Don't forget the fair next Friday and Saturday.

C. L. Morse made final proof on his homestead Monday.

Young pigs for sale at O. B. Hartley's. Price $2.50 a piece.

Shot-gun shells at Simmahan's, at Portland prices.

Sticky fly paper 50 cents per box of 25 double sheets, at the drug store.

Chris Bartsch came up from Portland Monday, and is visiting his brother and sister.

Mr. Edward G. Jones will leave next week for the east to remain during the winter.

Quarterly meeting at the U. B. church Sunday, October 1st. Presiding Elder Parker will officiate.

Mrs. E. L. Smith is visiting relatives and friends in Portland, but is expected home today.

All my stock of harness will be at A. S. Blowers & Co's., after Oct 1st.

E. D. CALKINS.

Mrs. Charles Early who has been visiting relatives and friends here returned to Chenowith Friday.

Mrs. Sothern has gone to Ellensburg, Wash., to live, her brother coming from there for her this week.

Bring your family to the fair next Friday and Saturday, and assist in making it a magnificent success.

Mr. Pugh and Mr. Backus are each digging a well which is the cause of the heavy blasting heard daily.

Thursday was the autumnal equinox, and the sound of the saw and ax already suggest the coming of winter.

The pupils of this district voted unanimously to thank Director T. C. Dallas for the gift of an organ stool.

Mr. C. C. Lane is building a neat cottage in Wimans' addition. George Hegar, who came from Salt Lake last week is helping him.

With Haynes has bought Jack Lincoln's interest in the firm of Luckey & Nickelsen, and will, no doubt, become modern Tubal Cain.

Doug Langille, Wednesday shipped, 1000 Lady Washington lily, 2000 cat's ear tulip, and 2000 dog-tooth violet bulbs to parties in Chicago.

E. L. Smith will receive any specimens of blue fruits suitable for Chicago exposition, per Hood River Fruit Growers' Union.

Jacob Lenz while turning down at the mill, Tuesday, broke the peavy handle and as a result has a badly bruised and strained ankle.

It is safe to say there will be very few sun-dried prunes this year, and considerable anxiety is being felt about whether corn and beans will not be damaged.

Walter and Minnie Logsdon will leave for their old home in Indiana sometime next week. They have a host of friends whose best wishes go with them.

Mr. M. A. Cook, who has been down at Portland for a week, returned Wednesday and will go immediately to getting strawberries on his place bought of Robert Gould.

The ladies of the valley and town are requested to bring, or send in cut flowers, and potted plants. The best of care will be taken of all articles sent for exhibit.

We are indebted to Mrs. E. A. Davidson for a copy of the Canton (III.) Register, in which we notice that H. F. Davidson, her son, has been granted a license to wed.

Insecticides for fruit pests and etc.; London Purple, Paris Green, I. X. L.; Whale oil soap, powdered hellebore, Persian insect powder etc., at the Hood River Pharmacy.

The undersigned will be here for a short time and will do first class work in photography at popular prices. Cards $1.50 per dozen; cabinets, $2.50. All work warranted. G. R. FLOWERS.

The Oregon Telephone Co. expects to have its line completed between Spokane and Portland by October 1st. The line is proving a great convenience and is receiving considerable patronage here.

Dr. Brosius went to The Dalles last Friday, taking with him Wm. Joss, who had suddenly become insane. Mr. Joss was taken to the asylum Saturday. It is hoped that a short treatment will effect a cure.

From the Canton (III.) Register, we learn that a marriage license was issued to H. F. Davidson and Mary A. Lewin. The marriage has, no doubt, taken place before this, and our young friend H. F. and his bride will soon be again with us.

Among the other changes made in conference by the Methodists, are these: Rev. Rigby goes to Fossil, Rev. Baker of Dufr, goes to Prineville, and Rev. T. G. Hodgson of Prineville, comes here. The latter will reside services here tomorrow.

Mr. Brykett is building a system of levees on his place across the Columbia, and expects to so control the waters of the Columbia that he will be able to get the first crop of his meadows without loss. By keeping the water off a week or two this result can be accomplished.

S. E. Bartness will sell for cash only and at a reduction of from 5 to 10 percent.

The Mt. Hood hotel will serve an elegant chicken dinner tomorrow (Sunday) from 12 to 2 for 25 cents. White labor only.

