FOXY COXEY.

Coxey wants congress to appropriate $500,000,000 to be expended in building public roads, thus giving employment to the "unemployed of this country." He does not take into consideration two things: First, that to pay the unemployed $500,000,000, the employed would have to be taxed to furnish the money, because the government gets its revenue, not from property tax, but a tax on consumption, and that this tax the employed are neither able nor willing to put up. Second, that with such a fund, which would be only a starter, by the way, the "unemployed" of Europe would flock here to take the job, and drive Coxe and his army out of it, just as they have driven the American laborer out of the coal fields and the iron mines of Pennsylvania and Ohio. Besides this, the whole scheme is too impracticable to be worthy of consideration by congress. The work Coxe and his bedraggled followers would do on the roads would cost ten times what it should, because if the government is to become paternal, the workers, though many, would have an eye more to the per diem than the labor. If it were within the power of congress, there is one thing that might be done that would be pre-eminently proper, and that is to "appropriate" Coxe's property for the benefit of the "commonweal" and divide the proceeds of the sale thereof among the starving crew whom he has misled.

Nearly every week the United States senate loses one of its members by death, Stockbridge of Michigan being the last to pass in his checks. Senator Dolph's serial speech is still running, and this may account for the unusual death rate. If he will talk the whole measly lot to death he will do the country a good service.

The Reformer is the latest addition to the newspaper fold in this county. It is the representative of the populist party.

Political Notes.

The time for registering by the Chinese expired Thursday.
The election in Spokane was a genuine surprise, the populists electing the mayor by 173, the comptroller by 700, and two of six councilmen, with another tie, and the result on the treasurer so close that the result is not yet known.
St. Paul, Minnesota, at the city election Tuesday, elected the democratic candidate for mayor.
The third Ohio congressional district, at a special election held Tuesday to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Congressman Houk, elected Sorg, democrat, over Rathbone, republican, by a majority of 1721. The fight was made on the tariff question.

EDITOR GLAZIER:

In your issue of the 28th ult. you quote Mrs. J. B. Southworth as authority for the statement that "the birds which migrate are insectivorous." This is misleading. The truth is, grass, grain and flesh-eaters are also migratory. We instance, trumpeter swan (cygnus buccinator aud.), wild turkey, meleagris (galopavo linn.) snow owl (strix nyctea aud.), as representatives of other divisions of the feathered denizens of lake, forest and field.
EDGAR W. WINANS.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The Wasco county democracy this year nominated an exceptionally strong ticket, and if its candidates are elected the county will get good service. L. E. Morse of this precinct heads the list as the nominee for sheriff. In this precinct he is too well known to need any introduction, but to the people of the other precincts we can say that he is a thoroughly reliable man and will fill the office with credit to himself and the county.

E. Martin, the candidate for clerk, is the present deputy. He is thoroughly conversant with the duties of the office, is a genial, obliging gentleman, and knows more about deeds, mortgages and records than three-fourths of the attorneys. He is thoroughly competent, and neither Wasco county nor any other in the state has a man better fitted for the place.

Everybody in the county knows Aaron Fraser, the nominee for superintendent of schools. He filled the position for two years, and filled it well. He is a practical teacher, who has devoted thirty or more years to his profession, and is at present principal of the school at Dufur, which is second to none in the county.

Henry Pitman, the candidate for assessor, is a practical, level-headed man, raised in the county, and is as well qualified to make a square, full assessment as any man in the county.

R. E. Williams, or "Bob," is known by nearly every one, and the county funds will be carefully looked after if the voters will place them in his charge. He has been in business in The Dalles for a number of years, and is in every way qualified to fill the place.

J. C. Wingfield of Eight Mile, the candidate for county commissioner, is highly spoken of by his neighbors, all of whom say he is the right man for the place.

As coroner, John Cates can set as gracefully on his corpse as an Indian chief on a cayuse, and if perchance we should drop dead when some thoughtless subscriber pays up two years' back subscription and a year in advance, it would afford us much satisfaction to have him sit on the remains and boss the verdict.

We are not personally acquainted with a number of the republican candidates, and if some of their friends desire to say a word in their behalf we will give space to the article.

Mr. Hood, May 1, 1894.

EDITOR GLAZIER:

Having left The Dalles some days ago to escape the importunities of office seekers, I thought to come here to pass a few quiet weeks, but alas! it is worse than I anticipated, as the ladies are canvassing in the interest of their favorite candidates with an enthusiasm and energy that is surprising.

Several young people in the vicinity of Mr. S. M. Baldwin assembled there Sunday evening, the 29th, and passed several pleasant hours in singing, playing games, etc.

Our candidate for constable, in the absence of more interesting duties, is engaged in the very common task of constructing a log house.

We are informed that the post drive on the west fork is progressing favorably.

