Window Screens.
A transparency at a kitchen window attracted my notice the other day by its novelty. "I made it," said the owner, "because I could not get a transparency at the village store. I wanted one of those screens, you know, that permit you to see out, but do not let outsiders see in. I took an old frame for a wire screen, painted it to match the outside painting of the house and then tacked it to a piece of organdy, fitting it perfectly and arranging the design in my mind proceeded to paste them on. After all were on I laid a piece of pasteboard behind and put on heavy weights until they were dry. I then gave the whole a coat of white varnish."

Reassured.
Angelina (anxiously)—Are you sure, dear, that you don't regret it, and that you don't sometimes miss your life as a bachelor?
Edwin (with cheerful conviction)—Not a bit. I tell you what, Angy, I miss it so little that if I were to lose you—I'm blessed if I wouldn't marry again.—London Tit-Bits.

The Proper Thing.
Miss Keedick—Mr. Gilley actually offered himself to Miss Darley on a postal card.
Miss Gasket—What did she do?
Miss Keedick—Refused him. She said she preferred sealed proposals.

The name of Jos. W. Beveridge of Portland is prominently mentioned in connection with the candidacy for the office of State Printer in the coming election. He has never been prominent in politics, having been too busy with the management of one of the largest printing offices in the State, where he has made a record for artistic skill, rapid handling of large contracts and economical conduct of the office.—Jacksonville Times.

Babies

ought to be fat. They are sickly when thin and thin when their food does not nourish them.

Scott's Emulsion

the cream of Cod-liver Oil and hypophosphites, makes babies fat and well, strengthens growing children and nourishes mothers. Physicians, the world over, endorse it.

THE GOVERNOR OF FLORIDA.

Some of the Interesting Characteristics of Henry L. Mitchell.
Florida's governor, Henry L. Mitchell, who has attracted so much attention on account of his pronounced opposition to the Corbett-Mitchell fight, was born in Alabama about 62 years ago. He has a smooth, beardless face that shows all the character in his physiognomy, and there is a great deal of it to show. He is a man of massive frame, long slender legs that seem intended to match a smaller trunk, and his intense head is covered with iron gray hair. He is stout shouldered, and his voice is pitched so high that it is almost falsetto. His peculiarities and the quaint stories they have inspired are known from one end of Florida to the other, and he is familiarly known as "Old Man" Mitchell. He was a resident of Hillsboro county, near Tampa, before he was called to Tallahassee by his gubernatorial duties and occupied a number of offices that called for ability before he was elected governor. One of the first of these was the solicitorship of Hillsboro county. Later he became circuit judge and still later was chosen judge of the supreme court. Then he concluded that his election as governor of the state would be the next step upward, and it was. He organized for the preliminary campaign, secured the nomination and was elected a little over a year ago.

He is described as a firm friend and a bitter foe and is noted for his determined character. He and his wife are childless and live at a hotel in the capital. Although he owns an orange grove and has been a long time in politics, he is not considered a wealthy man and lives on the salary of $2,500, which the office of chief executive of Florida pays.
His only dissipation is smoking, but he is passionately fond of hunting, fishing and card playing. He is one of the best whist players in the state, and when he sits down to a game of poker it is said that he can bluff his way through on a botched flush with almost unparalleled nerve. Like other good card players, he is a hard loser and says things when luck does not favor him.

THE STOCK IS WITH US.
It Winds Twice About the Neck and Requires a Cat-Like Collar.
Stocks, long coats and bell topped hats are with us again. It is the old story of "Backward, turn backward, O time, in thy flight!" and the howling siren of 1890 would find him dressed in the very extreme of current fashion if he could walk Fifth avenue today in the raiment that long ago fell into desuetude. There is nothing new under the sun in fashions. They up and down the penny in turn, again, and sometimes, as in the case of the recent unsuccessful hoopskirt renaissance, they never get into circulation again.

