

Hood River Glacier.

HOOD RIVER, OR. SEPT. 30, 1893.

STEWART'S FINE TOUCH.

Senator Stewart's arraignment of President Cleveland, for not being "in touch with the people," is particularly humorous. The distinguished senator says the president has neither had a university education, nor that other equally good education acquired by being "in touch with the people," and that the experience as sheriff, clerk, mayor and governor is not sufficient to make up for this lack of education, or give the president any right to have an opinion of his own concerning financial matters. Stewart made a fortune on the Comstock in the early sixties by being in touch with people who were conversant with the witness stand—and report has it that he performed some wonderful feats of finance in those days, resulting in testimony that made his side of some very important mining cases successful. Stewart perfected his wonderful "touch with the people," as attorney for the big mining corporations, and he still holds his grip on the same.

SILENT AS A CLAM.

The state superintendent of public instruction, Mr. McElroy, has evidently been in office too long, since he imagines that department belongs to him. The state appropriation this year is only 70 cents, about half that of last year. The state superintendent has been asked by the directors of several districts the cause of the reduction, to which pertinent question the important reply is made that "the rate is 70 cents." The people have a right to know why the state has cut off one-half the school money, and Mr. McElroy will do well to give them that information. If our memory does not fail us, McElroy was both approachable and communicative before the election, and we see no valid reason why he should shut up like a clam when information concerning public matters is required of him.

A SPLENDID EXHIBIT.

Owing to the fact that we go to press at noon Fridays, and the further fact that the exhibits were not all in place as we closed our forum, it was impossible to give a proper description of our fair. Next week we will try and do the subject justice, as far as our limited talents will permit. The committee on decoration has made the armory a tower of beauty, and its members are deserving of the thanks of the community. Hood River, for once, has united and is union has shown her strength. Let us hope that the results of this united effort may be followed by more of the same kind.

IT WAS PROPERLY TABLED.

Senator Dubois of Idaho, Tuesday, offered a resolution as follows: "Whereas, Several sovereign states are without the full representation in the senate that they are entitled. "Be it resolved, That the consideration of legislation relating to the federal election laws, tariffs and financial matters materially affecting the partially unrepresented states, be postponed in the senate until Monday, January 15, 1894, to enable the states of Washington, Montana and Wyoming to have the influence and protection in the senate guaranteed each sovereign state by the constitution of the United States."

Of course, the resolution is merely for the purpose of gaining time, and possibly strengthening the free-silverites by the addition of a few votes from silver states. There is no reason why the country at large should delay legislation because the legislatures in the states named neglected to do their duty. With such a precedent, a state could block any measure before the senate by refusing to have representation in that body; in other words, could take advantage of its own wrong.

The assessment of this county will be completed the 20th of next month, and the board of equalization will meet soon after. It is impossible to make any accurate estimate of the valuation, but it should be much larger than ever before. The railroad lands, which heretofore have escaped taxation, are now in shape to bear their portion of the burden of taxation, and as a result the tax rate this year should not be above 15 mills. Heretofore, with a 75 per cent valuation and a 25-mill tax, the farmer has found his taxes the heaviest and heaviest bill he had to meet. This year the burden should be lifted as far as possible, and not less than 25 per cent should be knocked off from the amounts paid last year. We believe this can and will be done.

The Oregon Press Association met at Portland Thursday evening. They were joined Friday evening by about sixty members of the Washington Press Association. General Passenger Agent Huriburt of the Union Pacific has placed a special train at their service, and to-day they will visit this place, arriving about 10:30. Arrangements have been completed here for their reception, and we sincerely hope they will be pleased with Hood River.

THE PRESIDENT'S POSITION.

