At Chicago Royal Leads All.

As the result of my tests, I find the ROYAL BAKING POWDER superior to all the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it gives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore not enly the purest, but also the strongest powder with which I am acquainted.

The best farming land in America. See what American farmers say of it; copy of their testimony, with map, SENT FREE. Address L. A. HAMILTON, Land Commissioner, Winn peg; D. McNIGOLL, G. P. A., Montreal, or any agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The twillight is full of sadness And the wind, in its cont of gray, Skulks like a wolf thro' the shadows And will not be scared away.

THE SWINGING GATE

Down at the foot of the garden The gate is swinging slow. As if invisible footstern

Were passing to and fro. And it seems to me, in my musing, They are feet of my coming fate. That will flud their way to my threshold And pass it like the gate.

Oh, say, do ye bring good tidings, Ye unseen messengers? Or is it sorrow and boding Of future griefs and cares?

The gate swings slowly, slowly, And the shutters creak and start: I sit in the glowing lamp light, But a shadow fills my heart. -Florence E. Pratt in Harper's Weekly.

THE MOST FERTILE SOIL IN AMERICA.

What is there in this Alberta, through which the Canadian Pacific Railway runs, that it should draw trainloads of settlers and settlers' effects from Idaho. Washington and Oregon? The most fertile soil in America, wood, water, coal and climate; that is what they say. This Valley of the Saskatchewan seems to have been rediscovered of late by some Washington and Idaho men, who kept things dark until they and their riends had secured locations immediate ly around the few depots already erected when the line was opened. Then they sent word of what they had found, and their friends are going in by the score. The country, they say, is large and good throughout, and new stations are promised as settlement requires them. Then Maine, Michigan and Vermont caught on, and sent up delegates to spy out the land and report. They gave a practical answer. They wrote, saving they had examined the country, had selected locations and were coming home to sell the old place and go where it was worth while farming. The grain and vegetables they saw cannot be excelled in North America, and can be equaled in very few parts. The cattle, horses and sheep were rolling fat and standing up to their knees in rich native grasses. Why was this not all known before? Because for generations only the Hudson Bay Company knew it, and they wanted no settlers in their fur country; and when they lost hold of it there was no way of getting to it. Now two branches of the Canadian Pacific Railway run through the richest parts of it.

How Some Journalists Work.

Those people who are always complaining of the inaccuracy of newspaper writers ought to be impressed with this story of M. de Blowitz, the famous correspondent of the London Times, which I heard the other day from an American writer who knows the journalist intimately: "One night while I was visiting Blowitz," says my informant, "a bit of news came to him by wire. It consisted of only a few lines, and I supposed of invited to have a biscuit with us and see of only a few lines, and I supposed of the wonderful merits of Golden West course that he would simply wire it on baking Powder proved by actual work. drove all over Paris, from the house of CLOSSET & DEVERS, drove all over Paris, from the house of this statesman to that, in order to verify the report. The Growth of the Postal System. Less than 50 years ago there was really no postal system in this country. Previous to 1847 the mails were carried by private firms, and rates varied according to distance. Carriers often traveled on foot or horseback, and the progress was alow. In 1846 some of the post offices slow. In 1846 some of the post offices issued stamps of their own, called "provisional issues." The adhesive stamp was first used in this country in 1847, willow slips are cut in the fall and kept and prepayment was made compulsory green all winter by packing their stubs in in 1856. In 1863 the stamp containing the head of Andrew Jackson was issued. and from then until 1885 the style Securing Free Land adopted contained the profiles of presidents of the United States, -Public Opin-

PARISIAN THEATERS

Playhouses in the Gay Capital Have Very

Many Peculiarities. Plays in Paris generally begin at o'clock and never finish until about midnight. If they were over earlier the audience would think that they had not re-ceived their money's worth of bad air and good acting. Sitting four hours in such an atmosphere would be unendurable to an American were it not for the long waits between the acts, when one can walk for twenty minutes in the large "foyer" or go out and get a little fresh air. The orchestra never plays between the acts, so there is no inducement to remain in the hot, garlie scented air during that time.

It is a matter of some formality to get into a French theater. Don't think that you can do as in free America, throw down a few silver car wheels, with a goddess of liberty on one side and a loudly screaming American eagle on the other, and enter the theater and take your seats. No; there is a good deal of red tape to be unraveled before that. If you wish a good place you must go to the theater a few days in advance, politely take off your hat to the ugly and cross old female in the box office and humbly ask for the seats you wish. yourself," but say your polite sentence all over again.