The stock, however, has not only come back, but it seems to be meeting with a very fair amount of cordiality. The swagger young man of New York is not happy now unless he has 40 inches of black or delicately figured satin wound around his neck a couple of times and looks like a dude with a flannel bandage around his throat. The ends of the stock are about two-thirds of an inch wide, and the center expands to twice that width. Getting one of them on for the first time requires a day off. The operation is described as follows: The wearer first puts on the highest standing collar of the law allows. Then he buttons the center of his stock to his front collar button, thus holding the stock in position, for the time being at least. The ends are passed back and crossed, one end passing through the band. The stock is then tied in front like an ordinary bow tie.
The dress is said to fill a long felt want in the stock of men who run to neck. The collar fits around a long thin neck, as compared with the New York style, as compared with the New York style, as compared with the New York style.

Wanted Twelve Years.
Vaclav Koran and Elizabeth Frederick were made husband and wife by Justice Daniel L. Wheeler, of Chicago, Friday afternoon on the authority of a marriage certificate issued Sept. 27, 1881, eleven years ago. The license bore the signature of County Clerk E. F. C. Klokke. Koran is now forty-three years old, and she is two years older. The obstacle which had kept apart their yearning hearts so many years was the veto of an angry father. A year ago the father died, and after waiting twelve months for propriety's sake the constant lovers were married.—Exchange.

IN THE STOCKS.
pletely obscuring it as if a cuff were used, and the stock coils itself around the base of this cylinder of polished linen, padding it out until the neck not only seems to lose half its length, but apparently gains a great deal in thickness. The stock looks particularly well when made of white lawn or satin and worn in the evening. The price of a good stock at present is $1.
The beed crowned beaver hat now worn by the extremists is almost as top heavy as the title worn by Mansfield when he impersonates Beag Brummel. The concave shape is exaggerated into a pronounced crescent, and the brim curls up very high at the sides. The extreme coat and overcoat fit closely about the waist and hips and fall within a very few inches of the ground. A tall, powerfully built man dressed in the long coat and wearing the bell topped hat and impressive stock takes on a most distinguished and stunning appearance. A small man, however, looks as though a pile driver had struck him on the head and shut him up like a telescope.

The Deepest Boring.
The deepest boring of which we have any knowledge up to the present time, says Revue Scientifique, is at Parvichowitz, in the district of Ribnik, in western Silesia. The depth attained is 4,868 feet, and the diameter of the hole is only 2.75 inches.

is more to be dreaded than an open and visible foe. That subtle and lurking foe, which under the generic name of malaria manifests itself, when it attacks us in its tentacles grasp, in the various forms of chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague or ague cake, can only be effectively guarded against by fortifying the system against its insidious attacks with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a thorough antidote to the poison of malarial in the system and a safeguard against its thoroughly to be relied upon. In the event of a malarious attack avoid poisoning your system with quinine, and use instead this wholesome, unobnoxious, in taste and far more efficacious than any drug. Use the Bitters for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, kidney complaints and rheumatism.

Old Lady—My friend, are you a Christian?
Begar—Well, mum, no one has ever accused me of workin' Sunday.

THE BEST TEACHER.

The Arabs say that the best teacher is Time. That is true, especially when year after year enforces the same lesson. For more than thirty years ALL-COCKER'S POROUS PLASTERS have been in use every part of the world, and the testimony is universal as to their value as an external remedy for pains of every kind in the back, chest and side. Some people have learned the lesson so well that they try to imitate them, and the result is a host of counterfeits, all pretending to be just as good as ALL-COCKER'S POROUS PLASTERS, and unaccountably that by this very statement they acknowledge that ALL-COCKER'S POROUS PLASTERS hold the first place. Be sure and get the genuine.

Blood Poisoned

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Purified, and Restored Health.

"Three years ago a file of letters of one of my legs just above the knee. Failing to receive the necessary blood.
Blood Poisoning
set in. I became so weak and my system so much run down that I could hardly turn in bed or help myself in any way. After seven months' confinement, my wife took me to Walla Walla, Wash. Here the surgeons amputated my leg half way between the knee and the hip. Following this my health improved slightly but shortly afterwards began to form on my body. Finally Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I could see a change from the first. Gradually I have improved; I am growing stronger and the painful scars have disappeared.