In reply to a letter from Governor Northern of Atlanta, Georgia, asking the president to give his position on financial matters, Mr. Cleveland sent the following under date of September 24th:

"I scarcely know how to reply to your letter of the 15th inst. It seems to me that I am plainly on record concerning the financial question. My letter accepting the nomination to the presidency, when read in connection with my message lately sent to congress in extraordinary session, seems to me to be very explicit. I want a currency that is stable and safe in the hands of our people. I will not knowingly be implicated in a condition that will justly make me, in the least degree answerable to any laborer or farmer in the United States for another shrinkage in the purchasing power of the dollar he has received for a full dollar's worth of the products of his toil. I do not only want our currency to be of such a character that all kinds of dealings will be of equal purchasing power at home, but I want it to be of such a character as will demonstrate abroad our wisdom and good faith, thus placing it upon a firm foundation of credit among the nations of the earth. I want our financial conditions and laws relating to our currency so safe and reassuring that those who have money will spend and invest it in business and new enterprises, instead of hoarding it. You cannot cure fright by calling it foolish and unreasoning, and you can not prevent a frightened man from hoarding his money. I want good sound and stable money and a condition of confidence that will keep it in use.

"Within the limits of which I have written, I am a friend of silver, but I believe its proper place in our currency can only be fixed by the readjustment of our currency legislation and the inauguration of a consistent and comprehensive financial scheme. I think such a thing can only be entered upon profitably and hopefully after the repeal of the law which is charged with our financial woes. In the present state of the public mind, this law cannot be built upon nor patched in such a way as to relieve the situation. I am, therefore, opposed to free and unlimited coinage of silver by the country alone and independently, and I am in favor of the immediate and unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the so-called Sherman law. I confess I am astonished by the opposition in the senate to such prompt action as would relieve the present unfortunate situation. My daily prayer is that the delay occasioned by such opposition may not be the cause of plunging the country into a deeper depression than it has yet known, and that the democratic party may not be justly held responsible for such a catastrophe."

The mystery concerning the murder of Miss Gilmour at San Francisco is being cleared up. Dr. West, who was arrested charged with performing an operation resulting in her death, is under arrest, since which he has married by the contract plan a Miss Staley, who is supposed to have been his assistant. This was done to prevent her being compelled to testify against him. Wednesday, a coal oil can was found floating in the bay near Berkeley, containing two arms and hands, thighs and calves of the legs and intestines of a human body. With them was found a woman's purse and several hair ornaments. There is no question but that the ghastly find is a portion of the murdered girl.

Admiral Meffe commenced the bombardment of Rio Janeiro Monday, but at the request of the commanders of the foreign warships in the harbor desisted, pending negotiations. Much damage was done and a number of citizens killed.

DIED.

At Chenoweth, Thursday the 28th, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hayworth, aged 15 months.

Dr. Brosius was sent for but found the boy dead on his arrival.

At Hood River, Friday morning, Sept 29th, Wm. Ellison, aged 39 years 10 months and 18 days. William Ellison was born in San Francisco, California, November 17, 1853. He had been in the employ of the Union Pacific for about 12 years, the last two of which he has been the agent at this place. He was a generous, genial kindly man; a model husband and father. In his official character he was courteous and obliging, commanding the respect and friendship of all. He leaves besides his wife, six children, the oldest 10 years of age and the youngest six, to mourn the loss of one who was at once father brother and playmate. Their loss is indeed great, and the entire community sympathize with them in their bereavement. The funeral will take place Sunday at 10 o'clock a. m., under the auspices of Idlewild lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was an honored member.

NEWS NOTES.

A crazy man fired five shots in the head of trade rooms in Chicago, Wednesday, fatally wounding two brokers. One woman in the visitors gallery was shot in the back, but will recover.

Two Chinamen, craned with liquor, ran amuck in a crowd in Chicago, Wednesday, killing two men and injuring a number of others.

The Italian steamer Vincenzo Flor, with a cargo of immigrants for Brazil, was refused a landing Monday on account of having cholera on board. The ship is lying outside the harbor, and deaths are occurring at the rate of from twenty to thirty a day.

R. E. Preston has been nominated by the president for the office of director of the mint.

The cholera record shows 60 new cases at St. Petersburg, 23 deaths; and six cases at Hamburg.

The yellow fever at Brunswick, Georgia, shows 18 new cases Wednesday, and 22 cases under treatment.

A trust is being formed in England to control all the coal mines in the kingdom. The capital stock is $900,000.
