The big snow storm has not been partial, but has extended all over the northwest. At Olympia, Wash., where snow is a rarity, it fell to the depth of five feet.

Jim and Will Langille, Will Mercer and others who made the snow plow and broke the paths through the streets deserve and have the thanks of the community.

T. B. Belding of Minneapolis, Minn., uncle of O. L. and L. E. Morse arrived here Monday. After a brief visit, he will go to California. His wife and grand-child accompany him.

S. A. Foster, whose disappearance we noted last week, still remains away, much to the annoyance of nearly all parties connected with work on the buildings he had in charge.

Sidney Young, The Dalles jeweler, desires to say that he is still in business and can be found in I. C. Nickelsen's store on Second street, next door to his old stand. Watch repairing a specialty.

Judge Bradshaw, after holding two weeks' court at Portland, visited his old home in the valley. He became suspicious of the leaden clouds and started for home in time to get through Thursday morning.

The weather clerk let go all holds Wednesday and just let it snow, which it proceeded to do to the queen's taste. Thursday night the beautiful lay to the depth of two feet as large as the writers, and yet there was no let up.

Joe Wilson was here last Sunday, looking happy as a clam at high tide. He had two good reasons for his smiles, one being a gold bar valued at $150 and the other a similar bar valued at $100. After attending the annual election of the company at Portland Monday he returned to Ashland.

In writing of the fire at Reynolds' last week we failed to give credit to all those entitled to it. Mr. Reynolds tells us that Frank Button and his boys Edgar and Ralph, Miss Ida Foss and Mr. Gullick, were promptly on hand, and to their efforts the saving of a portion of the building was due.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Heald expect to go to Southern California shortly, as soon as Mr. Heald can get his business affairs in shape to leave them. The trip is to be made on account of Mrs. Heald's poor health, a change of climate being ordered by the family physician. They will probably remain away until next summer.

Mr. Reynolds, whose house was burned last week, had insurance on the same in the Home Mutual in the sum of $350, which amount was promptly paid through the local agent, Mrs. Champlin. The furniture and clothing were insured in the Northwest, and the loss adjusted at $106, which amount was also promptly paid through the local agent, Geo. T. Prather.

The heavy 12x12 timbers, fifty feet Long, which teams are hauling through the city, came down the Mill creek flume of The Dalles Lumbering company, from their mills in the mountains south west of this city. This is a pretty fair test of the strength and durability of the flume. The timbers are for Winans Bros' new fish wheels and cable cage line. Messrs. Winans are using 100,000 feet of lumber in their wheel improvements for the coming fishing season.—Chronicle.

The Storm.

Wednesday was the shortest day of the year, according to the almanac, but the longest measured by our experience. We put in the time in Portland, and can assure our readers that the only term to fittingly describe the weather is, "nasty." It snowed Tuesday night to a depth of four or five inches, a srow that was one-half rain and all slush, and Wednesday it snowed and slushed and blew in a manner that should make the weather clerk ashamed of himself. The reports of heavy snow along the line of the Union Pacific caused a stampede for home among the East Oregonians who desired to spend the holidays at home, and the cars were crowded. The train due here at 10:40 at night reached Bonneville shortly after that hour, and there it stuck fast until 7 o'clock Thursday morning, the snow being about four feet deep. Two extra engines were sent up from Albina to assist in getting the train through, which they did, making the run to this point in two hours. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davenport, C. P. Heald, C. R. Bone and ye editor were among the lucky ones on the train.

MARRIED.

At the residence of S. C. Smith, in this place, Wednesday, Dec. 21st, by Rev. C. W. Wells, Alvin O. Hershey to Miss Eva Clough, daughter of D. H. Clough.

Alvin is an industrious, energetic young gentleman, liked by everybody, and he and his young bride have the best wishes of the community in their matrimonial venture. The GLACIER commends their good judgment and extends its largest and most numerous congratulations.

Mt. Hood Notes.

Our correspondent at Mt. Hood writes us a brief line saying that a pleasant party was had at Norton Smith's the night of the 17th, which was well attended. An excellent lunch was served, and the participants separated about 1 o'clock, well satisfied with their night's entertainment.

Mr. Robert Leisure has caught several beavers, and says he intends to make the fur fly this winter.

The thermometer has been down to ten degrees below zero.

DIED.

At the home of P. Nesson, Saturday December 17th, Mrs. English, mother of Mrs. Nesson.

ESTRAY.

I have taken up a 3-year old roan heifer. Owner will prove property pay charges and take her. F. S. PERRY.

FOR SALE.

One 4-year old mare with colt; one 6-year old horse; one cow and calf; one set good harness. J. L. LANGILLE.

Hanna will sell you goods at former prices and give you 5 per cent. discount, but remember he will not put it on the slate, as the slate has been broken.

Having tried the credit system for two years, and not being able to adjust my prices so as to give cash customers the benefit of cash prices, I have concluded to sell for cash only, with a 5 per cent. discount to all.

We often hear our customers ask, "Why can't our merchants sell as cheap as they do at The Dalles?" I will tell you why. When you go to The Dalles you pay cash for your goods and get the benefit of your cash. I will do the same by you. J. E. HANNA.

Neff Brother's.