Our genial and deservedly popular postmaster is constantly adding to the stock of goods in the store.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Welch of The Dalles are here to spend the summer on their place.

Coxey's army may march to Washington, it will make no difference with the progress of this vicinity. New houses are going up and each and all seem to have confidence in the future of Mt. Hood. H. C. MCKANEY.

Trout Lake Valley.

School opened Monday under the efficient management of Miss Palmer of Cammas.

Mrs. and Miss Wagnitz have arrived from Portland to spend the summer on their ranch.

Fred Eckert hurt his foot by stepping on an upturned nail and is partly disabled.

Mrs. John Yost has returned home from Portland.

Messrs. Sev. Benz and Joseph Aerli did jury duty in Goldendale last week.

Residents near the Falls are trying to organize a new election precinct, taking in a portion of this precinct.

Populists talk of organizing a club soon.

It is rumored that Trout Lake will furnish a candidate for auditor before the republican county convention.

The portable saw mill has not arrived at this date, April 29th. 30.

Curious Death Customs of Feejee.

The Feejeeans believe that in case a marriageable youth or maiden dies without having gone through with the elaborate nuptial knot tying ceremony of the islands his or her soul is doomed to wander about forever in an intermediate region between heaven and hell. When any one dies—man, woman or child—a whale's tooth is placed in the hand of the corpse, the missile to be thrown at the tree which stands as a guidepost to point out the road that leads to heaven and the one that leads to hell. —St. Louis Republic.

Poisonous Honey From Plants.

There are certain plants which produce flowers that make not only poisonous honey, but also poisonous wax. Cases often occur of persons being made ill after eating honey, and the cause is sometimes attributed to indigestion, but more frequently the cause is found in the honey itself, the bees having fed upon some poisonous flowers. —Paris American Register.

Parsee Philanthropy.

Perhaps the most distinctive feature about Parsee philanthropy is that it is defrayed not from a large capital sum, but out of the incomes of the donors, and in this respect it far surpasses in proportion and merit the notorious but probably more calculating charitable outlay of the Jews. —London Globe.

Envid Rabbits.

Johnny (looking up from his arithmetic with a sigh)—Oh, papa, I wish I was a rabbit!
Father—Indeed! And why would you like to be a rabbit, my son?
Johnny—Because I was reading a book today which said that they multiplied with astonishing rapidity.—Exchange.

INFLUENZA,

Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
"Last Spring, I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine."—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D.

MIDNIGHT.

Will serve during the season of 1894 at OLLINGER & BONE'S Stables, Hood River, Oregon.

DESCRIPTION.

MIDNIGHT is a coal-black Hambletonian, 4 years old, 15 hands high, weight 1400 pounds. Sired by Shaw's Hambletonian; Dam a copper-bottom mare. Midnight is a good dispositioned horse, a Topsy driven and quite a trotter for a horse of his size.
Midnight's service fees will be $5 for a single service, to be paid at time of service, or $10 for the season due August 1st following service, or $15 to insure with foal payable April 1, 1895. Insurance cannot be given after first service or other terms. Mares failing to catch on single service may be bred by the season by paying the additional fee.
Great care will be taken to prevent accidents, but will not be responsible should they occur. For further information apply to Eph Ollinger at the barn of F. C. Brosius, owner.

CARE OF YOUNG COLTS.

This is the time of the year when much loss occurs to the farmers in the loss of young foals. A Canadian horse breeder of much experience says:

"Carefully watch your colt for the first ten days, and see that its bowels act properly, as the first ten days are the most critical in a foal's existence. If you can get them over the first ten days they usually require very little attention if the mare is fed judiciously."

The mare should be fed some two or three weeks before she is due to foal and some time after soft food, such as boiled oats, bran and linseed, that has been boiled for twelve hours, or longer, so as to loosen the system and provide a generous flow of milk. If from some cause the mare should not have sufficient milk the best substitute is cow's milk, one-fourth water and a tablespoonful of honey to a pint of milk.

Costiveness, diarrhoea, and inflammation are the principal ailments a young foal is subject to. The two first careful treatment will overcome; the last is, in most fatal.

The following are well tried and the best remedies that have come under my notice: Costiveness—Rectal injections of lukewarm water every half hour, or syrup of rhubarb with a few drops linseed oil; dose, tablespoonful. Nothing acts more powerfully than injections, and the advantage is they do no harm.

Diarrhoea should not be stopped suddenly; tablespoonful brandy with tablespoonful of tincture of gentian and two tablespoonfuls lime water in a cupful luscious tea every three hours.

Inflammation—Apply blanket, thickly folded and wrung out in very hot water, to belly; rub the legs well; give teaspoonful laudanum in two ounces of water. Repeat dose in two hours if necessary.
