachers are constantly with the students.

Mrs. Ramsey, a lady of excellent culture never tires in her ministrations. Much of the success of the school is due to her intelligence and able supervision.

The school occupies all of two entire buildings, aggregating about 30,000 square feet of floor room.

All of the arrangements are such as only years of experience in educational work could embody, and during this summer another story will be added, thus enlarging the facilities for doing satisfactory work.

The Business Course is as complete as include all that is practical, and as thorough and comprehensive as years of study by business men can make it.

The Teachers' Course is so complete that it is a rare thing for one to fail in examination who has done the work assigned them. During the past year over one hundred have gone directly from the school and passed the various examinations throughout the state.

While the Shorthand and Typewriting Course is such as business men everywhere can endorse, and graduates from the school are in demand by those who appreciate what care and drill can do in fitting for the active duties of life.

"When a man is known to own his house it gives him a status in the community greater than anything else. It also gives him an established credit which, when obtained, if judiciously and conservatively used, will make it much easier to acquire this world's goods."

"The best citizens are those who own in fee their homes and their contents, for it develops qualities in a man's nature that otherwise may remain dormant or hidden like a light under a bushel."

"Among these qualities are pride of position, which will keep a man respectable; the love of country, which will make him a patriot, and almost more than anything else contribute to make him, not only respected by his neighbors and friends, but also a good and faithful husband and a loving parent."

"A GILT EDGED BOND," SAYS DR. DEPEW. Dr. Chauncey M. Depew advised that the $100 should be made grow to $1,000 before being invested in any enterprise.

"Put it in the savings bank," said the doctor, "where it can draw compound interest, and add to it as you can until it becomes a thousand. Then consult some wise, conservative banker and invest it in a gilt edged bond which can be registered. There is no investment for $100 except to put it into a savings bank that is absolutely safe. The chances are that if he went to inquire he would meet speculative gentlemen who would land his $100 in some mining or other similar scheme which promised large returns, and that would be the end of it."

Mr. Erastus Wiman is of the opinion that "the best way to invest $100 is to buy a share in some well managed local building and loan association. These associations represent the aggregate savings of their members, and the money is invested only in houses built by one of their own number. The investment is therefore a very safe one, because men will pay for their homes and the interest due thereon sooner than they would pay for anything else. The money can be withdrawn, if need be, while it rests with the society, and it pays as good an interest as any other safe enterprise can afford. Compared with the savings bank it yields about twice the interest, while the security is generally just as good."

"Of course all depends upon management, but taken as a whole, the money of poor people put into building loan associations has been more honestly administered by the poor people themselves than has been any other financial trust in the country. In proportion to the enormous amount invested, which now reaches over $700,000,000—reaching that of the capital of all the national banks—the amount of defalcations has been infinitesimal."

"The rate of interest paid has been larger, the purpose accomplished nobler, and the security just as safe as that of the average railroad, bank, mortgage or insurance investment. I put $100 away every month in a building and loan association, conscious that it is the very safest and best investment that I can make. By it I am enabled to insure my life for $20,000, and I am all the time accumulating, not only the principal, but interest, which thus far has averaged 10 per cent."

"UNCLE" RUFUS HATCH'S VIEWS.

"Uncle" Rufus Hatch, who has lost over $1,000,000 in Wall street, does not recommend any "high flying" investment. His advice for putting out $100 was to "go slow," and he added: "If you can find a solvent savings bank, put the $100 there, and be satisfied with 3 or 4 per cent. interest. It would seem, however, from disclosures that national banks and savings banks and all other banks are more or less open to criticism. The vast majority of the public do not know how to take care of their savings and are easily induced to put them wherever they are promised a big per cent. interest."

"However all this may be," and "Uncle" Rufus Hatch looked very serious, "under any and all events, keep out of Wall street. Teach the public to shun its precincts. It is simply suicide for a man to go into Wall street with $100. If he had $100,000,000 that might do. My advice to thrifty persons is to keep the $100 saved and keep adding to it until it has accumulated to a reasonable amount. Then buy an annuity for life or a paid up life insurance for your wife and children as ever I did, my sense of smell seems to be improving all the time. I think there is nothing like Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh.—Mrs. E. E. Grimes, Rendell, Perry county, O.

SAFETY IN THE MIDST OF DANGER.

This world seems a contradiction, is it not, to those who have moved to a new possibility. Take the case of the individual who dwells in a malarious region. A robust constitution is no certain defense against the spread of chills. What is recorded testimony, covering a period of 100 years of the history of the world, proves that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is present in this continent does not limit the field where the medicine has proved its efficacy. In South America, the Isthmus of Panama, Mexico, everywhere in fact where malaria-born disease takes on its most virulent form, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a recognized specific in infinite demand and prescribed by physicians of repute. Potent, too, is it in disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, and against that destroyer, la grippe. It improves appetite and sleep, neutralizes rheumatism and kidney complaints.

"It pays to study the interests of the consumer," said a dealer to a drummer who was trying to sell him short-weight plug tobacco. "Take, for example, Star Plug, which is used by the great mass of chewers throughout the United States. Star Plug is not only the best and most satisfactory chew, but every plug is a full sixteen-ounce pound."
