at Old Mission Reopens—Excitement at Paenix.

The Portland cable road has been sold under a mortgage.

Idaho prohibitionists will place a complete ticket in the field.

The Common Council of San Jose has fixed the tax levy at $1.25 on the $100.

Marshal Parsons has withdrawn a bill to amend the Salt Lake Tribune.

The Salt River Valley of Arizona has dreams of becoming a great hop-producing for sewer facilities.

The books at the United States Consul's office at Victoria, B. C., show an increase in exports to San Francisco during the past five months.

It is stated that the Chino sugar-beet factory is not refining sugar this season, but is shipping raw sugar to the Spreckle refinery in San Francisco.

In a sham night attack at the camp of the Nevada militia near Carson three men in hastily getting up stepped on bayonets, and severely lacerated their feet.

The baseball bat and an ax were wielded in a fight at Virginia City over the title to a house by Patrick Ward and Tom O'Rourke. Both were seriously wounded.

The Republicans are holding two State Conventions in Nevada. There is a disagreement over the proposition to accept the silver electors or to select a straight Republican ticket.

The fruit crop in the Willamette Valley will fall short of the average, it is said, owing to the cold rains and heavy winds which prevailed last spring. The shortage is especially noticeable in the prune crop.

Dr. A. M. Newman proposes to locate a colony of Norwegians of 600 families in Lane county, Or., and will purchase from H. C. Owen the latter's 2,200-acre farm, located eight miles southwest of Eugene. The price to be paid is $44,000.

While an Indian woman was sewing in the shade of a tree at Palomar, San Diego county, a wild cat sprang upon her, biting and tearing her flesh. A dog came to her rescue, and diverted the attention of the cat, which caused the dog to the stable, and the noise there aroused the husband, who shot the animal. The woman died from her wounds.

There are about 175 Indian boys and girls at the Chemawa Indian school now, but it is expected the number will reach 300 before long. Uncle Sam has not sent the quarterly installment of between $5,000 and $10,000, which is required to run the school, but it is looked for in a short time. The pay-roll of the pupils alone is in the vicinity of $215.

In the Court of Private Claims at Santa Fe opinions were handed down recently confirming the title to two large tracts of land in Taos county, N. M., known as Las Ranchos del Rio Grande.
The grant was confirmed for 109,000 acres. The other was the Cubero grant in Valencia county, calling for some 16, 000 acres.

State Printer Baker is busy issuing the 50,000 edition of the "Resources of Oregon," a neat little pamphlet of 200 pages, full of general information about this state. About half of the edition has been struck off, and it is calculated that it will take six weeks to complete the work. After that he will start on the "Resources of Eastern Oregon."

The Monumental mining and milling property at Granite, the property of C.
S. Miller, has been consolidated with the Morris mines at Greenhorn, and a stock company formed with a capitalization of $1,250,000, divided into 250,000 shares.
The company is incorporated under the name of the Granite and Greenhorn Consolidated Mining and Milling Company.

FROM WASHINGTON CITY.

The Attorney-General Recommends to the President the Resignation of the Marshal of Utah.

The Treasury Department so far this year has shipped but $9,000,000 for moving crops, as against $14,800,000 for the same period last year. This large decrease is explained not by a diminution of the crops, but by the fact that the banks were better supplied with small notes.

Secretary Foster says there has been as yet no place or time fixed upon for the meeting of the international monetary conference. Should the cholera continue its menacing course, the opinion is expressed at the Treasury Department that it is altogether probable the meeting of the conference will be deferred until some later date, when the danger from the scourge will not be so great as now.

The Secretary of the Interior has apportioned the surveying appropriations.
Oregon receives $35,000, Washington $64,000, and Idaho $40,000. Oregon has an increase of $15,000 over last year, and Idaho an increase of $6,000, while Washington is the same as last year. Of the amounts apportioned the following are to be used on public lands within the railroad land grants: Oregon $15,000, Washington $10,000, and Idaho $10,000.