If the speculators and the ugly old woman's friends have not reserved all the places, she will write out a document on a large slicet of green or red paper (for they never have printed theater tickets here) stating your name, the title of the play the chief actor's name, the date and official number of the performance, and after dusting it well with sand (for they are too conservative to use blotting paper), and demanding two cents extra for the government stamp, she will hand it over to you in exchange for French gold. On the even ing of the performance you purchase a programme of a man at the door, and walk up to the desk where three Frenchmen in dress suits preside.

Your troubles then begin. These "judges" act as ticket takers. One of them examines the green or red document that you procured with so much trouble, to see that it is not a forgery, and that the date, etc., is all right, and then passes it on to one of his associate judges in this supreme court of united French red tape, who looks it all over and tears off one corner and cries in a loud voice, "Deux personnes a gouch," or words to that effect, Perhaps you think you are in the theater then. Oh, no! You have yet to pass the Cerberus who guards the inner door. This is an ugly old hag, with a white cap, who takes your ticket and insists on your leaving your coat with her. If it is summer and you have nothing to leave of that kind she will then ask you for her "little benefit," as she calls it, in advance, before she will let you go to your seat. You must pay up or fight, and I advise every one to pay cash, as it is cheaper in the end.

These ugly old women, who are known as "ouvreuses" (openers), and who keep an eye well open for half franc pieces (or whole ones if you have a pretty girl with you), really run the theater, or at least all that portion of it in front of the footlights. If you go often to the same theater it is best to fee them well, no matter how much you may dislike the custom. They always insist on furnishing a dirty little footstool (which is always in the way) to the sweet girl who is with you, but they call her "Madame" in such a natural way that you enough for what it has done for me. Mas, conclude it is worth an extra half frame Josephine Boyce, 18 Daylson Street, Peekskill, Finally, when you have uncond tionally surrendered to the "ouvreuse," she will permit you to occupy the cushioned board for which you have paid dearly, and will only occasionally disturb you to ask if you wish an "official" programme or an opera glass.

Although the theaters here are very uncomfortable, the entertainments are always enjoyable. The acting here is the best in the world. - Paris Cor. Boston Journal.

Cleero.

Cardinal Newman was a master in the art of writing English. In one of his published letters he expressed the following

"As to patterns for imitation, the only master of style I ever had is Cicero; I think I owe a great deal to him, and, so far as I know, to no one else.

Bishop Wordsworth, of St. Andrews, an other masterly writer of English, says in his autobiography: "So far as I have derived benefit from any one in the matter of composition, it has been from Cicero. "I do not underrate the advantage of a combined study of authors such as Addison, Swift, Bolingbroke, Johnson, Burke, Hume, Gibbon, Macaulay and, 1 may add, Horace Walpole: but I must repeat that I believe I got more good, not only in writing Latin, but for writing English, from reading Cicero and learning him by heart,

An Expressive Postscript. A curious postscript was once added to a letter by General Israel Putnam. A spy named Palmer, sent by Sir Henry Clinton, the British commander, had been detected furtively collecting information of the force and condition of the post at Peekskill, and had undergone a military trial. A vessel of war came up the Hudson in all it, but instead of that he took a cab and haste and landed a flag of truce at Verplanck's Point, by which a message was transmitted to Putnam from Clinton claiming the said Palmer as a lieutenant in the British service. Putnam replied:

HEADQUARTERS, 7th August, 1777. Edward Palmer, an officer in the enemy's service, was taken as a spy lurking within our lines. He has been tried as a spy and shall be executed as a spy, and the flag is ordered to depart immediately.

The Best Kind of Baskets.

A general mistake is made about baskets, wet sand or water, and when spring comes the bark peels off with a twist of the hand. The buff baskets, on the contrary, are made from dried willow slips, which have been steamed and then peeled. While not so handsome, they are much stronger and will wear far longer than the white, -New York

Why a Bulldog Is So Called. As to the derivation of the word bulldog it is only necessary to state that at one time this species was exclusively used in bull bating, and from that circumstance arose the name by which it is universally known. A cross between this and the terrier is appropriately termed the bull terrier. - Detroit From Press

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Some most excruciating pain comes from derangement of the kidneys. This is the testimony of Senator Henry C. Nelson of New York as to the value of Atacock's Porous Plasters in such cases:
