Fruit growers have a new bug against the robins. Not content with raiding berry patches and cherry trees, the rascal has just learned the trick of catching the lady lings, which are doing much good work in ridding the apple tree of aphids.

Gorman the man who stole the Indian ponies, and sold some of them here is in jail in Portland. A warrant was sworn out for him here Thursday, and when the Multnomah authorities get through with him, he will be brought here to stand his trial.
George C. Jones is an admirer of furs, and has a fine assortment of bear skins. Among them one from a big cinnamon, purchased recently. A scar in the hip shows where a bullet entered long ago, that must have made a wound that nothing but a bear could survive.

A bargain in hog products, fine cured hams and bacon at Hannan's. Hams in cts per pound, bacon, shoulder and sides 15 cts.

Lee Morse has taken a contract to get out a large number of telephone poles for the company building down the Columbia, and has commenced work in the Sandy Flat neighborhood. He has quite a number of men with him, among them Capt. Dulak, J. Markley, Frank Reis and L. Nealeigh.

Our old friend Van Johnson never forgets the printer, and Thursday made us feel like a banker by present of several boxes of large and delicious strawberries. The pieces they bring this season make a fellow eating them, feel like he was getting down to a gold mine, but Van doesn't care for expenses, nor do we.

Miss Mary Beatty went to Portland last week to attend the funeral of her cousin's child. While attending the funeral the horse behind which she was riding became frightened and started for a jump, and Miss Beatty being her presence of mind attempted to jump out breaking one of her legs in the effort.

Everybody has fun with the strawberry festival present that it seems probable there will be to lower show here this spring, consequently incentives for the Portland exhibition which opens June 23rd. It is to be reported for there is hardly a town in the state that could make a better showing or carry off as many of the 5000 premiums as easily as Hood River.

Will Langille has just received a new and interesting view of Mt. Hood and a brief description of the scenery and Cloud Cap Inn. We recognize in some of the views the photographs taken by Miss Annie Lang of the battery, whose amateur work in that line would do honor to the best professionals. The hotel will open July 1st, closing October 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartness left Wednesday evening for Butlam, being called to their old home on account of the serious illness of Mr. Bartness' mother. Mrs. Bartness and her husband spent a year here, going home last fall, and the many friends she made will be pained to learn that she is suffering from cancer of the stomach and that her death may occur at any time.

The Hood River correspondent of The States Chronicle is in error in saying Mrs. S. E. Howe had let the contract for building a summer hotel, as it has not yet been intended building a hotel, and in worse error in saying that 41 crates of berries were shipped Monday at an average price of 25 cents per pound. There were 14 crates at an average price of 25 cents per pound.

Telephone Line.
A force of 21 men arrived here Wednesday evening and are at present busy engaged in setting the telephone poles for the new company. As their contract calls for placing the poles five feet in the ground, it is safe to say, that some of the holes will be built the thickness of a cray fish above the surface. The line will be completed in August and if the rates said to be charged by the company, are maintained, it will cost but little more to use it than it does to patronize the telegraph line.

From Profit to Loss.
The Western Union Telegraph Co., charges 40 cents for sending a ten word or less message from this point to Portland. The charge is an outrageous one and should be cut down. There is a point in every business, where legitimate profit ceases, and larceny begins. A 25 cent piece marks that point in this case and should be fixed as the limit.

A Wedding.
Rev. and Mrs. Jesse W. Rigby invite their many friends to be present at the marriage of their daughter Gerlie, with Christian D. Nickelsen, Tuesday evening, June 13th at 8 o'clock at Reimann M. E. church, three miles south-west of Hood River, Or.

Grand Party.
The evening of June 16th at the Pine Grove school house will be given a grand party for the benefit of Rev. J. W. Rigby. All are cordially invited to come and bring a pound, and as much more as they wish. Programme for the evening will be made and recitations. After exercises lunch.

BORN.

C. L. GILBERT,
Hood River, Oregon.

Berry Shipments.
Below we give the berry shipments for the season, up to Thursday night. There were shipped up to Thursday June 21 14 crates. Thursday 20, Friday 24, Saturday 54, Sunday 56, Monday 143, Tuesday 144, Wednesday 236, Thursday 276. Total to date 964.

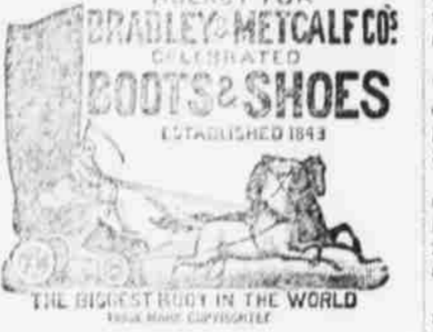

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

F. C. BROOKS,
Prop. Hood River Pharmacy.

F. H. Button and R. E. Rand have purchased five and three-quarter acres of land from J. N. Reynolds, and have let the contract for excavating a reservoir upon it 75 by 30 feet to Rand & Morse. They have sent east for a pump, will put in an undershot wheel in Hood River to run it, and expect to soon have a system of water works completed on that side of the river. The water will be used for household and fire-fighting purposes, and a part of the land in turn will be laid off in acre, or small tracts for sale. The wheel will be placed in the first bend of the river above the bridge, and will develop eighteen horse-power.