Attorney-General Miller recommended to the President that the resignation of United States Marshal Parsons of Utah be asked for immediately. The President approved the recommendation, and the Marshal has been asked to resign.
It is stated at the Department of Justice that this action was taken because the Marshal and his deputies on some occasions had allowed Prisoner Grossbeck to leave the prison and visit his third wife, or living with whom he had been convicted on the charge of adultery.

It has been learned on good authority at the Navy Department that the Secretary will not detach the Monterey from the San Francisco station when she goes into commission. It is his intention to have the vessel remain as the principal defense of the city. She will take coastwise trips northward as far as Portland and southward to San Diego, and will remain constantly in those waters. The Monterey will be put in commission before her armorplate for the vertical turret is finished, and its absence will be supplied by thick oak planking. It is understood that Lieutenant Pendleton of the Washington navy yard will be ordered to take charge as her executive officer.

Captain Shepard, in charge of the revenue marine bureau of the treasury department, has not yet received confirmation from any of the revenue cutters in Behring sea of the reported arrests of British and American sealers by a Russian man-of-war for illegal sealing in the neighborhood of the seal islands, still owned by Russia in the Behring sea, and ceded to the Alaska Commercial Company. That the arrests were made more than three miles from shore is not doubted. The occurrence will have a pointed bearing upon two of the questions to be arbitrated upon, viz: What exclusive jurisdiction in the sea now known as the Behring sea, and what exclusive rights in the seal fisheries therein did Russia assert and exercise, prior and up to the time of the cession of Alaska to the United States, and second, how far were the terms of jurisdiction as to the seal fisheries recognized and conceded by Great Britain?

THE CHICAGO EXPOSITION.

The Programme of the Dedicatory Ceremonies of the Columbian Fair Completed—Etc.

A factory at Lynn has asked for space at the World's Fair to show pneumatic dynamite guns and projectiles.

Colonel Elliott F. Shepherd of New York has purchased 10,000 of the World's Fair souvenir coins, paying $10,000 for them.

New York will exhibit at the World's Fair sections of all the trees which are indigenous to the State. Of these there are forty-three species and eighty-five varieties, a number which is not exceeded, it is claimed, by any State in the Union.

It has been decided to make a Tacoma exhibition at the World's Fair to consist principally of drawing and the con-ventionizing of forms and clay modeling.
The High school will contribute most of the drawings and lower grades models in clay. Complete plans for the exhibition will be arranged.

The programme of the dedicatory ceremonies of the World's Fair has been completed as follows: October 19, reception to the President of the United States, Cabinet and other guests at the Auditorium; 20th, grand "Procession of Centuries" at the grounds. Following this will be speeches, military manuevers, etc.

A Madrid dispatch says: The caravels Nina and Pinta, which have been building some time at Barcelona for the Columbus celebration, have been launched, and will be completed shortly, as only the masts and a few of the fittings are now lacking. The Nina is 57 feet long over deck; the Pinta is 72 feet long over deck and 25 feet wide.

One of the best suggestions yet made for designs for the World's Fair souvenir coins is that of Ferd Peck of Milwaukee, Wis., that one side of the coin should represent North and South America, with a ship between them heading toward the shore. This would mean something, and it is of very little matter whether it is beautiful or not, although certain designers seem to consider the latter qualification a sine qua non. A coin is never a thing of beauty, although it may be joy forever, and in the case of the souvenir coins the designs should at least hint at the man and the deed they are intended to commemorate.

Original Greek Into the Greek has taught seventy-two consecutive terms of school in the same schoolroom.

Marie Roze has decided to winter in Paris and to teach singing to such American and Parisian students as can pay her price.

Paris University is the largest in the world. It has 9,215 students. Vienna University with 6,220 students is second and Berlin third.

Washington Academy, which is the pride of the quiet, studious little town of East Machias, Me., has just celebrated its 100th anniversary.

