

Wood River Glacier.

HOOD RIVER, OR. SEPT. 23, 1893.

THE CHEROKEE STRIP.

The boomers who fought and struggled to be the first into the Cherokee Strip, recently thrown open to settlement, are now diligently back-tracking themselves into the haunts of civilization from whence they started. It is estimated that 150,000 persons located or attempted to locate on these lands the first day they were opened, and that already over half of them have left. Many murders were committed and many accidents occurred in the mad rush, and the reward was disappointment. Scarcity of water and prairie fires were the greatest evils the boomers had to contend with, and the former caused much suffering. Towns sprang up as if by magic, there being several at night containing a population of from 3,000 to 5,000 where the noonday sun shone on the virgin prairie.

THE SENATE.

The United States senate is monkeying with a buzz saw that is liable to dismember it. The people expect it to act, and to act quickly, and do not care to have time wasted while the dignified members of the upper house talk through their hats, for the sole purpose of hearing their own voices. The venerable fossils will find that inaction on their part will cause a speedy change in the constitution providing for the election of their successors by the people. When this is done a different class of men will attend to the business of the country, instead of nagging about "senatorial courtesy and precedents." The people demand the settlement of the silver question, whatever the result may be, and the quicker the senatorial gathering of senility tumbles to this, the better it will be for it.

San Francisco is having a murder sensation. A Miss Gilmour visited the city ostensibly to purchase a stock of millinery goods. As she failed to write home a search was made for her, and it was discovered she had not visited the wholesale stores where she dealt. A few days later a woman's head was found in the bay, which was identified as that of the missing woman. Dr. West has been arrested on a charge of performing a criminal operation on her, under which she died, and he is accused of dismembering the body and throwing it in the bay.

Judge Munly of Multnomah county, has had three persons on trial before him charged with prize-fighting. Under the judge's very sensible ruling that a glove contest for money or a prize, was a prize-fight, all three were found guilty. This will put a stop to all boxing contests for money, and at the same time furnish an example that other judicial officers will do well to follow.

Corbett and Mitchell have had their first round, some heavy blows being made, straight from the lungs. It seems probable their proposed fight will not come off as Mitchell declines to fight before the Coney island club as agreed upon. Corbett says if Mitchell refuses to come to time, he will be there and meet any man in the world.

At Brunswick, Georgia, the center of the yellow fever epidemic, the situation is much improved. Wednesday morning it was stated that no new cases had been reported in 34 hours and that all patients under treatment were convalescing. It is thought the scourge is now under control, and that a few weeks, at most, will see it stamped out.

Hood River has had fine berry crops, fine yields of hay and grain, and is harvesting as fine a fruit crop as ever grew. Along with this prices have been good, so that there is no apparent reason why we as a community should growl about hard times, yet it is undeniable that coin is scarce.

The rebellion in Brazil at present seems to be about to succeed. Santos is in the hands of the rebels, and this leaves Rio Janeiro at their mercy. It is probable that the republic will be overthrown and that a monarchial form of government will be established by the party coming into power.

Vienna reported four and Hamburg ten new cases of cholera Wednesday. With the coming of cold weather it is thought the disease will be again under control.

The world's fair will close Oct. 30th. The attendance is steadily increasing, and if maintained at present numbers, will almost return the money of the stockholders.

Smallpox is causing New Yorkers much uneasiness. Ten new cases Wednesday.

If you have property to sell, list it with us. We have concluded to handle all the Hood River property we can and are prepared to do so on the very smallest living commissions. We are so situated as to easily reach all possible purchasers. Give us a list of the property you desire to sell and we will do the rest. Call and see us at the GLACIER office.

For Fruit Growers.

At the solicitation of many persons interested in the subject, the Portland Industrial Exposition has undertaken to gather fruit to be used in showing the pomological products of Oregon, at the Midwinter Fair in San Francisco. This fruit will be gathered and placed on display at the Exposition in Portland, and will be combined with what may be gathered from other sources for the Midwinter Fair. Although every orchardist should exert himself to see that the interests of the fruit industry are properly represented at all times, we should every person desirous of promoting the welfare of the state, the Exposition has decided to encourage and stimulate growers to send their best products by offering the following prizes:

For best 10 varieties of apples.....$5 00
For largest 5 apples..... 5 00
For largest 5 pears..... 5 00
For greatest variety of pears..... 5 00
For largest bunch of grapes..... 5 00
For greatest variety apples..... 5 00
All fruit should be carefully labeled with the name and address of the sender and in placing it on exhibition, both at Portland and San Francisco, it will be identified in this way so that discredit will be received by the producers. Fruit should be carefully packed and shipped by express to the Portland Industrial Exposition, Portland, Oregon. There will be no express charges for the shipper to pay. Entries for prizes will not be received later than October 7th, but choice fruit for exhibit will be taken at any time prior to October 20th. Orchardists are urged to give this matter the attention it deserves.

The Wonderful Bee.

The little honey bee is a tramp and a wonder from stem to stern. It is good to raminate about their wisdom and skill and their government. Just think of one queen being the mother of 20,000 and controlling them all more absolutely than any human mother controls her children. Just think of 19,500 workers and only 500 drones in a colony. These drones are the gentlemen loafers and swells who set about on the piazzas of the hives and watch the girls go by. But the drones don't enjoy themselves but a month or two. The queen gets tired of them and gives her orders and then the massacre of St. Bartholomew begins. In an hour's time everyone is slain—stung to death by the workers, and their putty, bloated carcasses dragged out and tumbled on the ground.

There is no little thing in nature more wonderful than the honeycomb; that these little workers make. Its mathematical construction gives the most space with the least enclosure, the arched top and bottom of every cell, the exact and uniform thickness of every division and the wisdom shown in shaping the whole storehouse to suit the shape of the hive is, indeed, marvelous. Then there is the division of the workers into brigades and regiments and companies, some to gather honey, some to make wax, some to build the cells, some to stand guard, some to wait on the queen and be her escort as she moves around, and a whole regiment to keep their wings going like revolving fans and supply fresh air in the hive. That fan business makes the humming that is heard in the hive day and night. It is the flutter of the wings of the fannies. How in the world they do everything in the dark is a wonder to me. I was talking to my friend, Mr. Bussey, about it on the train some time ago, and he told me confidentially that he was experimenting to see if he couldn't cross honey bees with lightning bugs and get up a bee that could seek how to work at night or in the dark. He has applied for a patent on the idea, but whether he has succeeded or not in his experiment I have not heard. He was very sanguine, and the only trouble, he said, was about the cross finding room in the tail for the fireworks and the sting too. But Mr. Bussey is an engineer on the State road and knows what he is about.

The sting of a bee is said to be the most perfect war weapon ever invented. It is exquisite in its mechanism. It is a hollow tube, and yet the point of the finest cambric needle is immense when compared with it. Under the microscope the sting is perfect in its shape and smoothness, so much so that the point is almost invisible, whereas the point of the needle under the same glass looks like a great rough crowbar with seams and ruts and ridges all over it. This is the difference between the works of God and man. And yet the same Almighty hand that made the little bee with his wonderful instincts and attachments made the universe—the boundless, limitless universe where there are stars to be seen by the Lord Ross telescope, whose light takes 90,000 years to reach us. Contemplate that for a moment, ye little convicted minds who think it smart to say, "I don't believe in God; I am an agnostic." Sixty thousand years for the light to reach us, and Lord Ross said that the star was in the near edge of the universe. Light travels through space about 190,000 miles in a second of time, which is more than ten billions of miles in a day. Then count it for a year and then for 60,000 years, and give it up. We may well exclaim, "Lord, what is man, that Thou art mindful of him!"

Cheap Homes, Secure one Now.

For 60 days I will show government lands in Hood River valley, suitable for homesteads, to parties wishing to locate, charging from ten to twenty dollars per claim for my services. I settled on government land six years ago, at the falls of Hood river, and live there now; am well pleased with the location, have spent much time and money building roads and bridges leading to these lands, and to improve the country. These lands have plenty of wood and water, and are among the best for fruit and vegetables, as well as for general agriculture. If you want a home of this description, do not fail to see me at the falls.

W. R. WINANS.

Commissioners' Court.

At the last meeting of the commissioners' court, the following business pertaining to this neighborhood was transacted:

J O Eastman, witness..... 2 30

The assessor was given until Oct. 20, to complete assessment.

Home Again.

James Langille, Walter Thompson and J. H. Cradlebaugh, arrived home from a month's prospecting trip in the mountains north of Mt. St. Helens, last Saturday. That section is out of the basalt, the bedrock being granite, porphyry and slate, and quartz being abundant. The party brought in some handsome ore, but whether rich enough to pay for working cannot be told until the assays are heard from. At Steamboat lake on the way home they met George Jones and party, who insisted on having them stay one day and take a feed. George produced a head of cabbage a sack of onions and another of potatoes, and that settled it. It was a feast never to be forgotten, and attacked with appetites that emptied the kettles. At some future date we will endeavor to write up the trip.