We have not pushed any of our subscribers for amounts due this office, but we will have to ask that they adjust their indebtedness at the earliest possible date.

Messrs. Smith and Heald finished their collection of fruits for the world's fair and shipped it Thursday. We venture the assertion that no fruit equal to it was ever seen in Chicago.

Doug Langille expects to leave for Portland in a few days to arrange an exhibit at the Portland Exposition, of the wood, foliage and cones, of the cone bearing trees native to this section. There are 17 varieties.

George and Dick Jones and Walter Logsdon arrived home Monday evening, having been in the mountains for nearly two weeks. They visited the Chatfield coal mine, twenty-five miles west of Trout Lake, and came home by way of Wind river, coming over one of the roughest trails in the country.

Mr. T. F. Moore, of Illinois, who was recently located on a homestead by Mr. Berry in the upper valley, came in this week with a three-horse team and wagon loaded with household furniture and farming implements. Mr. Moore has a wife and two children and has come to stay. We welcome him as a permanent settler.

Through H. C. Batcham we learn that his brother, A. P. Batcham, of Pasco, Washington, narrowly escaped the recent steamboat explosion on Snake river. He is engaged in placer gold mining and was expected on to Hood River soon. Two of his partners, the Mcintosh brothers, were killed, also one of the investors in the company, and another likely to die soon.

Mr. George Ridley wife and family arrived here from Indian Territory Thursday. He is a blacksmith by trade, but expects to work at the mills until they close for the season. Mr. Ridley is well acquainted with the Cherokee strip, but wanted none of it, leaving just as it was opened for settlement. The hundred thousand dispossessed ones of that section could find homes in Oregon, that would satisfy them, and then there would be room for a million more.

BORN.

In Hood River Saturday, September 16th, to Mr. and Mrs. Andy Rand, a daughter.

Bring Them In.

It is expected that every variety of fruit and vegetable grown in the valley will be exhibited at the fair next Friday. The idea is, not only to show the quality of our products, but also the range of growth which the climate permits. Do not stop because you think your specimens not firstclass but bring them in.

Postponed the Beef.

Last Sunday a dozen or more Hood Riverites went out to the Crapper school house with the avowed intention of having a shooting match, the five best shots to be rewarded each with a quarter of beef, except the fifth man, who was to have the hide, horns, tail and tallow. Owing to the unsettled money question and bashfulness about producing the coin of the realm to pay for the expected denoue of the animal which was to furnish the beef, the shooting was indefinitely postponed.

The Hood River Fair.

The horticultural fair to be held at the new armory, commencing next Friday, gives promise of bringing together representative fruit growers from the entire mid-Columbia district. That the exhibit will be well worth seeing need not be affirmed. Hood River alone can make an exhibit of apples that cannot be excelled, with the whole United States to select from, and White Salmon, Mosier, The Dalles and other mid-Columbia points are not behind her, in quality, and all these points will be represented. We venture the assertion that the exhibit of apples will surpass anything ever seen in Oregon, and therefore be a world beater. It is expected that the Regulator will give excursion rates on the 30th, and it is probable the Press Association, which will be in session at Portland at the time, may be induced to visit us. Of course all other fruits in season will be represented, as well as flowers and vegetables, and every one is urged to contribute to the success of the fair by bringing in specimens of their crops.

A Fine Garden.

Mr. W. P. Watson must surely possess some mysterious power over the plants of the earth, for they all sprout, bud, bloom and yield for him as for no other. At his home near town he has a garden which, if it could be lifted bodily and transferred to Chicago, would start a stream of immigration Oregonwards that would tax the carrying capacity of the railroads. In a brief visit, the other day, we noticed a grapevine with not less than 1500 pounds of fruit on it; a pear tree that resembled a huge bunch of grapes; tomatoes weighing several pounds apiece; a cucumber, left just as a specimen, twenty-two inches long and eight inches in diameter; potatoes that we are afraid to attempt to describe, but we believe they will yield over 400 bushels to the acre; peppers with pods five inches long and four inches in diameter; melons that hide the ground; and in fact, everything in the fruit and vegetable line fairly outdoing one another in the effort to be the largest and best of its kind.
