BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Ice cold soda at Marvin Rand's.
 2-bit cigars at the Drug Store.
 A fine line of fresh cigars at the Drug Store.
 You can suit yourself in a smoke, according to your pile, at the Drug Store.
 Mr. Eccles is, we understand, at the mills.
 Does S. B. get there? Well I should smile. S. B.
 Pictures framed to order at the furniture store.
 Mrs. C. J. Hunt has moved into the Baker house.
 All kinds of country produce bought and sold at Harrison's.
 Mr. Shelley, of the East Side, has lately built a new barn.
 Best quality of Roche Harbor lime at $1.40 per barrel. S. E. BARTMESS.
 A large supply of handsome wall paper just received by S. E. Bartmess.
 We have been appointed agent for the sale of Joseph A. Wilson's property.
 James Fisk, came home from Portland last Friday to remain a month or so.
 Captain J. H. Dukes of D company has tendered his resignation of that office.
 The Holmes company has sold its buildings and business at Mosier to Jim Flaherty & Co.
 At the request of parties interested, we print in this issue the decree in the Phelps creek water case.
 $1.50 per barrel for Huntington lime, the best in the market at the Hood River Mill, Co's store.
 A fine lot of home-rendered lard and Oregon hams, shoulders and bacon just received at the meat market.
 Peaches are quite plentiful in this market, and the crop this year is much better than was expected.
 Mr. E. H. Merrell, steward on U. S. Regulator, has homesteaded 100 acres on Neal creek, above Mr. Shelley's.
 Elmer Rand has let the contract for building a neat little cottage on the lot adjoining Mrs. Haynes on the west.
 If you want to insure your property remember that we represent both the German-American and Phoenix, both solid, reliable companies.
 Dr. Spaeder will be at the Mt. Hood hotel Monday, prepared to do any work in his line. The doctor is a first-class dentist and guarantees his work.
 The upper mill is running, cutting the first timber the latter part of his week. A big dam is being built just above this mill, across Duca creek.
 The Regulator will begin his regular trips Monday, making connection with the City of The Dalles on the lower river; at least so say The Dalles papers.
 I have bargains to give, to all those wanting summer goods. Call and get prices before purchasing elsewhere.
 MISS. R. S. HOWLAND.
 Mr. Pealer's team ran away Monday, evidently breaking loose from their hitching post. They smashed the wagon up badly, but fortunately hurt no one.
 Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gordon, the latter Dr. Brosius's sister, and their family arrived here from Missoula, Montana, Monday, on a visit to the Dr. They leave for home to-day.
 Wm. Neff and wife, who have been in the Willamette valley for several months, arrived home Wednesday. Mr. Neff will remain with us awhile and will be pleased to have his old friends look into his camera.
 James Hoag came over from Trout Lake, Monday, for the purpose of moving a load of camp equipment and moving for the Hon. E. L. Smith, who will camp at Trout Lake for the next month. His family accompany him.
 The Oregon Lumber Company has about completed the work of fluming the flume, and do not expect to have any difficulty in running lumber down it, notwithstanding the loss of feeders occasioned by the Phelps creek decision.
 M. V. Harrison has been having a serious time for a week past, the results of his trip to Lost Lake. Being accustomed to riding, he got serious mania and a collection of carbuncles with them, which have, like a highwayman, stood him up.
 The notice concerning the game laws is worthy of perusal. The violators of the law may find themselves unprovided for some time, will leave for their home, Keweenaw, Nebraska, today. They have had a pleasant visit and go home delighted with Hood River. We hope to see them here again, and next time to stay.
 Why cough, when S. E. will stop it.

The Phelps Creek Decree.

In the circuit court of the state of Oregon for Wasco county; Bernard Warren, plaintiff, vs. Oregon Lumber Company, defendant.
 Now at this time, this cause coming on for hearing and trial on the pleading, depositions and evidence reported by the referee heretofore duly appointed; the plaintiff appearing by his attorney, A. S. Bennett, and the defendant appearing by its attorneys, Mays, Huntington & Wilson; this cause having been heretofore, to wit, on the 29th day of February, 1892, duly argued and submitted and by the court taken under advisement, the court not having been fully advised in the premises; now, on this 23d day of June, 1892, the court having read and fully considered the matters in controversy, and being fully advised in the premises, it is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed by the court that the defendant, its officers and agents and all persons claiming by, through or under it, be and they are hereby restrained and forever enjoined from diverting the waters of Phelps creek from its natural channel at any point on said stream below its said dam at the head of Phelps creek, by means of said side flumes or feeders, or in any other manner whatsoever. And that plaintiff have and recover off of and from the defendant his costs and disbursements of this suit taxed at $—, and that execution issue therefor.
 W. L. BRADSHAW, Judge.

A Message From Mt. Hood.

HOOD RIVER, July 21, 1892.
 EDITOR GLACIER: When Mr. Hengest and I visited His Royal Highness, Mt. Hood, on his throne a few days ago, he sent a message by us to your respected self. Here it is:
 "His Eminence, Mt. Hood of the Cascade Range, to the Editor of the Hood River GLACIER, greeting:
 Come and see me. Mount Hood invites you. Come away from city smoke and country toll and look down my blue crevasses and hunt at my feet in tall forests and climb my shoulders and look out over the country you don't half appreciate, and feel like a new man—come!"
 Mr. Editor, you'd better go. We have just spent a week with him, and a royal good host we found him.
 The trip is made in a day, and is not as yet exceedingly dusty, while at the end of it lies a time of enjoyment for us. We hunted and shot grouse in profusion, a fine badger and a young buck. This last mentioned game we packed in ice from Wednesday to Saturday, when we settled it in the midst of a snow bank and brought it home.
 On Tuesday, July 6th, we made the ascent of the mountain from the south-east side, finding no barriers in the shape of crevasses, although in the shape of the snow, when the snow is melted, the ascent will become much more difficult. About two hundred and fifty feet from the top is a high, sharp ridge, over which the climbing is dangerous; beyond all is plain sailing.
 We were disappointed in finding a veil of smoke overhanging the entire surrounding country; however, there were visible the three peaks of the Cascades—Mt. Tacoma, St. Helens and Adams on the north. Mt. Jefferson, Table Rock, Three Sisters and Diamond Peak on the south.
 On the way down we dried our stockings at Mt. Hood's non-extinguishable furnace, and then slid down for a distance of twenty-five hundred feet or more on our alpen-stocks. Altogether, we were nine hours and forty minutes from the camp to the top of the mountain and back. At present the summit is covered about twelve feet with snow. Later in the season we believe the ascent may not be made, not this year, anyway.
 We spent a week, starting home Friday and camping over night at the "Erik Beds," but we found a deserted claim—every evidence of abandonment, at least as far as elk were concerned.
 OLIVER HOWELL,
 JOSEPH HENGEST.

Faankton Notes.

Mr. W. R. Perry has a neat new barn.
 Mr. E. D. Gilkins' new wind mill built by Mr. D. B. Rogers is a great success. It gives power enough with an ordinary breeze to work six two-inch pumps.
 Mr. B. Warren has just completed a flume from the falls on the west of his place which will irrigate two acres lately cleared by him on the east of his orchards. He will set the two acres to strawberry plants next month.
 E. C. Rogers will plant three acres more in strawberries in the fall.
 W. J. Campbell is planting potatoes on his land below the bluff. He will plant about two acres in potatoes and cabbages. The low lands along the Columbia, if planted after the summer floods recede, are excellent for late vegetables.
 The digger squirrels have about finished digging Mr. Foley's potatoes on the Crockett place. They have also commenced to gather his apples and pears. These rodents are quite numerous this year and are proving destructive to crops of all kinds. A boy with a dozen steel traps can keep them under subjection on a forty-acre tract. They make good feed for chickens.
 Excelsior alliance meets to-night.
 Mrs. Laughlin, mother of Mrs. J. E. Amer, who came to Portland to the delegates to the Presbyterian Assembly, started Thursday for her home in Ohio. Her son William has decided to remain in Oregon.
 S. J. LaFrance and wife, Miss Shattuck and Wm. and Dorrance Smith returned Monday from their trip to Mt. Adams. They report having a good time and were successful in catching fish, bringing home a fine lot of the 320 trout they caught. They remembered their friends and your correspondent received a nice mess on ice from the wonderful ice caves of Mt. Adams.
 The black woodpeckers have made their appearance again in this neighborhood. Those who have red-streaked Gray-tail apples will do well to look after the birds if they wish to save their apples.

GAME NOTICE.

All persons are hereby notified that the close season for grouse, pheasant, mongolian pheasant, quail or partridge does not expire until the 1st day of September. Penally for violation of this law is a fine of from $10 to $300, or imprisonment in the county jail from five days to three months, or both, and all violations will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.
 L. E. MOISE, Secretary.
 H. C. COE, President Hood River Rod and Gun Club.

THE UNION MEETING.

The union meeting of the C. E., society of Hood River, which was held in the First Congregational church, on last Sabbath evening was a grand success. Many of the addresses and proceedings of the Union convention held in New York were read, and were indeed profitable to all C. E. workers. After the programme was finished a general old fashioned shaking of hands was in order. The Union adjourned to meet next Sunday evening at the Belmont M. E. church at 7:30 p. m., at which time the remainder of the proceedings of the annual convention will be delivered. All are cordially invited to attend.

BEATTY'S PIANOS AND ORGANS.

Hon. Daniel F. Beatty, the great Organ and Piano manufacturer, is building and shipping more Organs and Pianos than ever. In 1870 Mr. Beatty left home a penniless plow boy, and by his indomitable will he has worked his way up so as to sell so far nearly 100,000 of Beatty's Organs and Pianos since 1870. Nothing seems to dishearten him; obstacles laid in his way, that would have wrecked any ordinary man forever, he turns to an advertisement and comes out of it brighter than ever. His instruments, as is well known, are very popular and are to be found in all parts of the world. We are informed that during the next ten years he intends to sell 200,000 more of his make; that means a business of $20,000,000, if we average them at $100 each. It is already the largest business of the kind in existence. Send to Daniel F. Beatty, Washington, New Jersey, for catalogue.
