Mr. A. R. Byrkelet who has been confined to his room, ever since his arrival from Ohio three weeks ago, with erysipelas, has recovered sufficiently to get out, and Wednesday crossed the Columbia to take a look at his ranch.

The Hood River boys met those of Belmont and vicinity in a base ball contest, last Saturday, and defeated them by five runs. The afternoon of Decoration day, they again crossed bats, the town boys winning by a score of 40 to 25.

The numbers are giving it to about one-half of our citizens in the neck. Cases are too numerous to mention, but we can't resist saying that George C. Jones preserves the even balance of his well poised cranium, by having them on both sides at once.

Persons expecting to use apple, peach, plum or cherry boxes, should go and see the Hood River Fruit Co., ascertain prices and let them know about how many they will use of each, so soon as possible, that they may receive them on both sides at once.

In the case of the Ditch Creek Co., against W. R. Winans, which came on to be heard in the district court last Friday, plaintiffs were nonsuited because they had failed to file a map showing the route of their ditch within ten days after posting the notices claiming the water.

Captain Winans was down from The Dalles Wednesday. He tells us his wheels caught 9000 pounds of fish Tuesday and as the run was improving he expected 12,000 Wednesday. The river is rising and will probably cause a falling off in the catch until after the high water.

Decoration day was observed here in the usual manner. The graves were decorated early in the morning, after which all assembled at Watson's grove where addresses by W. P. Watson and A. P. Isenberg, with music from the church choir, and several orations completed the programme.

Thomas A. Hendry has purchased two acres of E. C. Sherrill's and intends to make an orchard of it. Mr. Hendry is from the wheat fields of Sherman and Gilliam, but is pleased with the country and will soon learn the fine new branch of farming. There is room for 5000 more, and the quicker they get here the better for them.

Grand Dead.

L. Francesco, Saturday morning found the dead body of Wm. M. Murphy, about a quarter of a mile from the latter's cabin. The body was lying by a log and, from appearances death had taken place nearly a week before.

Justice Knox of Baldwin precinct held the inquest on the body Sunday, with the following jury: Dave Wishart, D. R. Cooper, George Perkins, George Wishart, Thomas A. Connor and Frank Helm. The body was badly decomposed, and an examination disclosed a bone three or four inches in diameter on the top of the head with the skin broken in several places. All around the body were horse tracks, and marks of a dragging rope. The evidence of Mr. Francesco, was that several days before he had walked a short distance with deceased who was then going toward the place where the body was found, for the purpose of catching his horse. The jury found that his death was caused by the horse kicking him. Deceased had received some $3000 recently, from the government in payment of Indian depredation claim, and had deposited it in The Dalles National bank. His check book showed that it had all been paid, or loaned out to different parties. Murphy was a pioneer, and was, we understand, in the battle with the Indians at the Lower Cascades.

Children's Day.

At the U. B. church tomorrow at 11 a.m., a beautiful service entitled "Rainbow of Promise," will be rendered by the Sunday school. The occasion will also be the celebration of the birth of Rev. Phillip Oberlein, the founder of the church. Usual services in the evening.

A Horse Thief.

A short time ago a man came through this way from The Dalles, having several horses. He sold one to E. D. Calkins, and another he traded to Mr. Clift of Viento. It has become evident that he stole the ponies from the Indians who have identified and recovered them. The thief was arrested at The Dalles last week charged with having stolen horses in Multnomah county and is now in jail in Portland. He was a bold one and the community will be better off when he is safely behind the bars.

Thank You.

The U. B. Sunday school of this place having received a gift of 42 library volumes from Mrs. Isabella Hullitt, of Pruitt Ohio, therefore, resolved: That the Sunday school in this manner express its appreciation for the splendid gift, and although we know that He who rewards all good deeds will bless her for her generosity; and we trust that the little children may learn many good practical lessons from the truths contained therein, the results of which we shall know only in eternity. Resolved: That we have these resolutions published in the Hood River GLACIER, also in the "Religious Telescope," and a copy sent to Mrs. Hullitt.

BORN.

In Hood River, May 30th, to Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Nealech, a daughter.

BERRY SUPPLIES.

Up to Wednesday night 14 crates of berries had been shipped this season, most of them to Portland. Prices started at 40 cents, dropped to 25 cents Wednesday, and will probably reach 15 cents today in Portland. The rapid tumble in prices was caused by heavy shipments from Southern Oregon.

The balance of the Hood River crop will go to Montana and other eastern points.
