

Wood River Glacier.

HOOD RIVER, OR., MAY 14, 1892.

A DRIVING TRACK.

By our next issue we hope to state definitely that the grounds for an agricultural exhibit, and training will have been purchased, and that a meeting may yet be held this fall. The grounds here have but to be known to Portland horsemen to become the great wintering place for all the fast horses of the north west. There is hardly a day except in dead winter, that the roads are not in excellent condition, and this alone should determine the selection of these grounds. There are no such natural roads in the state, and we doubt if there is any natural or artificial, that will equal the eight-mile drive "around the block." It is expected that one or more of Portland's horsemen will come up next week to examine the location. If they do it is certain the lands will be purchased.

Governor Pennoyer, made a great speech on the silver question at Astoria, Tuesday evening; and takes a position that makes him a strong possibility for the presidential nomination on a free silver platform, should the disquieted of both parties carry out their present programme, and nominate a ticket in case neither the democratic nor republican national conventions endorse the free silver idea. It is not at all probable either party will increase free silver, and therefore quite probable that a "Free Silver Party" will be in the field. Who better fitted to the head of the ticket than Oregon's great governor, Sylvester Pennoyer?

A vein of grim humor crops out in the pages of the Astorian porphyry of politics as well as from other subjects, and the gentleman who drafted the republican platform for the great state of Illinois recently struck it rich. One plank in the platform reads: "We array the democratic party for its position on the silver question." It is a well known fact that the democratic party, like its illustrious not taken for votes, the G. O. P., never question any position on the silver question. The truth is that both parties are riding astride, and a worm fence, as but zigzag course, a question is concerned, far as the silver, a rod, but reaching out dodging at the white house. A homely proverb says that the pot called the prover a postmortem.

The Oregonian fears the present exclusion laws will cause Chinese to retaliate by putting missionaries and other American residents in China to great inconvenience, and finally excluding them. This may be true, but the American people can do without the Chinese, with no less discomfort than the Chinese will feel at the enforced absence of a few misguided missionaries. America is good enough for Americans, and too good for Chinamen and if any of our citizens feel aggrieved at being kept out of the mundane celestial empire, they can grow a queue, and go to China. Our observation teaches us that the Chinese have already taught our youth evil enough, to furnish employment for the returned missionaries.

Astoria has had her celebration; has growled at Portland's imaginary jealousy; kicked against the Baltimore or Charleston, visiting Portland; has invited the public to visit her, assumed ownership of the Columbia, the U. S. navy, the people, Portland, and everything else in sight; and then proceeded to plunder her guests. The Columbia is a very fine river but it is quite certain that it requires some dental work. Its mouth is just now in bad odor.

The River and Harbor bill has passed the house, and will, no doubt, also go through the senate. It provides that the work at the Cascade Locks be completed by contract; and appropriate money enough to force the work for a year at least.

An explosion of gas, or fire damp, at Roslyn Washington, Tuesday, killed every person in the mine, some 45 in all. The list of the dead shows that nearly all the killed had large families.

Rocky Earhart, died at his home in Portland, Wednesday morning, of Bright's disease. He was one of the best known men in Oregon, and has been in office for twenty years.

The two most villainous things about the Astoria celebration, were the pictures in the Oregonian and the poem; the latter was the blankest of blank verse.

White Salmon Side.
May, 12.—Messrs. Bates and Price, have just moved in from Portland; Mr. Bates bringing his family and household effects.

White Salmon folks had a very pleasant time at the new residence of G. A. Thomas, last Saturday evening. The affair called out some whose social fun was lost years ago, and a jolly happy crowd indulged in dancing until the end of the day. Along in the afternoon of the same day Master Gus Coleman, entertained his young friends in a merry little party. A joke of the occasion was that two of the young dashers thought they would annoy two of the fair ladies, by asking to see them to dinner. The little girls accepted and carried their part through in ladyhood style, much to the perplexity of the blushing chevaliers.