The University of Padua will celebrate on December 7 the tercentenary anniversary of Galileo's installment as professor of mathematics.

the United States receive $89,000,000 annually. This amount increases $2,900,- 000 each year, or 3 1/2 per cent.

Miss Viola Griswold, the only woman in a class of forty-eight men at the College of Pharmacy, Northwestern University, carried off the first prize.

The average yearly salary paid to men school teachers in Pennsylvania, including all the districts both city and country, is $315, and $219 is the average for women teachers. Cheap teachers make cheap schools, and cheap schools make cheap men.

Mrs. A. E. W. Robertson of Muscogee, I. T., has completed the translation of the New Testament from the original Greek into the Creek language. The University of Ohio has conferred upon her the degree of doctor of philosophy in recognition of her scholarly attainments.

More than 200 women are studying at the five great universities of Switzerland—Berne, Geneva, Zurich, Lausanne and Basle. The greater number of these students are from Russia, and only eleven are from America. One hundred and fifty-seven are studying medicine, sixty-two philosophy and five law.

The most instructive college yet discovered is that of the girls belonging to the annex of the Western Reserve University in Cleveland: "Wash milk, fresh air; keep your feet off the regis-trair." This yell is a constant reminder of the sanitary rules of the school, strict obedience to which has apparently proved of great advantage to the students.

The President of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, Miss Elizabeth Holve, has been investigating the cost of a collegiate education for women. She finds that the cheapest of all the women's colleges is Vassar, where $400 covers all the expenses of a year's training, save those the student makes for herself, Welleley and Smith differ but little from the Vassar scale. At Cornell, Bryn Mawr and the Harvard Annex the charges are slightly higher, $400 to $500 being a fair estimate. It is a fact worthy of attention that in the coeducational college the price of a year's living is higher than it is in any of the colleges exclusively for women.

M. Zola is one of those who flourish on abuse. A fierce battle is raging in France just now against the man who wrote "La Debacle" and therein revealed, it is alleged, a lack of patriotism.
Every newspaper in Paris echoes in various modulations the shout of "traitor," and meanwhile an edition of 100,000 copies of "La Debacle" has been sold out.

Ben Butler is said to be badly bent with age. His face has the look of health, but his massive frame has become an unmistakable burden. His hands move unsteadily, while his eyes appear swollen and almost hidden by the thick folds of flesh on his cheeks. But his head is clear as a bell, and at 74 there is no shrewd lawyer or politician in New England.

THE DRAWBRIDGE KEEPER.

Drecker, the drawbridge keeper, opened wide The dangerous gate, to let the vessel through His little son was standing by his side Above Passaic river, deep and blue.
While in the distance, like a moon of pain,
Was heard the whistle of the coming train.

At once brave Drecker worked to swing it back—
The gate-like bridge that seems a gate of death!

Nearer and nearer, on the slender track, Came the swift engine, puffing its white breath.

Then, with a shriek, the loving father saw His darling boy fall headlong from the draw.

Either at once down in the stream to spring And save his son, and let the living freight Rush on to death, or to his work to cling And leave his boy unhelped to meet his fate: Which should he do? Were you, as he was tried,

Would not your love outweigh all else beside?

And yet the child to him was full as dear As yours may be to you—the light of eyes, A presence like a brighter atmosphere, The household star that shone in love's mild skies—
Yet side by side with duty, stern and grim, Even his child became as naught to him.

For Drecker, being great of soul and true, Held to his work, and did not aid his boy,
Who in the deep, dark waters sank from view.
Then from his father's life went forth all joy!

But as he fell back, pallid with his pain, Across the bridge in safety passed the train.

And yet the man was poor, and in his breast Flowed no ancestral blood of king or lord; True greatness needs no title and no crest.
To win from men just honor and reward;
Nobility is not of rank, but mind;
And is inborn and common in our kind.

He is most noble whose humanity