Earlier in the afternoon a mass meeting of the "dissatisfied," was held for the purpose of choosing delegates to attend the county convention.

Orchardists have begun spraying to destroy the codlin moth eggs, and other pests.

The many friends of Mrs. Morton, nee Miss Pearl Groshong, on this side of the river, wish her matrimonial life long in years and strewn with happiness throughout.

Little children, the first to discover them, are finding little handfulls of wild strawberries on our southern slopes.

Mr. A. R. Byrket has just sent out a fine English Shire stallion from Ohio. The horse is now at Mr. Byrket's farm.

Mr. Wheeler, lately from Woodstock, Multnomah Co., Oregon, brought up a fine herd of Jerseys last week. He also brought along some promising colts which are from first prize winners. Mr. Wheeler's parents accompany him to his lately acquired farm formerly the Barnham place.

A little boy of Mike Zimmerman's has within the last few months been compelled to tiptoe on both feet, owing to the cords in the back of the legs being drawn. Last Saturday Dr. Snapp, performed a surgical operation on the limbs, and the little fellow now assumes a natural gait again.

Mrs. S. J. Brooks, who has been quite ill for some time, we are glad to announce is feeling well again.

Mrs. R. D. Cameron, received word last Friday of the serious illness of her mother at Wardner, Idaho, and started Saturday evening to see her.

You are right in stating that there is a good opening for a store at Wind River. About one year ago we pointed that place out as a good opening for a trading point, and have taken occasion to do so at different times since.

Our neighborhood is well supplied with fish now as the run of "blue backs" is very good, and our state laws have protected the trout so that the streams are well supplied.

A man was here last week buying hides for the firm of Bessenger & Co., of Portland, he gathered up a good big wagon load, paying 55 cts for dry hides. Our local merchants who have been paying 6 cts for the same will not feel any ways hide bound by the deal.

Mr. Ed McDanniel has packed his grip and started out to be gone until fall.

The hay raisers on the river bottoms will have to make things buzz during the next few weeks.

Messrs. Burdon, Dymond, Wyers and his two sons, are assisting making hay on the Byrket and Warner ranches.

Mr. Douglas Chustie, a former resident of this place who has been spending the winter in California, returned a couple of weeks ago.

Mr. Geo. T. Purser, was down from The Dalles for a call last Saturday.

Wanted to Thank the Box Office Man.

I remember, as a law student, dining with Wills at the Cock in Fleet street, and inducing him to take me to a theater afterward. He was loath to go. He loved to take his ease in his inn; but his good nature was stronger than his sloth. We arrived at the theater very late. A locum tenens occupied the booking office. Wills handed his card, and asked that we might be given seats. The young man could not take upon himself to pass us. The acting manager was away. Wills gave a sigh of relief; but I was more strenuous, and insisted that the card should reach the proper office.

We were given the best seats in the house. It was not an historical play, and Wills sat it through very stolidly. As we came out and passed the booking office he paused for a moment. "I am looking for that kind hearted young man," he said, "who was for not letting us in; I would like to give him a shilling." And he meant it.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Horrid Man.

In a debate on the woman question a horrid man said: "No man in his senses loves a petticoated philosopher or wants to have anything to do with her. I would as soon hug a grizzly bear as to touch such a woman, and I would as soon go on a stroll locking arms with a locomotive as to try to keep company with such a woman." And it never occurred to the old porcupine that all the women just as soon he would too.—New York

Two Scared Indians.

Two Indians from the La Pointe reservation arrived in Bayfield a few days ago paralyzed with fear. They told a wonderful story of adventure. They had started on a hunt on Madeline island and intended to visit some friends. They camped on a spot about four miles from the village. At midnight the Indians were aroused by a fearful struggle. Before them were two men and a woman battling, the contestants being covered with blood.

The Indians say the forms disappeared afterward, but the sounds and groans were kept up all night. People in that vicinity claim there has been a terrible murder committed on the island some time in the past, and that the "ghosts" of the parties were seen by the Indians.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.
